THE UNIVERSITY

Oklahoma City University is one of the nation's highly respected educational institutions. A private, United Methodist-related university, Oklahoma City University combines a unique blend of tradition, quality, community, and innovation. U.S. News and World Report consistently ranks Oklahoma City University among the best master's level institutions in the region. We are listed in both America's Best Christian Colleges® and America's 100 Best College Buys®.

The university traces its roots to Epworth University, chartered in 1904 as a joint venture of the Methodist Episcopal Church and the Methodist Episcopal Church, South (now the combined United Methodist Church), and the Oklahoma City Trade Club (now the Greater Oklahoma City Chamber of Commerce). From 1911 to 1922, the university was located in Guthrie, Oklahoma, and known as the Methodist University of Oklahoma. Oklahoma City University has been at its present location at NW Twentythird Street and Blackwelder Avenue in Oklahoma City since 1922, when what is now the Clara E. Jones Administration Building was completed.

Located in the capital city, Oklahoma City University's beautiful campus occupies over seventy-six acres in a diverse and vibrant metropolitan area. The architecture on campus is a pleasing blend of American collegiate, gothic, and functional contemporary.

A broad spectrum of courses is offered through the Petree College of Arts and Sciences; the Meinders School of Business; the Margaret E. Petree College of Performing Arts with its Ann Lacy School of American Dance and Arts Management, Bass School of Music, and Department of Theatre; the School of Law; the Kramer School of Nursing; and the Wimberly School of Religion and Graduate Theological Center.

The institution takes pride in its dual role as Oklahoma City's university and the United Methodist university of Oklahoma. Its students come from forty-eight of the fifty states in the United States and from countries throughout the world.

Oklahoma City University has designed a program to bring together outstanding faculty, exceptional students, excellent teaching facilities, and the most advanced and innovative ideas in curriculum and teaching methods. Because of the friendliness and personal involvement possible on a small campus, Oklahoma City University students are known as individuals by fellow students and professors and benefit from the personalized education offered by the university's low student-faculty ratio.

With a 100-year tradition of church-related service and academic excellence, Oklahoma City University today is a vital institution with a growing reputation as a center of quality, personalized, values-conscious higher education. Oklahoma City University holds membership in the Oklahoma Independent College Foundation, the National Association of Independent Colleges and Universities, the National Association of Schools and Colleges of the United Methodist Church, the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics, and the Oklahoma Association of Independent Colleges and Universities, The Council for Undergraduate Research, and the National Collegiate Honors Council. It is on the approved list of the American Association of University Women.

The Kramer School of Nursing is a member of the Council of Baccalaureate and Higher Degree Programs of the National League for Nursing. The School of Law is a member of the Association of American Law Schools. Oklahoma City University is an equal educational opportunity institution.

ASSESSMENT

Assessment is an integral part of the strategic planning process for Oklahoma City University. New and continuing students to the university will be asked to participate in the assessment process. Students near the end of their academic plan of study participate in outcomes assessment for their major field of study. Other constituencies of the institution also are asked about their satisfaction as part of the assessment process for system improvement.

DIVERSITY

Oklahoma City University celebrates and seeks diversity in all its forms—from human qualities of gender, race, sexual orientation, and disability to diversity of ideas regarding religious beliefs, cultural identities, and political

MISSION

Oklahoma City University embraces the United Methodist tradition of scholarship and service and welcomes all faiths in a culturally rich community that is dedicated to student welfare and success. Men and women pursue academic excellence through a rigorous curriculum that focuses on students' intellectual, moral, and spiritual development to prepare them to become effective leaders in service to their communities.

CORE BELIEFS AND VALUES

Oklahoma City University is guided by the following core beliefs and values:

■ Academic Excellence

We believe that a university dedicated to excellence will enable each student to acquire the critical and analytical thinking skills, broad base of knowledge, and capacity to communicate effectively required for both personal success and capacity for leadership in service to communities.

■ A Personal Approach

We aspire to treat each member of this community as an individual with distinct needs for fostering his or her success and welfare.

■ A Religious Dimension

We seek to create a university community in which every member consciously cultivates ethical and humane behavior.

■ Service to the Community and Service Learning

We believe that excellence in education and development of the intellectual, moral, and spiritual capacities of students are best fostered when faculty, students, and staff actively use their knowledge and skills to assist others in our wider communities.

■ A Culturally Rich Community

We believe that a university flourishes only when it exposes the members of its community to cultural perspectives different from that of the place in which the university is rooted.

■ Student Success and Welfare

We believe that this university should consciously provide its graduates with a foundation for the acquisition of the knowledge, skills, and experience necessary for success in the vocations our graduates will pursue in the years to come.

OKLAHOMA CITY UNIVERSITY PUR-SUES THESE BELIEFS AND VALUES BY PROVIDING THE FOLLOWING:

- undergraduate, graduate, and professional academic programs that emphasize, examine, and encourage intellectual, moral, and spiritual experience and growth.
- lifelong learning programs empowering individuals to lead productive and creative lives.
- activities that enhance and support the quality of campus life.
- programs that foster physical fitness and good health.
- service to a global community of learners.
- opportunities for worship and service in the Christian and other traditions.
- cultural and aesthetic opportunities for the community.

and social convictions. It's understood that the intersections of varied populations and ideas enrich lives while developing personal values based on expansive interactions with those with whom common experiences are shared and from those with whom few experiences are shared. Diversity enriches academic, professional, and personal opportunities and is the source of strength and empowerment for all.

Oklahoma City University actively seeks all forms of diversity among the faculty, staff, and administration, and pursues programming—both in and beyond the classroom—that examines and responds to the world of ideas from an ethical stance shaped by knowledge rather than by prejudice.

OKLAHOMA CITY

Oklahoma City, the capital of Oklahoma, offers a wide variety of cultural, civic, religious, entertainment, and sports events in the unique setting of modern facilities and old-fashioned Western hospitality. Oklahoma City is a dynamic, growing location with a wide range of opportunities to offer its students.

From the state capitol and the center of Oklahoma's political and governmental activity, to the cultural offerings of the Oklahoma City Philharmonic, Lyric Theatre, Ballet Oklahoma, and more, to the attractions of the National Cowboy and Western Heritage Museum,

Oklahoma Museum of Art, the National Softball Hall of Fame, the Oklahoma History Center, the Firefighters' Museum, the Oklahoma City Zoo and Omniplex, Bricktown, and professional baseball and hockey, Oklahoma City stands as a vibrant, growing metropolitan center of the Southwest.

Out-of-state students are able to make use of the excellent transportation facilities available to the city. Oklahoma City is linked by interstate highways to other major cities in the region, and the city's Will Rogers International Airport, one of the busiest in the region, provides commercial service coast-to-coast as well as international flights to Asia, Europe, and South America.

The university campus is located near the center of Oklahoma City. While close to the business community, the state capitol, and all the conveniences of a major city, the campus is situated in a quiet, natural setting.

Oklahoma City University students are involved in the life of the city through participation in cultural events, through internships and service learning projects in governmental and social agencies, and through extracurricular activities that involve the city's many resources and facilities. The multitude of opportunities and activities in a growing metropolitan area such as Oklahoma City offers an added dimension to the high quality of education available at Oklahoma City University.

ADMISSION AND REGISTRATION

GENERAL ADMISSION POLICY

Oklahoma City University seeks to identify students who will benefit from the unique academic rigor and educational opportunity with the individual attention that is the hallmark of an Oklahoma City University educational experience. The university does not discriminate against any individual because of race, color, religion, national origin, gender, age, handicap or disability, sexual orientation, or veteran status.

Oklahoma City University is interested in students who want to learn. Each application is given careful consideration based on the student's high school and/or college record, college entrance exam scores, recommendation form, class rank, required essay, desirable character and personality traits, and the applicant's interests and goals in relation to the programs of study offered by the university. All bachelor's degree candidates must have earned a high school diploma or GED certificate and must submit either the American College Test (ACT) or the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) results. Students who have been out of high school for more than three years are not required to submit scores from the ACT.

The admissions committee will give preference to those applicants whose evidence of academic fitness and professional promise indicates that they are particularly qualified to study at Oklahoma City University, to succeed as degree candidates, and to develop the leadership potential to become productive citizens. Applicants who are successful in gaining admission to Oklahoma City University generally present the following minimum quantitative credentials: A score of 22 on the ACT (1020 on the SAT), or a high school cumulative grade point average (GPA) of 3.0 and ranking within the top 50 percent of the student's graduating class.

The Office of Admissions reserves the right to request any additional information before a decision for admission is made. Providing false or incomplete information on the application for admission may result in a denial of admission or revocation of enrollment. Students who have been admitted to the university and for whom academic success can be reasonably predicted are eligible to enroll at Oklahoma City University.

For more information on undergraduate programs, contact:

Office of Admissions Oklahoma City University 2501 North Blackwelder Oklahoma City, OK 73106 (405) 208-5050 or (800) 633-7242, extension 1 e-mail: uadmissions@okcu.edu

For information on graduate admission policies, refer to the admission section in the graduate catalog.

High School Course Requirements

A broad preparatory academic program is required for the student who wants to study at Oklahoma City University. The following courses are required for admission to the university:

English: four units, excluding speech or journalism Mathematics: two units of algebra; one unit of geometry, trigonometry, math analysis, or calculus

Social Studies: one unit of world history; one unit of state history and civics; and one unit of United States history

Foreign Language: two units of one language Science: two to three units of science, at least one of which should be a lab science

Advanced Placement courses are encouraged. Appropriate exceptions may be made.

ADMISSION PROCEDURE

First-time Freshmen

Entering freshmen must submit the following to the Office of Admissions:

- Application for Admission: An application for admission, accompanied by a $30 nonrefundable application fee, should be submitted as early as possible, but not more than one year before the term in which the student plans to enroll.
- Transcripts: Entering freshmen should submit an official sixth- or seventh-semester high school transcript. The student's high school counselor or principal should send an official copy of the transcript to the Oklahoma City University Office of Admissions. An official final high school transcript with graduation date posted must be received prior to the start of classes.
- Entrance Examinations: All incoming freshmen are required to take either the ACT or the SAT. The results are helpful in counseling and placement. Additionally, they are used in considering a student for academic scholarships. Test scores should be sent directly to Oklahoma City University. The ACT code for Oklahoma City University is 3416. The SAT code for Oklahoma City University is 6543.

NOTE: An applicant who does not hold a high school diploma may be considered for admission by completing the following steps:

- Submitting GED test scores
- Presenting official transcripts of all high school work attempted
- Submitting official ACT or SAT test results
- Completing a personal interview with the director of admissions

An applicant who is home schooled may be considered for admission by completing the following steps:

■ Presenting an official transcript, including course work and grades, from the home schooling experience

- Demonstrating that he or she is graduating no earlier than his or her class in the public school system
- Submitting an official copy of the ACT or SAT test scores

Transfer Students: Degree-Seeking

Transfer students seeking admission to Oklahoma City University must have a minimum 2.00 GPA from a regionally accredited institution of higher learning and must have been in good standing at the institution last attended. In addition, applicants must submit the following to the Office of Admissions:

- Application for Admission: A $30 nonrefundable application fee must accompany the application.
- College Transcripts: An official transcript from each institution attended is required. Students should request that the official transcript(s) be sent directly to the Office of Undergraduate Admission.
- Dean of Students Recommendation: A completed recommendation form from the dean of students of the most recent college or university attended.
- High School Transcripts: An official high school transcript is required for transfer students who have earned less than 29 hours of college credit.
- Entrance Examinations: Transfer students with less than 29 hours of transferable credit must submit ACT or SAT scores to Oklahoma City University in order to be considered for admission.

Students ineligible to return to the school most recently attended will not be considered for admission until at least one semester has elapsed since the last term attended. (The summer session will not be considered an intervening semester.)

Readmission to the University

A student who is dismissed from Oklahoma City University for academic reasons and wishes to reapply to the same program must wait one full academic year before applying for readmission. In order to be considered for the earliest possible readmission date, students must submit their requests to the registrar no later than the date indicated in the letter of dismissal from the registrar.

At the time of dismissal, the student will be informed of possible avenues to pursue, such as additional academic course work from other postsecondary institutions. This information will be communicated in the dismissal letter sent by the registrar. Official transcripts and records of academic work completed during the period following the dismissal must be included along with the request for readmission.

The Student Probations and Petitions Committee will review requests for readmission. Requests for readmission will be reviewed prior to the semester in which the student is eligible to re-enroll.

Academic Forgiveness

A former Oklahoma City University student who has not attended the university for at least five years and does not have the academic credentials to receive clear readmission to the university may petition the Admissions, Financial Aid, and Special Accommodations Committee to be admitted under the academic forgiveness policy. Students may be admitted conditionally and must agree that no prior hours will count toward the degree. Likewise, their poor GPAs will not be counted against them while they are at Oklahoma City University. This forgiveness policy does not extend the student's financial aid eligibility. Previous work will still be indicated on the transcript, although it will not be calculated into the GPA at Oklahoma City University. Students admitted under this policy must understand that the policy is an internal policy only. Other institutions have their own rules and regulations regarding these situations.

Unclassified Students

Students may enroll at Oklahoma City University for purposes of personal enrichment, professional growth, or transfer of credit to another institution. Such students will be designated as unclassified students.

Unclassified students who do not plan to seek a degree at Oklahoma City University do not need to meet the admission requirements specified for degree-seeking applicants. Unclassified students may earn a maximum of 12 semester hours at Oklahoma City University. In addition, unclassified applicants must submit the following to the Office of Admissions:

- Application for Admission: A $30 nonrefundable application fee must accompany the application.
- Transcripts: Students should submit an official transcript or a letter of good standing from the registrar of the last school attended.

Concurrent Enrollment

High school students with unusually strong records may concurrently enroll at Oklahoma City University during their senior year. Students who are ready for college work before the completion of the usual four years of secondary school may take course work at Oklahoma City University if they have an ACT score of 24 and a GPA of 3.25 or higher. If the student meets these qualifications, but is not a high school senior, they must interview with the Director of Undergraduate Admissions to be considered for concurrent enrollment. In addition, all applicants for concurrent enrollment must submit the following to the Office of Admissions:

- A letter of recommendation from the principal or counselor of the student's high school
- A letter from a parent or guardian of the student endorsing concurrent enrollment
- A letter from the applicant stating why she or he believes she or he is ready for college work before the completion of a traditional high school program
- A completed Oklahoma City University application.

Conditional Admission*

Applicants who do not meet the admission criteria stated in this catalog may be admitted on a conditional basis. In order to be considered for conditional admission, the student must do the following:

- Submit at least two letters of recommendation from school officials, teachers, or counselors or submit a letter of recommendation from an Oklahoma City University faculty member
- Write and submit a letter describing the student's academic history, and how he or she will be academically successful at Oklahoma City University
- Provide any additional documentation that displays academic promise

Once the above items are complete, the director of undergraduate admission will review the file and recommend acceptance, conditional acceptance, denial, or review of the file by the university admissions committee. The admissions committee may also accept, conditionally accept, or deny the student.

Students admitted conditionally must adhere to the following guidelines:

- Conditionally admitted students may enroll in no more than 12 credit hours for the first semester or term of attendance.
- Students with 0-29 attempted semester hours must achieve a minimum of 1.70 GPA in the first 12 credit hours of course work. Students with greater than 29 attempted hours must achieve a minimum of 2.00 GPA in the first 12 credit hours of course work.
- Conditionally admitted students will be allowed to participate in extracurricular activities, but may be required to attend academic enhancement activities such as study hall as a condition of admission.

The above guidelines must be met in order to continue beyond the first semester at Oklahoma City University and to be removed from conditional status. Failure to meet the above requirements may result in dismissal from the university.

*International students should consult with the International Admissions Office about conditional admission.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENT ADMISSION

Oklahoma City University has students from over sixty countries studying in its undergraduate and graduate programs. The university is authorized under federal law to enroll nonimmigrant alien students.

Admission of International Students

All international student applications, graduate and undergraduate, are processed by the International Admissions

Office. For applications and information, write to the following address:

International Admissions Office Oklahoma City University 2501 North Blackwelder Oklahoma City. OK 73106 U.S.A. iso@okcu.edu

Oklahoma City University does not have application deadlines, but recommends that applications be submitted no later than one month before the semester begins.

English Proficiency

Students whose native language is other than English must demonstrate proof of English language proficiency. For most programs, applicants must achieve a score of at least 80 on the internet-based TOEFL, 550 on the international paper-based TOEFL, or an overall IELTS score of 6.0 with at least 5.5 on each band score. The requirements may also be met by completing level 112 of the intensive program at an ELS Language Center.

Provisional admission may be granted to students whose TOEFL score is between 61 to 79 on the internet-based TOEFL or 500 to 549 on the international paper-based TOEFL. To fulfill the provision, undergraduate students must complete 24 credit hours with a 2.75 GPA or higher or complete 24 credit hours and retake the TOEFL with a score of at least 80 on the internet-based TOEFL or 550 on the international paper-based TOEFL. Students who have studied at least two full-time semesters at an academic institution in the U.S. may be exempt from this policy.

Conditional admission may be given if the applicant indicates that he or she will be studying at the ELS Language Center located on the Oklahoma City University campus. For applications and information about intensive English training, write to:

ELS Language Centers 1915 NW 24th Street Oklahoma City, OK 73106, USA www.els.edu • okc@els.edu

Financial Support

International applicants must submit a certified letter of support from a sponsor, family member, or other source showing that they have adequate financial resources to provide for educational and living expenses at Oklahoma City University.

Housing

All single, full-time undergraduate students under age twenty-one are required to live in on-campus housing unless they are living with parents or legal guardians. Persons twenty-one years of age and older are excused from housing regulations.

GENERAL FINANCIAL INFORMATION

PAYMENT OF TUITION

SPECIAL SERVICE FEES

VETERANS BENEFITS

TUITION ADJUSTMENTS

FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE

ENDOWED SCHOLARSHIPS

GENERAL FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Tuition is the same for all residents and nonresidents of Oklahoma. Tuition rates are published annually in a separate tuition and fees announcement. Laboratory and class fees are charged on a flat-fee basis in addition to tuition.

A music major will pay the general tuition, which includes two half-hour lessons. Charges for additional lessons and for those not required in the curriculum are based on the individual teacher's fees. (Contact the Bass School of Music for a list of teachers and their individual fees.) Special practice arrangements will be made for the student enrolled only in applied music. An applied music fee will be charged to any student enrolled in applied music. For applied vocal music classes, an additional charge is assessed for the accompanist.

Tuition for courses taken on an audit basis will be assessed a nonrefundable audit fee rate of $150 per credit hour. Audit fees are not considered part of the structure for block tuition charges and will be assessed in addition to regular tuition charges.

RULES GOVERNING PAYMENT OF TUITION

All tuition charges and fees are due on the published first day of class for each semester or term according to the official Oklahoma City University academic calendar. Students, at the discretion of the Student Accounts Office, may be allowed to contract for deferred payment arrangements provided that all prior charges have been paid in full.

Deferred contract arrangements for fall and spring semesters will be allowed as follows: one-fourth of the unpaid balance after financial aid, if any, has been taken into consideration, will be due on the published first day of class; three additional payments will be due in accordance with the deferred payment contract. If the unpaid balance is paid within ten days of the due date of the first installment, no interest will be charged.

Deferred payment agreements are available for the summer terms. Further information about deferred payment agreements may be obtained from the Student Accounts Office.

Students awarded financial aid in the form of work-study should be aware that this form of aid is not considered in determining the balance due in tuition, fees, room, and board for the semester. Students who so choose may request their work-study checks be forwarded by the Payroll Office to the Student Accounts Office to be applied to their accounts. Interest will be applied to the financed portion of the account, including the work-study portion.

If tuition charges and fees are to be paid by a third party other than the student's family or financial aid, a written authorization from the third party must be presented at the time of enrollment; otherwise, the student will be required to meet the financial requirements listed above. Veterans attending the university under the G.I. Bill are required to comply with the same rules governing nonveteran obligations.

No student will be allowed to enroll in any semester or term if his or her account is past due. No student will be given a letter of good standing, transcript, or diploma until all financial obligations to the university are paid.

All tuition, fees, and charges made by the university are payable at the Student Accounts Office. Students may also submit payment for their Oklahoma City University charges online on the Oklahoma City University Web for Students.

Payments to student accounts are applied first to tuition and fees and then to other charges. The only exception to this application of payment is donor restriction on a gift or endowed scholarship.

SPECIAL SERVICE FEES

Fees are published annually in a separate tuition and fees announcement. The following is a list of typical fees. All fees are subject to change annually.

- There is a student services fee assessed during each semester in which a student is enrolled.
- An annual parking permit is required of all students for on-campus parking.
- A technology fee for access to the academic computer system is charged to all students each semester.
- All students pay the academic enrichment fee on a per-credit basis. This fee funds the university's assessment program and enhances academic programs and opportunities for all students.
- All students pay the university facility fee. This fee supports the university's facilities and grounds. A large portion—almost 90 percent—of this fee funds the annual debt service costs of the expanded wellness facilities. The remainder of the funds are available for campus-wide facility improvements.
- All non-law students pay the Dulaney-Browne Library fee. This fee supports the collections, facilities, and services of the Dulaney-Browne Library, including the costs of online computerized library service available to all students both on and off campus.
- An international student fee and international student insurance fee are charged each semester. All fees are mandatory for international students.
- A health service fee is assessed to all students (fall and spring semesters). The Office of Student Health and Disability Concerns is staffed by a full-time registered nurse who is available to assist students in resolving many health-related issues. This fee is included in the student service fee.

- All students pay a safety and crisis preparedness fee, which is used to sustain and enhance campus safety and campus preparedness.
- All students pay an athletics fee, which sustains and enhances university athletics, athletic facilities, and the processes and personnel needed to deliver high quality athletic events and programs.
- All new full-time freshman and transfer students pay the First-Year Experience Fee in the fall semester. The fee covers the cost of providing weeklong orientation activities (food, events, speakers, trips, etc.).
- Students enrolling late will be charged a late registration fee. Those who pre-enroll and pay late will be charged a late payment fee.
- Charges for tests given to persons not enrolled in the university vary depending upon the test taken.
- All students pay a one-time comprehensive records fee for each degree earned. Payment of this fee entitles Oklahoma City University students and alumni to copies of their official transcripts at no additional charge. The registrar reserves the right to limit the number of official transcripts an individual may receive within a particular time period.
- Undergraduate degree, master's degree, and juris doctor degree candidates pay a graduation fee that covers the cost of a diploma and graduation ceremonies. The graduation fee does not include the cost of academic regalia, graduation announcements, or the cost of binding the required two copies of the master's thesis. The graduation fee must be paid at the beginning of the semester or term in which the work for a degree is to be completed.

VETERANS BENEFITS

A Veterans Service Office is operated by Oklahoma City University as a service to the veteran student. It neither sets policy nor administers V.A. programs. University personnel assigned to the office process the forms as a service to the student who is claiming V.A. educational benefits and act as liaisons between the student and the Veterans Affairs Regional Office. Students who wish to receive benefits must report to the Oklahoma City University certifying official in the Registrar's Office each semester to fill out a Request for Certification. For further information, please contact the Veterans Service Office.

Adding and Dropping Courses

Procedures and deadlines for adding and dropping classes are described in this catalog under Academic Regulations.

Withdrawals

Students unable to remain at the university to complete their courses for the term should process a full withdrawal. Procedures for withdrawal from all classes are in this catalog under Academic Regulations. Full withdrawals from the university are not complete until the withdrawing student has been counseled by a financial aid representative and validated by the Student Accounts Office. Tuition adjustments, if any, are based on the date of Student Accounts validation. (See also "Return of Unearned Federal Title IV Funds" under Financial Assistance.)

TUITION ADJUSTMENTS

Each term has a published first day of class as outlined in the academic calendar. A 100 percent tuition adjustment is made for varying time periods beginning with the published first day of class. After this period, there will be no further adjustments. The time periods vary as follows:

Fall and spring semesters—up to and including Friday after ten semester class days.

Summer and accelerated cycles—up to and including the first Friday.

Refunds for financial aid on student accounts in excess of charges may be requested from the Student Accounts Office. No refunds are made against financial aid, which must be returned upon student withdrawal, until after the end of the third week of fall and spring semesters or the second week of summer semesters. Such aid would include Perkins Loans, scholarships, Pell Grants, Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grants (SEOG), and any other aid which would be cancelled upon student withdrawal.

All refunds are made by direct deposit or the Chase E-Funds debit card. Contact the Student Accounts Office for details.

E-Mail

The university e-mail system will be utilized as the official method of communication. All students will be given an e-mail account and expected to use and maintain their account. Official Oklahoma City University correspondence such as financial aid and billing, as well as campus activities, will be sent via e-mail to the Oklahoma City University e-mail system.

Each student will be provided 50 MBs of disk space for their e-mail account. This provides enough disk space for a large amount of basic e-mail. However, large attachments could easily use up a student's disk space quota and should be removed from the account in a reasonable time frame.

Oklahoma City University has security monitoring and anti-spam software and hardware installed to secure its systems and reduce the amount of spam that enters the e-mail system. Students are required to secure their passwords and maintain their e-mail accounts.

Oklahoma City University requires students to use the university e-mail system for academic electronic communications. All students are responsible for the management and content of their account. Information for accessing e-mail is provided at: http://stuweb.okcu.edu/. Once a student has an e-mail account, he or she can access the e-mail system at: http://email.okcu.edu/.

Important Notice about E-Mail: Important information and notices will be sent to the student's Oklahoma City University e-mail account. This information may include important dates, times, and deadlines. Paper notices will no longer be used. International students will receive all updates on immigration regulations and newsletters through their Oklahoma City University e-mail accounts. All students are required to activate their e-mail accounts and check them on a regular basis. A student's failure to check and maintain his or her account on a regular basis will not be accepted as an excuse for missing information, dates, and/or deadlines.

Identification Cards

Identification cards issued to all students are permanent for as long as the student is enrolled in the university. The card identifies the student and allows participation in student activities and elections. It admits the student to all home athletic events, various student activities, and enables students to receive free or half-price tickets to university drama, opera, and dance productions and concerts. A student identification card grants access to libraries and computer labs and serves as a meal ticket for students who are on a board plan. The identification card also is used to print documents in the computer labs, and money may be added by the student for use at Alvin's, the cafeteria, and the Oklahoma City University Bookstore.

Bookstore Book Bucks

Book Bucks are available at the Student Accounts Office to students having sufficient financial aid to cover books and are to be used only at the Oklahoma City University Bookstore. Book Bucks may be ordered online at www.okcu.edu or by calling the Student Accounts Office.

Students are required to have direct deposit or the Chase E-Funds debit card to receive Book Bucks on their personal accounts. Book Bucks may also be placed on a student ID card.

FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE

Students who are sincerely interested in attending Oklahoma City University need not allow financial circumstances to stand in the way of applying.

Types of Assistance Available

The Office of Financial Aid will assist, to the extent possible, any admissible student in developing a financial aid package to help meet his or her basic educational expenses. By financial aid, the university means scholarships, federal and state grants, student loans, and part-time campus employment.

Eligibility for Financial Assistance

The Office of Financial Aid will consider the student's cost of attendance at Oklahoma City University, the family's ability to pay as indicated by the Free Application for Federal Student Aid, and the student's academic potential to determine eligibility for financial aid. Oklahoma City University scholarships may only be used to pay for charges billed to the Oklahoma City University student account. These funds are not refundable to the student. The amount of the aid package for students who receive an offer for more than one scholarship award will be assessed within the limits of Oklahoma City University financial aid policy. In many programs, scholarship awards cannot be combined. Reassessment by the director of financial aid is required if any additional scholarship is offered to the student.

Federal financial aid is available for study abroad if the student is receiving Oklahoma City University credit hours toward his or her degree. All federal aid may be used to help defer expenses; however, institutional aid can only be used for study abroad programs as determined by the Office of Financial Aid, with the exception of scholarships available through the Office of International Education.

Application Procedures

To be considered for any type of financial assistance, a student must first be admitted to the university. Transfer students must have provided all official transcripts. Students must be at least half-time in order to be considered for financial aid, with the exception of the federal Pell Grant program. A student may be less than full time and receive a federal Pell Grant. Only students who are seeking a degree may apply for financial aid; audited courses and courses not applicable to the student's degree program will not be considered in the financial aid package. Students who repeat course work for which financial aid has already been received may not be eligible for additional financial aid for those repeated classes.

All students are encouraged to apply for federal student aid. The student should file a Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) online at www.fafsa.ed.gov and designate Oklahoma City University (code 003166) on the application in order for the Office of Financial Aid to receive a copy of the results. The student will receive an electronic link to his or her Student Aid Report (SAR) from the Federal Student Aid Processing Center in response to the FAFSA.

In addition to the FAFSA, other forms may be required based on the student's individual circumstances. Students should contact the Office of Financial Aid for additional application procedures, including applications for summer school attendance.

Deadline for priority processing is March 13. FAFSAs received after the deadline will be considered in the order received for as long as aid resources are available. Funding restrictions may alter eligibility for some programs.

Return of Unearned Federal Title IV Funds

Class attendance is important in determining a student's eligibility for federal financial aid. As mandated by the Department of Education, recipients of federal Title IV student financial aid—ACG, SMART Grant, Pell Grant, SEOG, Stafford Loans, Perkins Loans, Parent Loans for Undergraduate Students (PLUS)—need to complete over 60 percent of the term enrolled to earn all of the federal funding awarded for that enrollment period. When a recipient withdraws from the term for which funds are paid directly to the student or used to pay charges owed by the student for the specific enrollment period, a return of federal funds calculation is required.

Students earn the opportunity to receive federal funds based on the number of days attended in each enrollment period, expressed as a percentage of the total number of days in the term. This calculation translates into the percentage of federal Title IV funds earned by the student while in attendance. Unearned federal funds must be immediately returned to federal programs. This may leave the student owing charges directly to Oklahoma City University.

Two additional variables are important for students to understand if they are recipients of federal Title IV funds. After a student has attended through the 60 percent point of the enrollment period, the student is considered to have earned the funds received for the term enrolled. The second variable of importance is for students who have earned a percentage of funds they have been awarded but have not yet received. These students may still be eligible to receive a percentage of those funds after total withdrawal occurs. The required calculations will determine eligibility for funds.

Attendance is the key. A student awarded financial aid who is having difficulty should take advantage of advising, counseling, and tutoring to remain in attendance and successfully complete his or her courses. If enrollment is maintained in at least one class with attendance beyond the 60 percent date during the term, this policy will not affect the student. All withdrawals will impact satisfactory academic progress (SAP). Refer to the Oklahoma City University Satisfactory Academic Progress Policy. Contact the Office of Financial Aid for more information.

Satisfactory Academic Progress Policy (SAP) for Financially Aided Students

In accordance with federal, state, and university aid and scholarship program guidelines, academic progress toward a degree must be made in order for students to continue receiving funds.

- 1. Financially aided students are expected to make qualitative satisfactory academic progress to remain eligible for financial aid. Grade point average (GPA) requirements are defined in this catalog. Generally, all institutional scholarships require a minimum 2.50 GPA and full-time enrollment. Some individual aid programs require higher GPAs for eligibility. All periods of enrollment are considered, including all transfer work attempted. All undergraduate students must maintain a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.00 to remain eligible for federal aid.
- 2. Financially aided students are also expected to make quantitative progress. Successful hours earned of the total hours attempted is monitored quantitatively. Grades of I, W, WF, WH, WA, F, NR, NC, and AU are not successful completions. The minimum earned-credit-hour requirement for a baccalaureate degree is 124.

Following is the quantitative progress chart.

Full-time undergraduate academic years completed and GPA required:

Year 1 = 18 hrs Year 2 = 36 hrsYear 3 = 54 hrsYear 4 = 72 hrsYear 5 = 90 hrsYear 6 = 108 hrsCumulative GPA = 2.00

Maximum hours for undergraduate work is 186.

Students who attend on a less-than-full-time basis will be expected to make equivalent satisfactory progress using the same formula but on a prorated basis. The minimum undergraduate completion rate is 75 percent. By federal regulation, financial aid is available only up to 150 percent of the normal quantitative time frame. Maximum time frame for a baccalaureate degree is 12 full-time terms or 186 hours attempted.

- 3. If a student does not meet his or her SAP requirements at the end of a semester, Oklahoma City University will grant one semester of aid on financial aid probation. At the end of the next semester, the student must have met the SAP requirement, or financial aid will be suspended until academic performance is raised to the required level. Students are allowed only one semester of aid while on probation. However, if a student is diligently working on raising his or her GPA, completing every hour attempted, and earning good grades, the financial aid advisor has the discretion to continue that student on probation. Students who have exhausted their quantitative eligibility will be placed on financial aid suspension.
- 4. If a student's financial aid is suspended, he or she is notified by mail and given the opportunity to submit an appeal and the required supporting documentation. The Financial Aid Appeals Committee will render a decision as to whether an additional term of aid eligibility would be appropriate considering the student's extenuating circumstances. The student will be notified by mail of the committee's decision. If the appeal is denied or the student chooses not to file an appeal, the student may enroll at his or her own expense if academically eligible. Successful completion of enrolled hours with appropriate grades may allow the student to re-establish eligibility for financial aid. The student must notify the Office of Financial Aid of regained eligibility. For a student to earn his or her way off suspension, he or she must enroll in classes at Oklahoma City University. Transfer hours do not impact SAP for students on financial aid suspension. Correction of deficit hours or significant improvement of academic success is required for renewed eligibility. Information and forms are available in the Office of Financial Aid. Ouestions should be directed to the Office of Financial Aid at (405) 208-5211.

Renewals

Students must apply annually for renewal of financial aid. Federal renewal applications are available after January 1 of each year at www.fafsa.ed.gov. Conditions for renewal include continued financial eligibility, acceptable GPA, and SAP. Scholarship renewal is based on the SAP and is reviewed every semester. Scholarships generally require full-time enrollment.

ENDOWED SCHOLARSHIPS

Although students are not legally required to repay scholarships, if in the future they are able to return all, part, or in excess of the money granted to them, the university can help future deserving students. All scholarships require at least a minimum GPA of 2.50. Most require a higher GPA.

To apply for endowed scholarships, students need to submit their federal financial aid applications to the Office of Financial for consideration. Awards will vary based on academic merit, financial need, and availability of funds.

If a student is selected to receive an endowment, he or she is required to write a thank you letter to the donor who made the scholarship possible. The student must also submit a copy of the thank you letter to the Office of Financial Aid to fulfill the requirement.

ON-CAMPUS HOUSING

Residence Halls

All single, full-time undergraduate students under the age of twenty-one are required to live in university housing unless they are living with their parent or legal guardian. Veterans, married or divorced persons, and single parents are excused from this housing regulation. Falsification of residence address may result in termination of enrollment. For more information concerning university housing, call (405) 208-7909.

The university believes that a valuable part of a student's learning experience occurs in the university residence halls. The student lives and learns with other students from different cultures and lifestyles. Numerous social and academic activities occur in the residence halls during the academic year. There are four residence halls on the Oklahoma City University campus: Centennial, Walker, Banning, and Smith halls. Each residence hall is directed by a head resident and resident assistants, whose function is to answer questions and help solve problems related to community living.

Rates for Residence Halls

Housing rates for each academic year are published separately in a tuition and fees schedule. A $250 housing deposit is required along with a completed application and contract for residence halls housing. A portion of the housing deposit ($175) is nonrefundable. Scholarship students and athletes are NOT exempt from submitting a housing deposit. Refund information is stated on the housing application. Cancellation of a completed housing application must be received in writing by the director of residence life. No cancellations by telephone or other means will be accepted. Students with a housing deposit on account for whom a housing assignment cannot be made by the first day of classes each semester will receive a full refund of such deposit. The housing assignment will automatically be cancelled if a student has not checked into his or her room by 8:00 a.m. on the first day of scheduled classes for each semester, unless the director of residence life is notified of the late arrival. The fall housing assignment will be canceled if a student's advance registration is canceled, and the deposit will be forfeited in full.

Apartment Living

The Cokesbury Court apartment complex offers the security of card-key entry and an eight-foot wrought-iron fence. Apartment options include efficiencies and two- and fourbedroom apartments. The complex offers an outdoor swimming pool and Jacuzzi and on-site parking and laundry. Students classified as sophomore and above are eligible to apply for housing in Cokesbury Court. For more information, call (405) 530-8100.

University Manor, located directly across from the campus on NW Twenty-third Street, offers one-bedroom unfurnished apartments for students classified as sophomore or above. Amenities include on-site parking and laundry facilities. For more information, contact the director of residence life at (405) 208-7909.

Food Service

There are several meal plans available to Oklahoma City University students, including a variety of residence hall board plans and Stars Bucks, a flexible debit-card system. Students residing in the residence halls are required to participate in a residence hall meal plan, and students living in University Manor or Cokesbury Court apartments are required to purchase a Stars Bucks plan based on the length of their lease. Meals for students participating in any university meal plan or block meal plan are served in the Commons Food Court in the Tom and Brenda McDaniel University Center. Alvin's Café, located in the center, provides a quick snack or a full meal and a place to meet friends for relaxation or study. Food services are provided by Sodexo.

STUDENT LIFE

Oklahoma City University recognizes that learning takes place in many forms and places and not exclusively in the classroom. Students are encouraged to participate in activities both on and off campus. Activities sponsored by the Office of Student Life and the Student Activity Council are for all Oklahoma City University students and are well publicized around campus.

Students at Oklahoma City University play a large role in determining and regulating their own activities. Good student-faculty-administration relations are maintained through cooperative, responsible student leadership. There are numerous social and academic organizations available to students on campus. When the school year begins, information is made available to all students about dates and meeting times for many organizations.

Religious Life

Religious Life services are under the direction of the clergy staff of University-Church Relations. The goal of Religious Life is to touch every life on campus. The program is not only a focus but a priority for school administration. Campus ministry includes the following:

Organizations: The Oklahoma City University Wesley Foundation is the United Methodist campus ministry and is the home of Evensong Monday evening worship, the United Methodist Student Fellowship, and the Ecumenical International Disciple Fellowship.

Fellowship: Kappa Phi Christian Women's Service Organization and Delta Alpha Chi Christian Men's Service Fraternity.

Activities and communion: Thursday chapel, Evensong student worship, Bible studies, mission trips, spiritual formation groups, concerts, and luncheons for religion majors.

Services: The clergy staff of University-Church Relations are available to all students for pastoral services, premarital counseling, etc. Students are also encouraged to participate in area church services and special programming.

Student Government Association

Student Government Association (SGA) is the governing body for all Oklahoma City University students. SGA plans and implements a variety of activities for the campus community and serves as the voice for students in university governance. Senators develop leadership skills, gain valuable experience in making and delivering policy, and assist in organizing large, campus-wide events. The president of SGA serves as a voting member of the university's board of trustees. Elections for executive positions for sophomores, juniors, and seniors are held late in the spring semester. Freshman, graduate, and at-large positions are elected early in the fall semester.

Honorary Organizations

The following honorary and professional organizations are active on the Oklahoma City University campus. Partial membership requirements are listed.

Alpha Chi: Full-time student, junior standing or above, cumulative GPA of at least 3.80 and/or in the upper 5 percent of the junior and senior classes.

Greek Fraternities and Sororities

Three national sororities, Alpha Chi Omega, Alpha Phi, and Gamma Phi Beta and two national fraternities, Kappa Sigma, and Lambda Chi Alpha, have chapters at Oklahoma City University. The benefits of membership in a Greek organization include leadership experience, social and philanthropic activities, and opportunities to develop strong personal, supportive relationships with other members.

Each of the fraternities is housed in on-campus facilities that include meeting space, kitchen facilities, and residential space. Fraternity house residents are subject to campus regulations. Each sorority has meeting and storage space and kitchen facilities in the Nellie Melton Panhellenic Quadrangle.

The Interfraternity (IFC) and Panhellenic councils are composed of representatives from each of the active Greek organizations. These bodies regulate all interfraternity and intersorority matters with guidance from universityappointed administrators. Membership in fraternities and sororities is by invitation only. Formal rush (membership selection) is held early in the fall semester. Other membership opportunities are available throughout the academic year. Contact the Office of Student Life for more information about membership eligibility.

EXTRACURRICULAR ACTIVITIES

Varsity Athletics

Oklahoma City University sponsors nineteen varsity sports programs, including men's and women's basketball, men's baseball, men's and women's cross country running, men's and women's golf, men's and women's rowing, men's and women's soccer, men's and women's indoor and outdoor track and field, men's and women's wrestling, women's softball, and women's volleyball. Oklahoma City University is a member of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics and the Sooner Athletic Conference. The tradition of our sports programs is known nationwide.

Junior Varsity Athletics

Oklahoma City University sponsors six junior varsity sports programs, including men's and women's basketball, men's soccer, and men's and women's golf, and women's volleyball.

Cheerleading

Oklahoma City University offers a varsity co-ed competitive cheerleading squad. Cheerleaders play an exciting part in the Oklahoma City University athletic department by cheering at men's and women's basketball games and wrestling matches. Cheerleaders are also involved and visible at numerous community events throughout the year. Cheerleading tryouts are held in the spring semester each year and are open to anyone interested.

Dance

All full-time students are eligible to audition for The American Spirit Dance Company, the Oklahoma City University Spirit of Grace Liturgical Dancers, and the Oklahoma City University Pep Dancers. Contact the dean of the Ann Lacy School of American Dance and Arts Management for further information.

Theatre

All students, regardless of their majors, may audition for parts in TheatreOCU productions presented each year by the Department of Theatre. Contact the Department of Theatre at (405) 208-5121 for detailed audition information.

Wellness

The Wellness program at Oklahoma City University offers a wide variety of opportunities including personal training, dance classes, Pilates, yoga, traditional aerobics classes, and self-defense training. The Wellness program assists employees and students in reducing their health risks through education and goal setting. The program features a personalized approach to healthy living designed to improve the overall health and quality of life for the university community. Classes are scheduled so that students are able to participate without taking away from opportunities to become involved with other university programs. All students are required to register in the Intramural Sports Office for the classes. The office is located in the Henry J. Freede Wellness and Activity Center. Registration does not obligate participation.

Outdoor Adventures

The Outdoor Adventures program at Oklahoma City University provides the campus community with opportunities to experience the outdoors through participation in various outdoor activities. Outdoor clinics and trips are offered throughout the year and include hiking, bicycling, camping, horseback riding, and sailing. The Outdoor Adventures program provides a resource center and gear checkout to the campus community. This program promotes wellness through its activities while incorporating exercise and environmental awareness.

Events are scheduled so that the majority of students can participate without taking away from opportunities to get involved with other university programs. All students are required to register in the Intramural Sports Office for the particular event of interest. The office is located in the Henry J. Freede Wellness and Activity Center. Registration does not obligate participation.

Intramural Sports

The Intramural Sports program at Oklahoma City University offers a full selection of sports. Awards and prizes are given for both placement and participation. The program is designed to accentuate and enhance the interaction that students have with one another, as well as with faculty and staff. The Intramural Sports program offers individuals opportunities to maintain physical fitness while interacting with friends. Oklahoma City University has a variety of league and tournament events, including co-ed events, designed for both the competitive and recreational player.

Events are scheduled so that the majority of students can participate without taking away from opportunities to get involved with other university programs. All students are required to register in the Intramural Sports Office for their particular sports of interest. The office is located in the Henry J. Freede Wellness and Activity Center. Registration does not obligate participation.

Music

University students are encouraged to participate in music activities, including performing in ensembles, taking private music lessons, and auditioning for productions. All qualified students are eligible to participate in Bass School of Music performing ensembles (Symphony Orchestra, Wind Philharmonic, Ad Astra Women's Chorus, Men's Chorus, University Singers, Chamber Choir, Jazz Ensemble, Pep Band, and various small ensembles). Auditions for Oklahoma Opera and Music Theater Company productions are open to all students. See the director of the organization in which you are interested for further information, or call the music office at (405) 208-5474.

Student Publications

All students, regardless of their major fields of study, are invited to apply to work for the student publications staff. The staff publishes The Campus (the university newspaper), The Campus online (the newspaper's Web site), The Constellation (the university yearbook), and the yearbook's DVD supplement. Students may also submit original poetry, fiction, nonfiction, artwork, or photography to the university's student and faculty literary journal, The Scarab. Undergraduates may submit research to Stellar, the undergraduate research journal.

CULTURAL ENRICHMENT EVENTS

A wide range of events is annually scheduled on campus in music, drama, music theater, art, literature, cinema, and a variety of lectures. Among the cultural enrichment opportunities available and easily accessible in the Oklahoma City area are the Oklahoma City Philharmonic concerts, Oklahoma Art Center, the Omniplex, and several theaters. By presenting their ID cards, Oklahoma City University students may attend all Civic Music Association concerts held in the Kirkpatrick Fine Arts Building, Kirkpatrick Auditorium, at no charge.

C. G. Jung Lectureship

This lectureship presents lectures and discussions led by distinguished Jungian analysts and scholars to introduce and amplify Jungian psychology. Such imminent scholars as Robert L. Moore, Jean Shinoda Bolen, Tom Boyd, Ann Wilson Schaef, and J. Philip Newell have spoken in recent years.

The Distinguished Speakers Series

The Distinguished Speakers Series was established to enrich the academic experience of students, faculty, and staff-and to create a Chautauqua experience that is free and open to the public. Nobel Laureates have joined a remarkable lineup of world-class thinkers, writers, and opinion-leaders who know that Oklahoma City University is where ideas are freely expressed, and learning is a continuous process of being challenged and inspired. This lecture series fulfills one of the central purposes of a university by hosting provocative speakers from a wide variety of backgrounds and multiple perspectives, which generates new thinking, productive discussions, and the rare opportunity for future servant leaders to meet some of the most remarkable human beings alive today. Previous speakers include Edward Albee, Morris Dees, Jane Goodall, Brian Greene, Robert F. Kennedy Jr., Jonathan Kozol, Rabbi Harold Kushner, Wilma Mankiller, Sister Helen Prejean, Ann Simon, Helen Thomas, Archbishop Desmond Tutu, Kurt Vonnegut Jr., Elie Wiesel, and George Will. The fall 2008 scheduled speakers are Azar Nafisi and Nobel Laureate Wangari Maathai.

The Film Institute

The Oklahoma City University Film Institute offers the university and the greater Oklahoma City community the opportunity to view classic and contemporary international films. Since 1982, the institute has been screening eight to ten films per year on designated Sunday afternoons to an audience of 150 to 425 people. Each year the series focuses on a theme, and reading material on the theme and on individual films is available at the showings. A discussion session follows each screening. The films are also available for university courses. The film series is supported by Oklahoma City University, the Oklahoma City University Film Institute Endowment, the designated endowment in the Community Foundation of the Kirkpatrick Family Fund, and the Thatcher Hoffman Smith Endowment for the Center for Interpersonal Studies through Film and Literature. The 2008-2009 academic year will be the Film Institute's 27th year.

The Neustadt Lectures

Mr. Walter Neustadt of Ardmore, Oklahoma, established the lecture series in 1983 for the purpose of strengthening understanding of the great contributions of the Judaic religious tradition to Western civilization and thought. Each year, a scholar is invited to the campus to speak on informative themes in the area of Hebraic scriptures, Judaic thought, and Jewish ethics and art.

The Willson Lectureship

This lectureship is provided by an endowment from Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Willson of Floydada, Texas. The lectures are held annually and are directed to the interest of students in the areas of religion and society.

STUDENT ASSISTANCE SERVICES

Alcohol and Drug Education Program

Oklahoma City University recognizes that drug and alcohol abuse diminish the strength and vitality of human resources. The Office of Student Life coordinates programs to educate students regarding the harmful aspects of alcohol and substance abuse and provides referral services for counseling and treatment. A copy of the complete policy can be found in the Student Handbook.

Campus Police

The university is committed to providing a safe campus in order to maintain a crime-free academic environment conducive to learning. The Oklahoma City University Police Department (OCUPD) has fourteen full-time state certified officers and well-trained support staff to serve and protect the campus community twenty-four hours a day year round. The officer-to-student ratio is one of the best nationwide, which partially accounts for the university's low incidence of crime.

Eighteen external emergency phones are strategically located across the campus to provide instant access to police assistance. Upon request, OCUPD will escort students, staff, or faculty to any location on campus after dark.

Several university programs exist to inform students, faculty, and staff about services provided by the campus police department and to educate them regarding methods of crime prevention. A portion of each annual new student orientation is devoted to this area. At various times during the year, The OCUPD officers participate in programs to inform individuals of the need to secure rooms, vehicles, and personal property.

Counseling

The university provides students with free counseling services. Students are urged to become acquainted with these opportunities and to make use of them. The dean of students and the advisor assigned for enrollment are always ready to refer students to counselors in special areas such as academic difficulties, health problems, financial problems, occupational choices, employment on or off campus, religious problems, or mental health issues. The university chaplain is also available to counsel students.

Student Health and Disability Services Office

The Student Health Clinic is staffed by registered nurses and an advanced registered nurse practitioner and serves enrolled students, staff, and faculty. Services include health assessment, diagnosis, and treatment of minor illnesses and injury. Other services include gynecology care, male reproductive health, and referrals to community or specialty providers. Reference materials on a variety of health topics are available in the clinic.

Disability Services is housed with the Student Health Clinic and provides classroom accommodations and assistance to undergraduate and graduate students with documented disabilities. The disability services provider works with university administration to develop and implement policies and procedures regarding students with disabilities. More information regarding the Student Health Clinic and Disability Services can be found at www.okcu.edu/students/ studenthealth/index.aspx.

Student Health Insurance

All students are strongly encouraged to have health insurance. A university-sponsored commercial health insurance plan is available to all full-time students. Primary healthcare services are offered at very low cost to students at the Student Health Clinic on campus. However, if a student needs healthcare off-campus or after-hours in Oklahoma City, health insurance is a necessity in order to avoid potentially large medical bills.

To address this important issue, students are required to fill out a short online form where insurance information will be provided or a waiver will be signed electronically declining insurance. The waiver form must be signed each fall semester for full-time students. Information about health insurance and the waiver form can be found at: www.okcu.edu/students/studenthealth/index.aspx.

POLICIES ON STUDENT PRIVACY AND SEXUAL HARASSMENT

Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974

Oklahoma City University makes every effort to comply with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (Buckley Amendment). This act is designated to protect the privacy of students' educational records, to establish their right to review and inspect their records, and to provide guidelines for the correction of inaccurate information through informal and formal hearings.

The policy permits disclosure of educational records under certain limited circumstances and routine disclosure, at the university's discretion, of information referred to as directory information: name, local address, phone number, e-mail address, major, participation in sports, height, weight, degrees, honors, dates of attendance, and previous colleges attended. A student has the right to prevent disclosure of directory information by filing a request in the Registrar's Office. A copy of the complete policy and procedures is published in the Student Handbook.

Policy on Sexual Harassment

Oklahoma City University is committed to providing an academic and work environment that provides fair and equitable treatment and is free of sexual harassment and other unlawful discrimination. It is the policy of the university to prohibit harassment of any kind, including sexual harassment, of its students, faculty, staff, and guests by any member of the academic community.

Sexual harassment is a form of sex discrimination that violates Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and Title IX of the Educational Amendments of 1972. Sexual harassment (both overt and subtle) is a form of misconduct that is demeaning to another person, undermines the integrity of the employment relationship and educational environment, and is strictly prohibited. Sexual harassment or any other form of unlawful discrimination will not be tolerated. The university is committed to preserving the rights of its students and employees from unlawful discrimination on the basis of race, color, gender, religion, national origin, age, disability, veteran status, sexual orientation, or legally protected characteristic.

Sexual harassment is defined as unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature when (1) submission to such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of an individual's employment or academic status; or (2) submission to or rejection of such conduct by an individual is used as a basis for employment or academic decisions affecting such individual; or (3) such conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's work or academic performance, or creating an intimidating, hostile, or offensive working environment. "Hostile environment" sexual harassment occurs when an employee (including a faculty member) or a student is subjected to an intimidating, hostile, or offensive work or learning environment because of offensive sexually based or sexually oriented physical, verbal, or other conduct.

This definition will be interpreted and applied consistently with the accepted standards of mature behavior, academic freedom, and freedom of expression.

This harassment policy defines and prohibits harassment on the basis of federal and state law as interpreted by the courts. If statutory provisions or court interpretations change or conflict with this policy, the university's policy will be deemed amended to assure continued compliance.

Sexual harassment in any situation will not be tolerated. It is particularly serious when it exploits the dependent relationship between students and faculty. When studentfaculty relationships are abused in this way, there is a risk of great harm to students, to the faculty, and to the educational climate of the institution. While a particular interaction must be offensive and nonconsensual to be defined as harassment, faculty members and other individuals in positions of authority should be sensitive to the questions about mutuality of consent and to conflict of interest inherent in these kinds of relationships.

Individuals who believe they have been sexually harassed may obtain redress through the established complaint procedures of the university. Complainants will be requested, but not required to submit their allegations in writing. Complaints about sexual harassment will be responded to in a prompt and equitable manner.

Every effort will be made to respect the confidentiality of all members of the university community. Confidentiality will be maintained to the extent permitted by the circumstances of the complaint. All complaints will receive a full and fair hearing. Retaliation against individuals who bring a complaint of sexual harassment is prohibited. If faculty or staff members experience or become aware of sexual harassment, they may complain to (1) their immediate supervisor; (2) the dean or director of their academic unit; (3) the provost and vice-president for academic affairs; (4) the associate provost; (5) the university's general counsel; or (6) the university's compliance coordinator. Where a student believes that he or she has been subjected to sexual harassment or other unlawful discrimination, he or she may, in addition to complaining to the above, also complain to the dean of students, who shall immediately report the matter to one of the five university officers or categories of officials described in the preceding sentence.

A full and fair investigation will be conducted by the university. Both the complainant and the person charged will be notified of the results of the investigation. If either party does not accept the findings and the decisions made, he or she may file a complaint using the employee/student grievance policy.

It is a violation of this policy for any university employee (including faculty members) or any student to intentionally fabricate a complaint of sexual harassment and/or other unlawful discrimination against any individual covered by this policy.

GENERAL REQUIREMENTS FOR DEGREES

- 1. Degree requirements for students will be listed in the catalog in effect at the time of their first semester at Oklahoma City University. Students who are not in attendance for one calendar year will be required to complete the degree requirements listed in the catalog in effect at the time of their re-entry.
- 2. All students entering Oklahoma City University who have not completed ENGL 1113 and/or ENGL 1213 or a course accepted by the university as an equivalent or completed the requirements of ENGL 1113 and/or 1213 by way of examination are required to enroll in ENGL 1113 during the first semester of attendance and ENGL 1213 during the second semester of attendance. Students who opt to take the CLEP for English Composition must do so during their first semester at Oklahoma City University. See Advanced Standing Credit in this catalog for more information on CLEP.
- 3. The last 15 hours, including the last 6 of the major of a baccalaureate degree, must be completed in residence at Oklahoma City University. Student teaching may not be counted as the last 6 hours of an education major in this instance. A minimum of 40 hours must be completed at Oklahoma City University. A minimum of 124 hours is required for a degree.
- 4. Concurrent enrollment at another institution must be approved by the student's academic dean.
- 5. A candidate for a degree must have a cumulative GPA of not less than a 2.00. Only courses taken at Oklahoma City University are used to compute the cumulative GPA. (For the purpose of determining a student athlete's eligibility for participation in varsity and junior varsity athletic competitions, the student athlete's GPA must meet all applicable standards of all appropriate institutions including the conference, the athletic association, and the university, using each institution's methodology for calculating GPA.)
- 6. A candidate for a degree must have completed a major with at least a C average.
- 7. Undergraduate degree programs at Oklahoma City University can include no more than 6 hours of credit from kinesiology (KES) courses at the 1000, 1100, and 1200 levels (or equivalent for transfer work). No more than 2 of these 6 credit hours may be earned from junior varsity and varsity sports combined.
- 8. The dean of each school/college is responsible for ensuring fulfillment of graduation requirements for each student receiving a degree in his or her respective school/college. The school/college is the final authority in determining fulfillment of major graduation requirements for each student receiving a degree in his or her respective school or college.
- 9. Responsibility for meeting graduation requirements lies with the student. Students should be familiar with all requirements for a degree and the academic regulations of the university.

Second Baccalaureate Degree

A candidate for a baccalaureate degree must have a minimum of 124 semester hours. A candidate wishing to receive a second baccalaureate degree must complete a minimum of 154 semester hours. Additionally, the candidate must meet the major requirements for the second baccalaureate degree as well as any additional general education requirements not satisfied by the first degree.

Attendance and Academic Pursuit

Because education is the prime objective of the university, every student is expected to attend classes regularly unless prevented by genuine emergency reasons or by representing the university in an organized activity. Students are expected to make up all work missed, regardless of the reasons for absence. Students should keep teachers informed of the reasons for absences. It is the student's responsibility to be informed of the attendance policy in each course in which he or she is enrolled.

Time Limits on Course Work

If any course on a student's transcript was taken at Oklahoma City University ten or more years ago, the transcript will be evaluated by the appropriate academic dean in the same manner as a transcript received from another institution.

ACADEMIC HONESTY

Academic honesty is required in all aspects of a student's relationship with the university. Academic dishonesty may not be course-specific and includes falsification or misrepresentation of a student's academic progress, status, or ability, including, but not limited to, false or altered transcripts, letters of recommendation, registration or advising forms, or other documents related to the student's academic career at Oklahoma City University or other colleges or universities. Students are personally responsible for the correctness and accuracy of information supplied to the university. Any student who knowingly gives incorrect information to the university is subject to disciplinary action that may lead to suspension.

Students are advised that cheating and plagiarism are not tolerated. The university expects all students to maintain a high standard of ethics in their academic activities. In this context, forms of academic dishonesty include, but are not limited to, cheating on tests, examinations or other class/ laboratory work; involvement in plagiarism (the appropriation of another's work and/or the unacknowledged incorporation of that work in one's own); collusion (the unauthorized collaboration with another person); misrepresentation of actions; and falsifying information.

Grievance procedures found elsewhere in the catalog do not apply to the academic honesty policy procedures listed below. Law students are subject to the code of conduct published in the Oklahoma City University School of Law Student Handbook.

Course-based procedures: Each faculty member will include in his or her syllabus either the Oklahoma City University's academic honesty policy or a reference to the appropriate Oklahoma City University Web site regarding the academic honesty policy. The faculty member will include in the syllabus a description of the course-based consequences if a student fails to adhere to the academic honesty policy.

If, in the judgment of the faculty member, a student fails to conform to the academic honesty policy, the faculty member shall inform, in writing, the student's academic dean, the provost/VPAA and the student. University Studies students are a part of the Petree College of Arts and Sciences. Sanctions for a student's breach of the academic honesty policy vary according to the nature and the seriousness of the offense. Sanctions are at the discretion of the faculty member involved within the constraints of the course in which the offense occurred. Sanctions by the faculty member may include, but are not limited to, requiring a student to redo an assignment; recording an F (Failure) for a particular test, examination, class/laboratory assignment which involved dishonesty; or recording an F (Failure) for a final course grade.

Appeal: A student's appeal of the charge or the facultyimposed sanction must be made in writing and delivered to the faculty member's dean within ten university business days after the date of the faculty member's letter outlining the infraction of the academic honesty policy. The appeal period is increased to twenty-one calendar days when the faculty member's letter must be mailed to a student residing outside the United States. If the tenth day (or twenty-first day, in case of a student residing outside the United States) falls on a weekend or university holiday, the appeal is due on the next university business day.

The faculty member's school/college will elect faculty members to serve on a faculty/student committee to hear all school/college appeals for that academic year. The dean of the school or college will appoint student(s) to serve on the committee. If a faculty member is on the committee and the faculty member taught the course in question, he or she will not serve on the school/college committee for this appeal. The dean will appoint a replacement member for this appeal. If the dean taught the course in question, the appeal will go directly to the associate provost.

There is a presumption that the faculty member's decision is correct and, in the absence of extraordinary circumstances, shall not be changed. The faculty committee will render a decision, in writing, regarding the student's appeal within fifteen university business days of receiving the appeal. The faculty/ student committee may lessen the sanctions but may not increase the course-based sanctions. The faculty appeals committee's decision will be final, and there will be no further appeal of the faculty member's decision. If the student is exonerated no further action will occur.

School/College-based Procedures: If the student chooses to appeal and the appeal is not upheld or the student chooses not to appeal the faculty member's actions, the student's dean has the option of adding sanctions. Consequences may include loss of school/college-based scholarship funds, community service, or dismissal from the school/college. The dean can not change the student's grade. The dean must notify the student within ten university business days of the decision to impose additional sanctions. The appeal process is increased to twenty-one calendar days when the dean's letter must be mailed to a student then residing outside the United States. If the tenth day (or twenty-first day, in the case of a student then residing outside the United States) falls on a weekend or university holiday, the appeal is due on the next university business day.

Appeal: The student, within ten university business days after the date of the written notification of sanctions, imposed by the dean of the student's college/school, may appeal, in writing, to the associate provost. The associate provost's decision is final, and there will be no further appeal.

Loss of privilege to withdraw from a course: A student who has violated the academic honesty policy shall lose the privilege of withdrawing from the course in which the violation occurred in order to avoid the collateral consequences of sanctions which may be imposed by the faculty member teaching the course.

Provost/VPAA-based Procedures: The Office of the Provost will keep a file of all student violations of the academic honesty policy across the university. The associate provost may, at his or her discretion, convene the Student Probations and Petitions Committee to consider dismissal of the student from the university for grievous or repeated violations of the academic honesty policy. The associate provost must inform the student at least ten university business days prior to the time the Student Probation and Petitions Committee meets. The student has the right to appear before the Student Probation and Petitions Committee. The Student Probation and Petitions Committee will convene and render a decision regarding dismissal of a student from the university or other actions. The decision of the Student Probation and Petitions Committee is final and can not be appealed. Students dismissed from the university for academic honesty violations will not be eligible for readmission.

Student Discipline

Every student is expected to observe the highest standards of conduct, both on and off the campus. The university cannot accept the responsibility for the education of any student who is not in sympathy with the purposes and the regulations of the university. NOTE: In the case of Law School students, the Law School Student Conduct Code

Article 2.01 governs, and such students are subject to the Law School Disciplinary Tribunal.

Oklahoma City University reserves the right to exclude any student whose conduct or academic standing it regards as undesirable, without assigning any further reason. In such cases the fees due or which may have been paid in advance to the university will not be remitted or refunded in whole or in part. Neither the university nor any of its officers will be under any liability whatsoever for such exclusion. Any student under disciplinary suspension will be persona non grata on campus except for official business.

The entire judicial structure of the university is set forth in the Student Handbook, which is available on the university Web site. Students are responsible for all information contained in this catalog, the Student Handbook, and all class schedules. Copies of class schedules can be obtained in the Registrar's Office.

ACADEMIC ADVISEMENT

Oklahoma City University provides guidance for admission, course selection, and instruction. Every student is assigned to an academic advisor who counsels on academic matters. Academic advisors approach their counseling responsibilities in different ways. In general, they can answer questions about courses and majors. Students are assigned to faculty members in their major area of interest, with undecided students—who are classified as university studies students—being advised by the dean of the Petree College of Arts and Sciences. The student's relationship with an academic advisor can provide unique opportunities that may enrich his or her academic experience. An advisor will not make decisions for the student but will offer support and encouragement. It is understood that the counselor works in an advisory capacity and is not responsible for the failure of the student to follow the requirements for graduation set forth in the catalog. The provost is the ultimate authority on interpretation of requirements for graduation.

ADVANCED STANDING CREDIT

Transfer credit from accredited colleges and universities or noncollegiate credits earned from the FAA, military experience, American Institute of Banking, and other approved programs are posted on a student's permanent record after successful completion of 12 credit hours at Oklahoma City University.

Credit by Examination

The university allows capable students the opportunity to earn advanced placement and credit in selected areas by participating in various testing programs recognized by Oklahoma City University. Official scores must be submitted to the Registrar in order for credit to be awarded.

Oklahoma City University allows high school students the opportunity to earn college credit in selected areas by participating in the College Entrance Examination Board's program of advanced placement examination. The Advanced Placement (AP) tests are administered through high schools by the Educational Testing Service. Official scores must be submitted to the Registrar for credit to be awarded.

*It is strongly recommended that students interested in majoring in physics at Oklahoma City University consult first with an Oklahoma City University physics professor before taking a physics AP test. Oklahoma City University also offers students the opportunity to earn credit in selected areas through subject examinations. Information about College Level Examination Program (CLEP) testing can be obtained from the Oklahoma City University education department.

^{*}Credit given depending on score from qualified essay and approval of the English department faculty at Oklahoma City University.

NOTE: Students who do not pass the English CLEP test in their first semester at Oklahoma City University must enroll in English Comp I (or receive credit through transfer credit or examination) within their first three semesters at Oklahoma City University.

International Baccalaureate Scores

Oklahoma City University recognizes credit earned through the International Baccalaureate (IB) program, which is administered through selected high schools. Credit will be awarded to students who have taken "Higher Level" courses and scored at least four (on a seven-point scale) on the Higher Level course examination. The following is a list of courses for which IB credit can be earned.

Students should inquire in the Office of Admissions for additional information on the acceptance of credit for AP, CLEP, IB, and OSSM. Please consult with your Oklahoma City University admissions counselor and/or the director of admissions to clarify any questions you have prior to registering or taking an advanced standing test.

TRANSFER OF UNDERGRADUATE CREDIT

Acceptance of transfer credit is a twofold process. All transfer work must be from an institution that has been accredited by a regional accrediting agency. Eligibility of the transferring institution will be determined by the Registrar's Office. The transfer work will then be posted on the student's Oklahoma City University transcript by the Registrar's Office. Posting of this course work does not guarantee that the courses have been accepted towards a specific degree. The student is responsible for requesting an official transcript from any and all other institutions. Official transcripts are defined as transcripts mailed directly from one institution to Oklahoma City University. Any transcript marked "Issued to Student" and/or hand-carried transcripts are not considered official and will not be accepted for transfer purposes. The student is responsible for confirming that transcripts have been received by the Registrar's Office.

The applicability of any transfer credit to a specific degree is subject to the requirements for that degree. Interpretation of transfer credits is made by the chair of the department in which the comparable course is taught. Transfer credit must also meet all of the criteria outlined in the Transfer of Undergraduate Credit guidelines included below. Each student should receive a copy of a degree plan that has been prepared by his or her advisor, indicating the transferability of any or all courses.

Any student providing a transcript from an international institution is required to provide original documents for review by the International Admissions Office. Specific requirements for verifications will be determined by the International Admissions Office. The International Admissions Office may offer a preliminary review of all transfer work, but the chair of the department in which the comparable course is taught is responsible for approving transferred course work for credit toward an Oklahoma City University degree.

General Requirements for Transfer Work

- 1. A maximum of 84 hours of credit is accepted from other regionally accredited institutions toward a degree at Oklahoma City University. (A maximum of 68 credit hours is accepted from two-year college-level institutions.) Applicability of any transfer credit to a specific degree is subject to the requirements for that degree. Interpretation of transfer credits is made by the dean of the specific school or college. See PLUS program description and R.N.-to-B.S.N. program description for PLUS and R.N.-to-B.S.N. policies on transfer of undergraduate credit.
- 2. Transfer courses for which the Oklahoma City University curriculum has no specific equivalent, but which meet the aims and spirit of specific Oklahoma City University general education requirements, will be reflected on a student's Oklahoma City University transcript under the following course designations. Courses so designated will meet the noted general education requirements. To receive general education credit for particular courses that have not yet been evaluated by Oklahoma City University, the student must provide specific documentation of each course's content with the transfer petition form to the appropriate department or program chair for evaluation. The chair will determine whether to award specific general education credit and will notify the registrar of that decision.

- 3. Students with a baccalaureate degree from another regionally accredited college or university may transfer up to a total of 94 credit hours in pursuit of an additional baccalaureate degree from Oklahoma City University.
- 4. Credit for military service may be granted in accordance with recommendations of the American Council on Education. Credit for military service, transfer work, AP, IB, CLEP, and OSSM credit are posted to a student's permanent record after successful completion of 12 credit hours at Oklahoma City University. Credit for military service combined with transfer credit from regionally accredited institutions, AP, IB, CLEP, and OSSM credit is not to exceed 84 credit hours.
- 5. Once a student matriculates at Oklahoma City University, the student must petition the dean of his or her specific school or college prior to enrollment to take credit hours at other regionally accredited colleges or universities to apply these credits towards an Oklahoma City University degree. After matriculation at Oklahoma City University, students may take no more than 12 hours as a transient student. These hours combined with transfer hours accepted before matriculation are not to exceed a total of 84 credit hours.
- 6. Students wishing to transfer college credit to Oklahoma City University must have at least a 2.00 GPA.

- 7. A grade below a C- or its equivalent will not transfer.
- 8. Students seeking admission with fewer than 29 hours of college credit will be subject to the same admissions requirements as first-time freshmen, and their college transcript(s) must show a 2.00 GPA or better.

EVALUATION OF ACADEMIC WORK

Grading System

The following system of points is used for computing GPA:

4.00 Α A-3.75 B+ 3.25 3.00 В B-2.75 C+ 2.25 2.00 C-1.75 D+ 1.25 D 1.00 D-0.75

Students with credit from Honors courses will receive an additional 0.25 points. The grading system is for undergraduates and graduates in all schools except the School of Law.

Credit/No-Credit

The credit/no-credit option is available within the approved guidelines of each school. Please review the specific guidelines for each major to determine the eligibility of courses to be taken for a credit/no-credit grade. NOTE: Students must receive a letter grade for all courses taken to fulfill general education requirements. Courses taken with a credit/no-credit option do not fulfill the requirements of the general education curriculum.

The credit/no-credit option may only be selected from the time of pre-enrollment for the semester until the final day to drop courses without a transcript record (see academic calendar). Once this deadline has passed, the option to request a credit/no-credit grade is forfeited. A student must earn a C- or better to earn credit in the course. Students must obtain permission and the signature of the instructor in whose course they wish to earn a credit/no-credit grade. The instructor has the right to refuse students the option of a credit/no-credit grade. A separate credit/no-credit request form is available from the Registrar's Office.

Auditing Courses

An Oklahoma City University student may audit a course (excluding courses offered by the School of Law) by attending class sessions and completing classroom assignments. No examinations are taken and no credit is given. The student transcript carries the designation AU. The AU designation, once recorded on the transcript, may not be changed to a letter grade. Audited courses do not satisfy degree requirements. If a student determines that an audited course is needed to fulfill a major requirement, the student must repeat the course and earn a letter grade.

A student may audit only if permitted by the appropriate school or department policy and on a space-available basis. Students may not audit individualized academic experiences such as internships, directed study, independent study, music lessons, dance instruction, etc. Audited courses will not be considered in a student's normal semester load.

Procedure: The audit option can only be selected through the second Friday of the regular semester and through the first Friday after four class days of a summer session. Once the drop/add period is over, the option to audit a course is forfeited. Students must obtain permission and the signature of the instructor whose course they choose to audit. An instructor has the right to refuse to permit students to audit a course. Students registered to audit a class are not guaranteed a space until after the drop/add period. A separate audit form is available from the Registrar's Office.

Fees: Students are assessed a nonrefundable audit fee. Fee schedules are available from the Student Accounts Office. Audit fees are not part of the structure for block tuition charges and will be assessed in addition to regular tuition charges.

Adding Courses

For the fall and spring semesters, courses may be added through the first Friday after four class days of the semester without instructor approval. Courses added after the first Friday after four class days and through the second Friday after nine class days may be added only with instructor approval. Courses may not be added after this date. For the first and second summer terms, courses may be added through the first two class days. Courses added after the first two class days and through the Friday after four class days may be added only with instructor approval. Courses may not be added after this date.

Dropping Courses

The final date to drop a course is listed in the academic calendar. Students dropping courses before the final drop date will receive a W (withdrawal). After the final drop date, the instructor must assign a grade of WP (withdrawal passing) or WF (withdrawal failing) for the course. A grade of WF will be calculated into the student's grade point average as a failing grade. If a student needs to drop a course or courses after the final drop date for documented health reasons, he or she may request to be assigned a grade of WH (withdrawal for health reasons) rather than a WP or WF; a grade of WH will not be calculated into the student's grade point average. For grades of WP and WF, after receiving instructor approval, the student then must receive approval from his or her advisor, academic dean, and the associate provost before the change in class schedule can be processed. For the grade of WH, the student or his or her designated representative must present appropriate documentation and a formal petition for approval to his or her instructor, advisor, academic dean, and the associate provost. No course may be dropped after the last day of classes.

Courses dropped through the 100 percent refund date will not appear on the student's permanent record. Changes in class schedule become effective on the day the form is processed by the Registrar's Office.

A 100 percent tuition adjustment is made for varying time periods beginning with the published first day of class. After this period, there will be no further adjustments. The time periods vary. See Tuition Adjustments for more information. Student attendance in a course does not affect the tuition reduction. The date the completed form is processed by the Student Accounts Office is the determining factor.

Withdrawal

A student who is completely withdrawing from the university must obtain a withdrawal form from the Office of the Registrar, International Student Office, Financial Aid Office, or his or her dean's office. Once this form is properly completed and processed through the Office of the Registrar and the Student Accounts Office, the withdrawal becomes effective on the date it is validated by the Student Accounts Office. A "W" (withdrawal) will be assigned for each course. Nonattendance of classes does not constitute official withdrawal. Withdrawal will be permitted up to and including the final regular day of classes for all semesters or terms. No withdrawals are permitted during finals week.

Incomplete Courses

When a course is not completed by the end of the semester or summer session, an instructor may assign an incomplete (I) at his or her discretion. The student must be performing at a passing level and have a legitimate reason to receive an "I." Students cannot be assigned an "I" because they have excessive unexcused absences or because they are failing the course. Academic units and faculty members may establish their own policies regarding legitimate reasons to assign the "I" grade.

At the time that the incomplete is issued, a copy of an incomplete report form, which specifies what must be done to remove the "I" and the grade to be assigned if the work is not completed, must be submitted by the instructor. This form must be submitted to the Office of the Registrar no later than the date grades are due for the term that the "I" is assigned. A copy of the form will be sent to the student's dean by the Registrar's Office. The student is responsible for submitting the work by the deadline assigned by the instructor, not to exceed one year. If the "I" is not completed by the specified deadline, the grade will convert to the grade assigned on the incomplete report form.

In the event that a faculty member is no longer available, appropriate faculty shall be assigned by the dean or department chair to determine the grade.

Grade Points

The grades of W (withdrawal), WA (administrative withdrawal), WH (withdrawal health), WP (withdrawal passing), CR (credit), NC (no credit), I (incomplete), or NR (not reported) are omitted in counting grade points. The grade of WF (withdrawal failing) will be calculated into the grade point as a failing grade. Grade point totals are calculated by multiplying the number of credit hours of a course by the number of points for the corresponding grade received. A student's GPA will be determined by dividing the total number of grade points by the total number of hours attempted with the exception of courses in which marks of CR, W, WA, NC, I, and NR are received.

Repetition of Courses

An undergraduate course taken at Oklahoma City University in which the original grade was C+ or below, including a WF (withdrawal failing) may be repeated only once unless special permission for an additional opportunity to repeat the course is received from the dean of the student's school. To repeat an undergraduate course, the course content must be the same as the original course (at the discretion of the faculty), and the course must be repeated at Oklahoma City University. The higher grade will be calculated in the student's GPA. The lower grade will be recorded on the transcript as an R (repeat) and excluded from the student's GPA. The higher grade will be posted in the semester earned and included in the GPA. It will be noted on the transcript which grade has been excluded from the GPA. A student is permitted to repeat a maximum of eighteen semester hours or six different courses, whichever is higher. Grades of W, WP, WH, or AU is excluded from this policy.

Course Numbering Systems

The first digit in each course number indicates the academic level at which the department places the course (1 – freshman level, 2 – sophomore level, 3 – junior level, 4 – senior level, 5 and 6 – graduate level, and 7-9 – law courses).

The second digit, in combination with the third, gives the course a unique number within its department and academic level. The second digit may be used to indicate sequence where two or more courses dealing with the same subject matter are sequential in arrangement. In the Bass School of Music, the second digit is also used to indicate the semester in which the course is offered (odd numbers for the fall semester, even numbers for the spring semester).

The third digit indicates the type of course. The type indicated by specific numbers varies from school to school. The fourth digit indicates the number of semester hours credit assigned to the course.

"I" following a course number denotes courses open only to international students for whom the first language is not English. "H" following a course number denotes courses for Honors students only. Permission of the Honors director is required for enrollment in these courses.

Final Examinations

Final examinations are held in all courses upon the completion of each semester's or term's work. No one is to be excused from the final examinations. All classes will meet during the time stipulated by the Registrar's Office for final examinations. Students who have three final examinations scheduled on the same day may seek permission from either their instructors or their academic dean to have one exam rescheduled for another day within final examination week.

Course Cancellation Policy

The decision to cancel a course due to insufficient enrollment, faculty overload, or other circumstances will be made by the dean of the school offering the course in consultation with the instructor of the course. After notifying the Office of the Registrar of the cancellation, the dean will inform students enrolled in the course.

Departmental Independent Study

Most departments within the university provide independent study, typically one to six hours of credit toward the major. This opportunity enables a student to expand the academic experience beyond the courses listed in the curriculum of a department by creating, in cooperation with the instructor and the chair of the department, special courses of interest to the student. It also allows the expansion of the student's educational experience into research and analysis of data, particularly advisable for those planning to undertake graduate study. The student may undertake independent study courses in blocks from one to six hours, but normally independent study courses are for three hours in a given semester.

Classification

A student who has fulfilled entrance requirements and is working toward a degree is designated as a classified student. Such a student will be classified as a freshman until 29 semester hours have been completed, as a sophomore if 30-59 semester hours have been completed, as a junior if 60-89 semester hours have been completed, and as a senior if more than 90 semester hours have been completed.

Student Academic Load

The minimum full-time academic load during the fall or spring semesters is 12 credit hours. Each school and college at Oklahoma City University may determine the maximum number of credit hours in which its undergraduates may enroll. For schools and colleges permitting maximum enrollments exceeding 18 credit hours, academic advisors are responsible for setting the credit hours for which an advisee may enroll, based on considerations that include, but are not limited to, a student's general academic record, semester and cumulative grade point averages, and demonstrated ability to successfully complete heavy academic loads.

Each school/college will inform the registrar of its overload policy including the number of credit hours that will require dean's approval. Students may not enroll in more than 22 credit hours for fall or spring semesters. A student whose GPA for the semester is below 2.00 will carry no more than 12 semester hours in the subsequent semester.

A student employed as much as twenty-five hours per week should carry an academic load at least three semester hours below the normal full-time load. If the student is working twenty-five to thirty-five hours per week, the academic load should be reduced six semester hours below the full-time student. If the student is working more than thirty-five hours per week, not more than one-half the normal fulltime load of semester hours should be carried.

A student wishing to enroll at another institution concurrently with an enrollment at Oklahoma City University must have prior approval of the dean of his or her school. Students receiving veteran's education benefits also must notify the Registrar's Office immediately to ensure that the required documents are submitted to the Veterans Affairs Regional Office.

Grade Reports

Midsemester grades are made available to students through the Web for Students and are available from advisors. Final grade reports are posted only through the Web for Students unless the student has requested, in writing to the Office of the Registrar, that grades be mailed to a specific address.

Records and Transcripts

All permanent records are in the Office of the Registrar. Requests for grades, transcripts, and diplomas should be made to that office.

A student who completes the requirements for a degree cannot be issued a complete transcript or a statement that the requirements have been completed until the end of the semester or term in which he or she is registered for credits needed for the degree. Students who complete the requirements for a degree prior to the next graduation date may secure from the Office of the Registrar a statement that the requirements for the degree have been completed.

Official transcripts may be ordered online, by mail, in person, or by fax to the Office of the Registrar. A request for official transcripts must include the following information:

- student's full name (while enrolled)
- student identification number
- date of birth
- last date of enrollment
- current address and phone number
- address where the transcript is to be sent
- student's signature

The cost of official transcripts is included in the comprehensive records fee; therefore, there is no additional charge for transcripts. The registrar may limit the number of transcripts a student may receive within a given time period. Transcripts are not issued until all outstanding accounts with the university are paid in full. Students and former students may call Student Account Services at (405) 208-5146, or go to the Student Account Services office to determine their financial status.

Photo identification is required when picking up transcripts from the Office of the Registrar. Written authorization is required for a transcript to be released to a third party. Parents may obtain a student's transcript provided they have written authorization from the student or a signed affidavit stating that the student is their financial dependent according to IRS regulations.

Grievance Procedure for Grade Appeal

A grade awarded by the course instructor is presumptively correct, and the instructor's determination is generally final. Other than for mathematical or data entry errors, no final grade can be changed except on proof of exceptionally egregious circumstances as defined below.

If a student has reasonable grounds to believe that a final grade received or final academic judgment made with respect to him or her in any course or program of study was based on violation of established university policies, procedures, or regulations, substantial error, bias, or miscarriage of justice, the student may, within ten school days of the receipt of the final grade, initiate a grievance. School days are defined as Monday through Friday when classes are in session, excluding breaks, final exam periods, and holidays. Grievance procedures for students attending programs outside the United States must be facsimiled or e-mailed within twenty-eight calendar days in order to meet the remainder of the deadlines. The process is composed of both informal and formal procedures.

I. Informal Grievance Procedure

- A. The student should communicate with the instructor in an attempt to resolve the issue.
- B. If, after communicating with the instructor (or if, after reasonable effort on the part of the student to contact the instructor, she or he remains unavailable), the student still believes that the grade is based on violation of established university policies, procedures, or regulations, substantial error, bias, or miscarriage of justice, the student may take the grievance to the chair of the department in question. The chair will attempt to mediate the dispute. If there is no chair or the chair taught the course in question, the student should proceed to section II.

II. Formal Grievance Procedure

A. Only if the issue is still unresolved after meeting with the chair of the department, as outlined in section I, the student may initiate the formal grievance process with the dean. NOTE: If the dean taught the course, the associate provost will undertake the dean's responsibilities in the grievance procedure. The levels of action are clearly defined and include strict time limits designed to effect speedy resolution. No formal appeals procedure will be enacted if six months or more have elapsed since the incident. It is the responsibility of the student to initiate the process and follow it through. Failure of the student to move the appeal forward in the specified time limits will terminate the appeal.

- 1. The student will first present his or her appeal to the dean of the college or school. The appeal will be in writing, in as much detail as possible, stating all aspects of the issue that the student feels pertinent. Grounds for review are limited to violation of established university policies, procedures, or regulations, substantial error, bias, or miscarriage of justice. Copies of pertinent material in the student's possession or access will be included as appropriate.
- 2. Upon receipt of the material provided in section I, the dean will determine, within five school days, if the student has a prima facie case. If the dean determines that insufficient evidence has been presented by the student, he or she will dismiss the appeal. If the dean determines that there is evidence that, if believed, would constitute a prima facie case, the dean will provide, within ten school days of this determination, a copy of the written material to the faculty member in question. The dean will request a written response that details as completely as possible the position/ opinion of the faculty member on all issues raised. Copies of exams, assignments, grade books, or other relevant information will be submitted with this response. The instructor will have ten school days in which to prepare his or her response.
- 3. The student will be given the opportunity to review the instructor's response and to provide additional written comments to the dean. This response will be given within five school days of the receipt of the faculty member's response to the dean. The dean will then render a decision on the appeal within five school days. The dean or his or her designee has the right to request, from any party, any additional information he or she feels is pertinent and appropriate. However, the request for information will not extend the five-day response period above. Unless the dean determines that sufficient evidence exists to support the student's allegation, the dean will deny the appeal. The dean has the authority to deny the appeal or forward the appeal to the associate provost, who will convene the Student Probation and Petitions Committee. The dean does not have the authority to change the grade, but may make a recommendation to the committee.
- B. Either the student or the faculty member may appeal the dean's adverse decision within five school days of the receipt of the dean's decision by giving written notice of intent to do so. Upon such written notice to the dean, the dean will forward copies of all material to the associate provost, who will convene the Student Probation and Petitions Committee, which must meet within ten school days of receipt of the appeal. NOTE: If the faculty member who taught the class involved in the appeal is a member of the Student Probation and Petition Committee, the faculty member must recuse him or herself from the committee during the appeal. The committee will review all documentation and will reach a decision. The committee may request additional documentation if it feels it is appropriate to do so and may adjourn until the documentation is available. Both parties have the right to appear before the committee; however, to the fullest extent possible, the decision will be based on the written documentation provided. The committee will uphold the originally issued grade unless it finds substantial evidence of violation of established university policies, procedure, or regulations, substantial error, bias, or miscarriage of justice. The committee's decision will be rendered as soon as practical after receipt of the documentation, but must be rendered within thirty days.

- C. If the committee determines that the above-described process has not been followed correctly, the committee will order a rehearing of the case following the correct
- D. The decision of the committee is final.

ACADEMIC PROBATION AND SUSPENSION

In order to remain in good academic standing, a student must maintain a GPA above the minimums listed below. Students placed on academic warning, while technically in good academic standing should recognize that they are at risk for academic probation if they fail to raise their GPAs.

1-29 attempted semester hours . . .

below 1.70 GPA student is placed on academic probation

1-29 attempted semester hours . . .

above 1.70 GPA but below 2.0 GPA student is placed on academic warning

Greater than 29 semester hours . . .

below 2.0 GPA student is placed on academic probation

Academic probation: Any student whose cumulative GPA falls below the retention requirements noted above will be placed on academic probation. A student placed or continued on academic probation must maintain a 2.00 GPA in 12 hours of regularly graded course work (excluding activity and/or performance courses not required for the major) each semester until she or he attains the retention GPA. Upon raising her or his GPA to meet the retention requirement, the student will be removed from academic probation.

Only students who are in good academic standing may participate in extracurricular activities. Extracurricular activities are defined as activities such as athletic competitions, artistic performances, and academic competitions that are not required by the student's course work or major program. Students who are not in good academic standing will be prohibited from representing the university in the participation in intercollegiate athletic events, artistic performances except as required for their course work or degree requirements, and intercollegiate academic contests. Traveling with athletic teams, performance groups, or academic teams also will be prohibited.

Academic suspension occurs automatically when a student who was placed on academic probation the previous semester either fails to raise his or her GPA to the retention requirement or fails to achieve a 2.00 semester GPA in at least 12 hours of regularly graded course work (excluding activity and/or performance courses not required for the major). Any student suspended for academic reasons cannot be reinstated until one full academic year has elapsed unless upon appeal the Student Probation and Petitions Committee grants immediate reinstatement. Students wishing to appeal suspension should inquire about procedures and deadlines from the Office of the Registrar. Any student who is reinstated to the university will re-enter on probation and must achieve a minimum semester GPA of at least 2.00 in a minimum of 12 regularly graded hours each semester until he or she succeeds in meeting the retention GPA requirement appropriate to his or her classification. Once the retention GPA requirement is met, the student will be removed from probation.

ACADEMIC DISMISSAL

Readmission Policy for Students Dismissed for Poor Academic Performance:

A student who is dismissed from the university for academic reasons chooses not to appeal the dismissal and wishes to reapply to the same program must wait one full academic year before applying for readmission. The latest date by which readmission requests must reach the Office of the Registrar in order to be considered for earliest possible readmission will be indicated in the letter of dismissal. Official transcripts and records of academic work completed during the period following the dismissal must be included along with the request for readmission. The Student Probation and Petitions Committee will review any request for readmission. Requests for readmission will be reviewed prior to the semester in which the student is eligible to re-enroll.

At the time of dismissal, the student will be informed of possible avenues to pursue, such as additional academic course work from other postsecondary institutions. This information will be communicated in the dismissal letter sent from the Office of the Registrar. Official transcripts and records of academic work completed during the period following the dismissal must be included along with the request for readmission. The Student Probation and Petitions Committee will review all requests for readmission. Requests for readmission will be reviewed prior to the semester in which the student is eligible to re-enroll.

Suspended seniors (students with 90 or more hours in a specified degree program) who fail to meet either the 2.00 retention GPA or the semester GPA of 2.00 may enroll in an additional 12 semester hours (excluding activity and/or performance courses not required for the major) in a further attempt to achieve the requirements for retention. Seniors will be afforded this extension only one time. This extension applies to seniors enrolled in more than six hours. Seniors enrolled in six or fewer hours will be placed on academic suspension after two successive enrollments with less than the required GPA for their classification.

Students must have a GPA of 2.50 or better in at least 12 hours of work for the preceding semester or a cumulative GPA of 2.50 for all work taken previously in the university to be granted university honors or awards. Students who are in good academic standing or students who have been continued on academic probation are judged to be making satisfactory progress toward their degrees.

The university reserves the right to place on academic warning a student whose semester grades fall below a 2.00. The academic warning letter will indicate what the student needs to do academically to retain a good academic standing with the university.

Appeal of Academic Dismissal

A student has the right to appeal academic dismissal due to substandard academic performance. The student may, within fourteen days, excluding official university holidays, of the receipt of the written notice of dismissal, initiate an appeal in the following manner:

- 1. The student must submit a written appeal to the registrar. The appeal should have as much detail as possible, stating all aspects of the issue that the student thinks pertinent. It is the responsibility of the student to initiate the process and follow it through. Failure of the student to move the appeal forward in the specified time limit will terminate the appeal.
- 2. After making a determination that the appeal is filed in a timely manner, the registrar will convene the Student Probation and Petitions Committee to consider the student's appeal within ten school days of its receipt. School days are defined as Monday through Friday, when classes are in session, excluding breaks, final exam periods, and official university holidays. The Student Probation and Petitions Committee will review all documentation and reach a decision on the appeal. The committee may request additional documentation and may postpone the hearing until that documentation is available. The student has the right to appear before the committee; however, to the fullest extent possible, the decision will be based on written documentation provided.
- 3. The committee may affirm the decision to dismiss, overturn the decision to dismiss, or qualify the decision to dismiss.

- 4. If the committee affirms the decision to dismiss, the provost may review the documentation to determine that these procedures were followed. The provost review will only address procedural matters.
- 5. The associate provost will notify the student within three school days of the decision of the committee.

NOTE: This procedure applies to all departments and schools within the university except the School of Law. Appeals of academic dismissal in the School of Law are heard by the Law School's Petitions and Retention Committee under the procedures and regulations set forth in the Law School's Student Handbook. Decisions of that committee are final, except that the president may review the documentation solely to determine that due process has been followed.

GRADUATION PROCEDURES AND COMMENCEMENT

Degree candidates, in the latter part of their junior year, should check with their advisor on their progress in satisfying graduation requirements. Students who plan to graduate should file an application for graduation in the Registrar's Office before the deadline specified in the academic calendar.

There are three graduation dates (fall, spring, and summer) and two commencement ceremonies (December and May). Students completing degree requirements in the fall participate in the December commencement ceremony. Students completing degree requirements in the spring or summer terms of an academic year participate in the May commencement ceremony. All students should complete the application for graduation by the appropriate deadline published in the academic calendar—typically October for December commencement and February for May commencement.

A student who has three or fewer credit hours to complete in the fall semester of the following academic year may participate in the May commencement ceremony. To do so, the student must request permission from the Academic Affairs Office and complete the application for graduation before the application deadline published in the academic calendar. Completion of any degree-required comprehensive exam is not a requirement for participation in the commencement ceremony.

Before filing the application for graduation, each candidate should contact his or her dean to initiate a final degree check. A final degree certification must be submitted to the Registrar's Office by the appropriate dean. Consult the appropriate pages under education for the requirements pertinent to certification.

A candidate for a degree must have a cumulative GPA of not less than 2.00 for the degree to be conferred. Only courses taken at Oklahoma City University are used in calculating the GPA. Responsibility for meeting graduation requirements lies with the student.

The date recorded on a diploma will be the graduation date following the semester or summer session in which the student completes all requirements for the degree.

Graduation Honors

The university recognizes the academic achievements of its candidates for degrees by the following honor awards:

Summa Cum Laude—a cumulative GPA of 3.900 with a minimum of 80 hours of graded courses at Oklahoma City University

Magna Cum Laude—a cumulative GPA of 3.750 with a minimum of 60 hours of graded courses at Oklahoma City University

Cum Laude—a cumulative GPA of 3.500 with a minimum of 60 hours of graded courses at Oklahoma City University

Courses that are nongraded or graded as credit/no-credit may not be included in the minimum hour requirements. To determine honors candidates for the commencement ceremony, the GPA and the hours accumulated through the semester prior to commencement will be calculated. For the official honors designation which is placed on the transcript and the diploma, the final semester's hours and grade points are included. Only the GPA of hours completed at Oklahoma City University will be used in the calculation of graduation honors eligibility.

Letzeiser Medals—For the three senior men and the three senior women with the highest GPA. One hundred-five Oklahoma City University graded hours or a combination of Oklahoma City University graded hours and Oklahoma City University approved hours from AP, CLEP, IB, and OSSM, are required for the award. Transfer hours and advanced standing hours accepted by other institutions will not be included toward the 105 hours.

Cum Honore (University Honors Program)—completion of 25 hours of Honors courses with a 3.50 cumulative GPA and an Honors GPA of 3.25.

UNIVERSITY HONORS

President's Honor Roll—All undergraduate students are eligible for this honor provided they meet the following requirements: (1) enrolled for and completed a minimum of 12 graded hours for the semester; (2) have not received any incomplete, no-credit, or unsatisfactory grades for that semester; (3) receive a current semester GPA of 3.900 or above.

Vice President's Honor Roll—All undergraduate students are eligible for this honor provided they meet the following requirements: (1) enrolled for and completed a minimum of 12 graded hours for the semester; (2) have not received any incomplete, no-credit, or unsatisfactory grades for that semester; (3) receive a current semester GPA of 3.750-3.899.

Dean's Honor Roll—All undergraduate students are eligible for this honor provided they meet the following requirements: (1) enrolled for and completed a minimum of 12 graded hours for the semester; (2) have not received any incomplete, no-credit, or unsatisfactory grades for that semester; (3) receive a current semester GPA of 3.500-3.749.

Phi Kappa Phi—The mission of Phi Kappa Phi, an all discipline national honor society, is "to recognize and promote academic excellence in all fields of higher education and to engage the community of scholars in service to others." Undergraduates, graduate students, faculty, professional staff, and alumni are eligible for membership. The organization is more than 100 years old, and election is by invitation only.

Blue Key Honor Fraternity—Membership is by election. Second-semester sophomore standing or above and a cumulative GPA of 3.40 or above are required.

Junior Marshals—Junior men and women are chosen for this honor on the basis of scholarship, leadership, and character by the faculty of the Petree College of Arts and Sciences, Meinders School of Business, Ann Lacy School of American Dance and Arts Management, Bass School of Music, Kramer School of Nursing, Department of Theatre, and the Wimberly School of Religion and Graduate Theological Center.

Oklahoma City University Leadership Award—Outstanding senior man and woman in the Petree College of Arts and Sciences, Meinders School of Business, Ann Lacy School of American Dance and Arts Management, Bass School of Music, Kramer School of Nursing, and Wimberly School of Religion and Graduate Theological Center are chosen for this award.

Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges—An annual publication in which the biographies of outstanding undergraduate students on American campuses are included. Students are selected by the Student Life Committee. Both graduate and undergraduate students may participate.

SPECIAL PROGRAMS AND SUPPORT SERVICES

University Honors Program

The mission of the University Honors Program is to provide enhanced educational opportunities to challenge academically gifted undergraduate students in any major. The program cultivates open-mindedness and progressive deepening of purpose.

Each new class of Honors students at Oklahoma City University is a special community of scholars. Students have the opportunity to become acquainted with one another and the Honors program in the Honors Colloquium, a course required for all new Honors students during their first semester in the program. Honors students have opportunities to meet with visiting scholars and participate in special events. As part of a network of honors programs through the National Collegiate Honors Council and the Great Plains Honors Council, students may present research at national and regional honors conferences and participate in exciting summer and semester programs.

To qualify for the University Honors Program, an incoming first-year student must have a minimum 27 ACT or a high school 3.75 cumulative GPA. The admission process requires that a student answer two of three essay questions determined by the Honors Committee. On-campus recruitment occurs during the fall semester with the application process including verification of current and past Oklahoma City University grades to meet a 3.50 minimum GPA, recommendations from two Oklahoma City University instructors, and submission of two brief essays. The Honors Committee selects members of the program.

Transfer students are eligible to become members of the University Honors Program through the same application process used by entering first-year students. Students may count up to 12 hours of transfer work for Honors credit provided the hours have been accepted for credit by Oklahoma City University, the hours were designated "Honors" at the former institution, and the former institution is a member in good standing in the National Collegiate Honors Council.

The requirements to graduate with University Honors Program honors (Cum Honore) are completion of 25 hours of Honors courses with a 3.50 cumulative GPA and an Honors GPA of 3.25.

Learning Enhancement Center (LEC)

The LEC offers a variety of free services to students, such as one-to-one tutoring in most areas of the curriculum. Tutoring is provided in approximately forty-five-minute sessions. Students may discuss any aspect of their papers with tutors, and tutors may assist with specific areas suggested by faculty. Specialized assistance is available for the visually and hearing impaired. Selected PCs located in the LEC are equipped with screen magnification software. Also available is a dedicated PC that allows visually impaired students to scan text and have the computer read text aloud.

The LEC is located on the second floor of the Walker Center for Arts and Sciences. Contact the LEC at (405) 208-5040 for a schedule of operations. Students may schedule appointments on sign-up sheets located in the LEC or by calling the center.

Computer and Information Resources

Campus Technology Services offers a variety of student support services, including the Help Desk, which can be accessed on the Web, by telephone, or in the Campus Technology Services Office located in the University Center. Among the services provided are hardware and software support, training, and licensed installation of popular applications such as Microsoft Office and McAfee.

Campus Technology Services maintains three public access computer labs on campus.

- 1. Meinders School of Business (Room 104): this fifteen-seat lab is composed of Intel-based personal computers and printing services. The lab is mainly "open access" to all students; however, some classes are scheduled for lab use. Lab hours are Monday through Thursday, 8:30 a.m. – 10:00 p.m.; Friday, 8:30 a.m. – 6:00 p.m.; Saturday and Sunday closed.
- 2. Meinders School of Business (Room 201): this twenty-four-seat lab is composed of Intel-based personal computers and printing services. This lab is mainly "open access" to all students; however, some classes are scheduled for lab use. Lab hours are Monday through Thursday, 8:30 a.m. – 10:00 p.m.; Friday, 8:30 a.m. – 6:00 p.m.; Saturday and Sunday closed.
- 3. Tom and Brenda McDaniel University Center: This thirty-four-seat computer lab is composed of Intel-based PCs and four Intel-based iMacs. The lab is equipped with four laptop stations, two scanners, and a color and a black-and-white printer. The lab is "open access" to all students. Lab hours are Sunday through Thursday 6:00 a.m. - 2 a.m. and Friday and Saturday, 6:00 a.m. - 11:00 p.m.

All students are provided a user ID and password and are required to log into the campus network to use the labs. MS Office 2007, MS Visual Studio 2008, and web browsing capabilities are installed in each lab. Mac software available in the University Center's public lab includes:

iLife '08, Creative Suite 3, and Leopard. Other software specific to course instruction is installed in the labs when necessary. For assistance call the Student Technology Support Center at (405) 208-5555.

E-mail accounts are provided to all students. E-mail can be accessed through the Internet from any location on or off campus. All students are provided disk space on the campus network to store files and create Web pages. Internet Web browsing and printing services are available in all three public-access labs as well as all public computing spaces on campus.

There are several "specific use" computer labs located in the Music, Arts and Sciences, and Law schools. Each school provides specific software and services.

All resident hall rooms are wired for Internet, telephone and network connectivity. Wireless capability is available in all classroom buildings as well as in the public areas of the dorms. We anticipate the completion of wireless capabilities within dorm rooms by Fall 2008. Dorm residents may connect one PC or laptop to the campus network from their dorm rooms. A limited number of PCs are maintained in each dorm lobby by Campus Technology Services. The computer-use policy is published on the university Web site at starport.okcu.edu. All students should read this policy.

ELS Language Centers

Oklahoma City University provides international students instruction in the English language through the ELS Language Centers® located on campus in Harris Hall.

The Intensive English program at ELS Language Centers® provides thirty hours of instruction per week to move a student quickly to the goal of university entrance. New sessions begin every four weeks, and students are tested and placed in one of twelve levels. The intensive course is a complete English program including classes in structure/ speaking, conversation, reading, writing, multimedia lab, and special-interest subjects.

ELS Language Centers® is accredited by the Accrediting Council for Continuing Education and Training (ACCET) and by the Oklahoma State Board of Regents for Higher Education. For information regarding this service, contact ELS Language Centers®, 1915 NW Twenty-fourth Street, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma 73106, (405) 525-3738, www.els.edu or e-mail okc@els.edu.

Center for Interpersonal Studies Through Film and Literature

The center's mission is to develop creative programs through film and literature that engage individuals on the intuitive and experiential levels to understand themselves and others across time and space. Begun in 1997, the center brings a distinguished creative person to the campus each year (Poets Jimmy Santiago Baca, Lucille Clifton, Billy Collins, Mark Doty, Joy Harjo, Jane Hirshfield, Ted Kooser, Li-Young Lee, Michael Ondaatje, Robert Pinsky, and Naomi Shihab Nye have been featured); develops an annual documentary film series each spring; develops for the university and community an archive collection of quality videos and DVDs along with viewing suggestions and some lesson plans for grade school through university-level teachers; conducts field trips to Oklahoma City University for teachers and students from upper elementary through high school to view and discuss distinguished films; holds a book discussion series for the university and Oklahoma City community; collaborates with other campus and metropolitan organizations to support and encourage different groups to work together on creative projects; sponsors international cultural study trips for students from upper elementary grades through high school; and contributes to the support of the Oklahoma City University Film Institute. The director teaches university courses related to the mission of the center as well as courses in the English department and courses for the film studies degree in the Moving Image Arts Program. The Thatcher Hoffman Smith Endowment Fund and an advisory committee support the development of the center.

The Washington Center Internship Program

Oklahoma City University's partnership with The Washington Center (TWC) provides students with opportunities for full-time internships in the nation's capital. The program provides a unique combination of benefits: a structured program for which students receive academic credit from Oklahoma City University; an extensive internship tailored to the interests of the student, whatever his or her major; and a varied selection of course work, lectures by national and international leaders, small group meetings with members of Congress, embassy visits, and workshops.

TWC maintains ties with thousands of organizations governmental, nonprofit, and corporate—that can provide high-quality placements in the Washington, D.C., area. Internships run a wide gamut of interests and opportunities. The student selects from fifteen different thematically organized programs (for example, Congress, mass communications, NAFTA, business and information technology, law and criminal justice, among others). Internships are available for all majors, and the placement sites provide tremendous opportunities to work for corporations such as Merrill Lynch or Citibank; such government sites as the EPA, the White House Office of Public Affairs, Congress, or the Smithsonian; or mass communications placements at CNN or USA Today.

TWC offers internships year round. Students with a 3.00 GPA or higher may apply after the completion of their sophomore year and receive 9 to 12 hours of credit. The timing of the semester's internship and the number of credits to be received must be preapproved by the student's departmental advisor. Internships generally are assigned 3 to 6 hours of credit, TWC course work earns 3 hours, and the student may earn another 3 hours of credit for portfolio work assigned by a center supervisor and approved by the student's departmental internship advisor.

TWC provides safe, attractive, and conveniently located housing in high-rise apartments in northern Virginia. Program supervisors counsel, place, supervise, and plan activities for interns during their semester. The center also offers students many opportunities to explore the cultural vitality of Washington. For information, contact the fellowship/ scholarship coordinator at (405) 208-5127 or the director of career services at (405) 208-5171.

INTERNATIONAL EDUCATION (STUDY ABROAD)

The Office of International Education (OIE) at Oklahoma City University recognizes that an understanding of other cultures, languages, and global issues has become increasingly significant in the education of tomorrow's leaders. OIE has a goal of integrating the campus into this interconnected world by providing opportunities for students to internationalize their educational experience, encouraging Oklahoma City University faculty to expand their own international experiences and internationalize their curriculum, and facilitating global awareness campus-wide.

International Education Opportunities

At Oklahoma City University, students may travel to many countries with the intent of studying the language and culture or pursuing their required academic course work. Students may participate in study abroad programs for either a semester or an academic year (reciprocal exchange and affiliated/approved programs); one to five weeks (faculty-led study tours), or during summer and winter breaks (facultyled affiliated/approved programs).

Eligibility Requirements:

- A minimum 3.0 cumulative GPA to participate in academic year and/or semester study abroad programs.
- Junior or senior standing at Oklahoma City University to participate in academic year and/or semester study abroad programs (second semester sophomores considered on an individual basis).
- Overall good standing at Oklahoma City University.
- Demonstrated foreign language proficiency for programs where English is not the official language of instruction.
- Completed OIE Application for International Education and mandatory OIE orientation.

Reciprocal Exchange: A reciprocal exchange is specifically designed for students who wish to study at a foreign institution for either the academic year or one semester only, and who do not seek a degree from that institution. Reciprocal exchange allows Oklahoma City University students to pay Oklahoma City University tuition and fees but study at the foreign institution while remaining concurrently enrolled at Oklahoma City University. Federal financial aid and some institutional aid are applicable toward Oklahoma City University tuition costs associated with reciprocal exchange programs as determined by the Office of Financial Aid.

Oklahoma City University currently has exchange agreements with the following institutions:

Argentina—Universidad del Centro Educativo Latinoamericana (UCEL): Students may study Spanish or pursue regular course work at UCEL, the first Methodist-affiliated university in Argentina, UCEL is located in downtown Rosario, Santa Fe, 300 km northwest of Buenos Aires, Argentina's capitol city. Prerequisite: Minimum of three semesters of college-level Spanish.

Austria—Alpen-Adria University at Klagenfurt: Students interested in studying in Klagenfurt will find intensive language classes in German and Italian, as well as a variety of classes taught in English. The university is located in the capitol city of the beautiful southern province of Carinthia, nestled in the Tyrolean Alps next to the Worthersee Lake. Venice, Italy, is only a short train ride to the west and Vienna, Austria, is four hours due north. Carinthia is a charming example of the Austrian countryside, with welcoming people and a long history. Prerequisite: Three semesters of college-level German or Italian for language study.

Japan—Ritsumeikan University (RITS): One of the newest reciprocal exchange programs at Oklahoma City University, RITS offers both undergraduate and graduate courses to Oklahoma City University students in areas such as law, social sciences, economics, international relations, and Japanese language studies. RITS is comprised of three university campuses, all part of the Oklahoma City University exchange program. RITS offers semester, academic year, and summer programs with over 500 courses taught in English. The name Ritsumeikan means "the place to establish one's destiny," offering Oklahoma City University students the unique opportunity to learn within an education system committed to cultivating individuality and internationalism simultaneously. Prerequisite: None.

Partner Programs: Partner programs exist so that students may enroll in an international institution through Oklahoma City University. Program tuition is paid to Oklahoma City University so that institutional financial aid and scholarships may be considered and utilized for program costs.

England—Edge Hill University: Many students enjoy the opportunity to study at Oklahoma City University's partner institution in Ormskirk, England. Edge Hill University has been providing high-quality education in liberal arts, business, and education for well over a century. Its impressive outdoor facilities include rugby, soccer and cricket fields, a full-size running track, plus tennis courts, a double gymnasium, and swimming pool. The picturesque campus is conveniently located in northwest England, removed from urban noise and distractions, only a short distance from Liverpool and Manchester, two of England's major centers for the arts. Prerequisite: None.

Danish Institute for Study Abroad (DIS) - Denmark:

DIS is a specialized Danish institution offering study abroad programs in English for primarily American university students in their third or fourth year of study, with credit transfer to their home school. Established in 1959, DIS has a reputation of being intense, demanding, and rewarding, and of providing a challenging educational environment in a full-service framework. DIS offers site-specific courses and programs involving interactive and cooperative learning processes, individual and team-based research, experiential learning through course-integrated field studies and study tours, and housing with the Danes. All courses, except the Danish Language and Culture class, are taught in English. Prerequisite: None.

Faculty-led Class (short term): Oklahoma City University's academic departments offer a range of international study opportunities for credit each year. Some typical faculty-led classes/study tours include German courses in Austria and Spanish language courses in Mexico offered through the Department of Modern Languages; natural history and ecology courses in Central and South America through the Department of Biology; exploration of the European criminal justice system through the Sociology and Justice Studies Department; the British media comparison class through the Mass Communications Department; Meinders School of Business study abroad opportunities for credit in Nicaragua and M.B.A. credit in China; and the Kramer School of Nursing offers a service-learning course in Mexico. Additionally, Oklahoma City University sponsors trips for performing arts majors. Past programs presented abroad include The Fantastiks (Singapore), The Boyfriends (Singapore and Malaysia), and the musical Oklahoma! (Malaysia) from the Margaret E. Petree College of Performing Arts; The Oklahoma City University Chamber Choir has performed in Taiwan, Thailand, Korea, and Hong Kong; and the Oklahoma City University Symphony Orchestra toured the People's Republic of China.

Faculty-led study abroad classes/study tours are coordinated through OIE, therefore students are encouraged to contact their specific departments to inquire about planned study tours for the academic year, then apply for the study tours through OIE. Faculty-led class/study tour pricing does not typically include Oklahoma City University tuition and fees, but may include the cost of roundtrip airfare, accommodations, and some meals and activities associated with the program.

Affiliated/Approved Programs: Oklahoma City University students have studied in Australia, Ecuador, France, Ireland, Italy, and Russia through third-party providers or other U.S. university programs. Oklahoma City University holds affiliation agreements with private study abroad organizations such as Cultural Experiences Abroad, International Studies Abroad, and Study Abroad Italy, to name a few. The advantages for Oklahoma City University students to study abroad through one of the affiliated programs are that they expand the options available to our students, and Oklahoma City University students are eligible to apply for affiliate scholarships, which are not open to the general public. In addition, affiliate organizations make periodic site visits to Oklahoma City University to assist students with program information.

Global opportunities at Oklahoma City University expand each year. Students can keep informed of developing and upcoming international education opportunities by visiting the annual study abroad fair, contacting Oklahoma City University departments and faculty, browsing the OIE study abroad resource library, or by scheduling an appointment with the Office of International Education at (405) 208-5022.

DULANEY-BROWNE LIBRARY

Oklahoma City University supports two libraries, the Dulaney-Browne Library and the Law Library. While the collections and services of both libraries are available to all university students, faculty, and staff, all nonlawrelated library materials and services are provided through the five-story Dulaney-Browne Library building in the center of the campus.

The Dulaney-Browne Library provides access to thousands of high quality research resources for Oklahoma City University students, faculty, and staff. Library resources and services are available in the library or through the library's Web page (www.okcu.edu/library) and include more than 180,000 books, 316,000 government documents, 4,000 videos and DVDs, 550 current periodical subscriptions, 14,000 full-text online periodical titles, and 44,000 electronic book titles. Reference librarians provide assistance in finding information in the library, over the telephone, and via the Internet. Librarians also offer formal instruction to individuals and groups in the use and evaluation of information resources. Additional library resource services include the Archives and Special Collections (including the University Archives, the Oklahoma Methodist Archives, and the Shirk Oklahoma History Center), the Foundation Center Cooperating Collection, the Oklahoma City University Film Institute Collection, and Government Documents provided through the federal depository program.

The library cooperates with other libraries in Oklahoma and around the world to provide students, faculty, and staff with access to their collections through OK-Share (a cooperative library card for Oklahoma academic libraries) and interlibrary loan (delivery to the library user of articles and books from other libraries).

Please contact the library (405) 208-5065, (405) 208-5068, or AskALibrarian@okcu.edu or visit during regular library hours (Monday-Thursday 8:00 a.m.-midnight, Friday 8:00 a.m.-6:00 p.m., Saturday 10:00 a.m.-6:00 p.m., and Sunday 1:00 p.m.-midnight) for more information.

CAREER SERVICES

The Office of Career Services is committed to assisting undergraduate and graduate students and alumni position themselves for success within their chosen fields of interest. The aim of Career Services is to assist students and alumni in identifying and implementing strategies to aid in career exploration and the career decision-making process. Through Career Services there are a number of resources and services that can help students who are entering the world of work or those that are looking to advance their careers. Current students of all majors and graduate programs and Oklahoma City University alumni are eligible to use the comprehensive resources available through Career Services, including the following:

- Individual career counseling
- Job search strategies
- Résumé and cover letter writing
- Graduate school planning
- Internship resources
- Career fairs
- Interviewing techniques
- Alumni networking and mentoring
- Online career and employer resources
- Career planning for international students
- Self assessments
- Online job/intership posting system: www.okcu.edu/careers

Students are encouraged to schedule an individual appointment and discuss how the Office of Career Services can help provide valuable information and review the skills needed to be successful within their professional areas of interest.

The Office of Career Services is located in the Meinders School of Business, Suite 200. Career Services office hours: Monday - Friday 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. and evening hours by appointment. Call (405) 208-5171 or visit www.okcu.edu/careers.

Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps Program (AFROTC)

Three- and four-year programs are available to Oklahoma City University students through a cooperative agreement between Oklahoma City University and the University of Oklahoma. The program may be completed in as little as one year in some cases. This "crosstown" agreement allows students to commute to the University of Oklahoma one or two afternoons per week to attend Air Force ROTC classes while continuing their studies at Oklahoma City University. Students who attend AFROTC at the University of Oklahoma under the agreement pay only for the semester hours that they take, and most fees and additional costs are waived.

Students who enter the Air Force ROTC program during the first half of the four-year program enter the General Military Course (GMC) of study on a noncompetitive basis. If they elect to go on, students compete for entry into the Professional Officer Course (POC), the second half of the four-year program, by first being selected to attend Field Training in the summer prior to the junior year. Selection is based on a recommendation by the instructor of aerospace studies, GPA, a test equivalent score (Air Force Qualifying Test and either SAT or ACT, if available), and a physical fitness test.

Those completing the program commission as active duty Air Force officers and serve for a minimum of four years. Scholarships are available on a competitive and noncompetitive basis that may be used at Oklahoma City University.

Any questions concerning Air Force ROTC or aerospace studies course descriptions should be addressed to

Aerospace Studies (AERO) Course Descriptions (All aerospace studies courses are offered by the University of Oklahoma in Norman, Oklahoma)

1011 (FALL), 1021 (SPRING) THE FOUNDATIONS OF THE UNITED STATES AIR FORCE Survey courses designed to introduce students to the United States Air Force and provide an overview of the basic characteristics, missions, and organization of the Air Force. Featured topics include officership, professionalism, military customs and courtesies, Air Force officer opportunities, and an introduction to communication skills.

2011 (FALL), 2021 (SPRING) THE EVOLUTION OF USAF AIR AND SPACE POWER Courses featuring topics on Air Force heritage and leaders, introduction to air and space power through competencies and functions, and continued application of communication skills. Its purpose is to instill an appreciation of the development and employment of air and space power.

3013 (FALL), 3023 (SPRING) THE UNITED STATES AIR FORCE LEADERSHIP STUDIES Courses that teach junior cadets advanced skills and knowledge in management and leadership. Special emphasis is placed on enhancing communication and leadership skills. Cadets have an opportunity to try out these leadership and management techniques in a supervised environment as juniors and seniors.

4013 (FALL), 4023 (SPRING) NATIONAL SECURITY AFFAIRS/PREPARATION FOR ACTIVE DUTY Courses designed for college seniors, giving them the foundation to understand their role as military officers in American society.

These courses are an overview of the complex social and political issues facing the military profession and require a measure of sophistication commensurate with the senior college level. Within this structure, continued emphasis is given to refining communication skills.

1300 LEADERSHIP LABORATORY All Air Force ROTC cadets take the Leadership Laboratory each semester. The freshman and sophomore years include study of Air Force customs and courtesies, drill and ceremonies, and military commands. Leadership Laboratory also studies the environment of an Air Force officer and areas of opportunity available to commissioned officers. The junior and senior years consist of activities classified as leadership and management experiences. They involve planning and directing activities of the cadet corps by applying the AFROTC Training Manual and lessons learned in the other AERO courses. Leadership Laboratory also includes interviews, guidance, and information that increase the understanding, motivation, and performance of

Cooperative Program in Military Science Army ROTC

Two-, three- and four-year programs are available to Oklahoma City University students through a cooperative agreement between Oklahoma City University and the University of Central Oklahoma (UCO). This allows students to commute to UCO and attend Army ROTC classes while continuing to pursue their degrees at Oklahoma City University.

Through the Army ROTC Program, the Department of Military Science offers two programs to qualified male and female students leading to a commission as a second lieutenant in the U.S. Army, the Army Reserves, or the Army National Guard.

The Four-Year Program

The four-year program consists of a basic course and an advanced course. The basic course (MS I and II) is normally taken in the freshman and sophomore years. This instruction introduces the student to national defenses, mission, and organization of the U.S. Army, role of the Army officer, leadership, military courtesy and customs, marksmanship, mountaineering, survival, and map reading. Classes meet two hours per week. Wearing a uniform and attending leadership lab is optional. Basic course students are under no military obligation.

The advanced course (MS III and IV) is normally taken during a student's junior and senior years. For admission to the advanced course as an ROTC cadet, a student must have completed or received placement credits for the basic course and signed a contract. Advanced course contracting is selective and based on specific criteria, including leadership potential.

Instruction includes leadership development, group dynamics, management tactics, and administration. Classes meet three hours a week. The advanced course includes a threehour biweekly leadership lab period, physical conditioning classes, and a five-week ROTC Advanced Camp. Contracted students receive a monthly stipend (freshmen, $300; sophomores, $350; juniors, $450; seniors, $500) during the school year. Contracted cadets agree to accept a commission as a second lieutenant, if offered, upon advanced course and degree completion to fulfill an initial obligation in either the active Army, Army National Guard, or Army Reserve.

The Two-Year Program

The two-year program involves only the advanced course as described above. Students may qualify for the two-year program by attending a five-week ROTC basic camp or by being granted credit for prior military service or high school junior ROTC. Eligible graduate students may participate in the two-year program.

General

- 1. Oklahoma City University students who enroll in any of the four military science courses will receive academic credit which will satisfy elective hours required for Oklahoma City University degree completion.
- 2. Enrollment in basic course classes will not incur a military obligation.
- 3. Students taking the UCO military science courses will pay the current tuition and fee rates required by UCO.
- 4. Grades and credits for the completion of ROTC courses will be transferred to the student's permanent record at Oklahoma City University.
- 5. Oklahoma City University students will also have an equal opportunity to compete for two- and three-year ROTC scholarships, which will pay tuition and laboratory fees for both Oklahoma City University and UCO courses as well as provide $600 per semester toward the cost of books. Scholarship students also receive monthly subsistence pay (freshmen, $300; sophomores, $350; juniors, $450; seniors, $500) for the duration of the scholarship.
- 6. Those students interested in participating in ROTC while belonging to a Reserve or National Guard unit may do so under the Simultaneous Membership Program.

For additional information, call the military science department at the University of Central Oklahoma, (405) 974-5167, (405) 974-5166, or (405) 205-8807.

GENERAL EDUCATION CURRICULUM

VISION, GOALS, AND OBJECTIVES

GENERAL EDUCATION REQUIREMENTS FOR ALL UNDERGRADUATE MAJORS

VISION, GOALS, AND OBJECTIVES

The Vision of General Education: At Oklahoma City University, we believe that the liberal arts form the basis for learning and thinking in undergraduate students. We believe that general education should not only provide knowledge and skills, but also promote personal values and communal development. We believe that general education should be multidimensional, cumulative, and integrated throughout the university through all disciplines and at all levels.

The Goals of General Education

- Provide a broad base of knowledge for critical and creative thinking
- Promote lifelong learning in all its various modes
- Cultivate ethical conviction, commitment to service, and spiritual growth

The Objectives of General Education

- Communicate effectively and ethically in spoken and written English to multiple audiences in a variety of settings
- Understand and employ basic concepts in mathematics and the natural and social sciences
- Understand the history and politics of the United States
- Develop competence in a foreign language and deepen understanding of a culture other than one's own
- Demonstrate the ability to use information technology
- Broaden and deepen critical appreciation of literature and the arts
- Build habits supporting healthy and ecologically responsible lifestyles
- Develop humane values, ethical behavior, participation in service, and an awareness of the spiritual and religious dimension of life

GENERAL EDUCATION REQUIREMENTS FOR ALL UNDERGRADUATE MAJORS

The basic general education curriculum is a requirement for all undergraduate degrees at Oklahoma City University. Particular programs and majors may add appropriate general education requirements or require specific courses from the approved curriculum.

Updated lists of courses approved by the General Education Committee and the associate provost are available on the university Web site.

PETREE COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES

Terry R. Conley, Interim Dean Richard Johnson, Interim Assistant Dean

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE BACHELOR OF ARTS AND BACHELOR OF FINE ARTS DEGREES

General Requirements

- 1. A candidate must have completed a minimum of 124 semester hours with a GPA of 2.00 (C) or better. (A student wishing to receive both the B.A. and the B.F.A. or B.S. degrees must complete a minimum of 154 semester hours.)
- 2. The student also must have completed a major with at least a C average.
- 3. The last 15 hours, including the last 6 in the major, must be completed in residence at Oklahoma City University. A minimum of 40 hours must be completed at Oklahoma City University.
- 4. Students in the Petree College of Arts and Sciences are required to be evaluated on the traditional grading system for all general education courses and on all courses taken in their majors. A maximum of 12 credit hours of elective courses may be taken on the credit/no-credit grading system.
- 5. Undergraduate degree programs at Oklahoma City University can include no more than 6 hours of credit from KES courses at the 1000, 1100, and 1200 level. No more than 2 of these 6 credit hours in an undergraduate degree program may be earned from junior varsity and varsity sports combined.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE BACHELOR OF SCIENCE DEGREE

General Requirements

- 1. A candidate must have completed a minimum of 124 semester hours with a GPA of 2.00 (C) or better. (A student wishing to receive both the B.S. and the B.F.A. or B.A. degrees must complete a minimum of 154 semester hours credit.)
- 2. The student also must have completed a major with at least a "C" average.
- 3. The last 15 hours, including the last 6 of the major, must be completed in residence at Oklahoma City University. A minimum of 40 hours must be completed at Oklahoma City University.
- 4. Students in the Petree College of Arts and Sciences are required to be evaluated on the traditional grading system for all general education courses and all courses taken in their majors. A maximum of 12 credit hours of elective courses may be taken on the credit/no-credit grading system.

General Education Requirements for All Undergraduate Majors

The basic general education curriculum is a requirement for all undergraduate degrees at Oklahoma City University. See the General Education section of this catalog for specific courses and requirements. Updated lists of courses approved by the General Education Committee and the associate provost are available on the university Web site.

In addition to the university's general education curriculum, Petree College of Arts and Sciences B.A. and B.F.A. degrees require completion of Intermediate II level of a foreign language. The B.S. degrees require 6 hours of a single college-level foreign language.

OTHER PROGRAMS

Prior Learning + University Studies (PLUS) Leo Werneke, Director

Bachelor of Arts in Liberal Studies Bachelor of Science in Professional Studies

The Petree College of Arts and Sciences offers through the Prior Learning + University Studies program an alternate way to achieve a B.A. or B.S. degree. This program is designed to meet the needs and busy schedules of selfdirected and motivated adults who are working full-time. The best candidate for this nontraditional format is an adult over age twenty-two, who has completed approximately 30 to 60 credit hours or more from regionally accredited institutions and who has a minimum of three years' work experience. Prospective students will be evaluated on an individual basis for transfer of credit hours prior to admission so that both the institution and the applicant agree that this is the appropriate program for the applicant.

While in every sense as rigorous as the traditional B.A. or B.S. degree programs, PLUS differs from the traditional degree structure in the following ways:

- 1. PLUS allows, where applicable, the use of nontraditional course study or other advanced standing credits to fulfill degree requirements.
- 2. PLUS allows the adult learner to develop an academic portfolio to document college-level knowledge and skills acquired from work, life experiences, and training outside of the college classroom.

PLUS requires a high degree of self-direction and selfdiscipline on the part of the student. While the faculty and staff advise and assist the student, the student is responsible for academic success within the program. The policies for PLUS are presented in the PLUS Student Guide. The student is responsible for knowing the processes and procedures as stated in the PLUS Student Guide and this catalog.

For additional information contact Prior Learning + University Studies Oklahoma City University 2501 North Blackwelder Oklahoma City, OK 73106-1493 (405) 208-5265 www.okcu.edu/plus

Independent Study Opportunities

Several kinds of opportunities for independent study and the earning of credit in nontraditional ways are available at Oklahoma City University. Students with appropriate academic maturity are encouraged to take advantage of these.

Most departments within the college provide directed reading and independent study options for 1 to 6 credit hours toward the major. Some departments also offer practicum and internship opportunities. These courses offer students the chance to extend their learning outside the boundaries of the classroom and expand it beyond the traditional curriculum. All these types of courses are established through individual learning contracts created between the student, his or her instructor, and the department chair. The contract must be on file in the Office of the Dean prior to registration in the course. These courses are designed primarily for majors in the department and are normally offered only at the junior and senior levels. Students should consult their department chairs for specific opportunities in their majors.

Art Degrees

The Oklahoma City University art degrees provide strong foundational knowledge in a variety of art forms and media and prepare career-minded students for professional work. Aspects of graphic design, fine art, and photography are closely related, and many skills and media can be applied to all three. Our students acquire a range of knowledge and skills that are useful in many artistic endeavors.

Graduates

The art department is proud to have a high percentage of graduates who are active in all areas of the art world. Alumni are working from the East Coast to the West Coast as well as in Europe and Asia.

Norick Art Center

The Norick Art Center houses the art department. The facility include a twenty-two-station computer lab, photography and sculpture studios, and ceramics studio space. It includes separate studios for advanced students and the Nona Jean Hulsey Gallery. There is an active art club, which sponsors two all-student exhibits in the Nona Jean Hulsey Gallery of the Norick Art Center and maintains an exciting exhibiting program during the academic year.

Experimental Courses

As part of a private, liberal arts university with small classes, the art department has flexibility to offer experimental elective classes not normally offered in arts programs. These classes can include technological advances and changes in methods and materials or new related media.

Internships

Besides regularly scheduled classes, the art department offers internships in a variety of art-related subjects. Also available are independent study, special problems, and advanced studio classes on an individual studio basis. All graduating studio art, graphic design, and photography majors participate in a capstone exhibition during their last semester at Oklahoma City University.

Scholarships and Portfolios

Scholarships for art majors are available from a variety of sources including the Norick Family Scholarships in Art. These are awarded based on portfolio review, latest high school GPA, and ACT scores and, if possible, a personal interview.

Portfolios may be mailed to the Norick Art Center or brought to campus during one of several annual portfolio review days (preferably the annual juried High School Print and Drawing Competition). Original art is preferred; however, slides or Macintosh-friendly digital versions are acceptable. The annual portfolio days at the Norick Art Center are in mid November (the weekend of the annual High School Print and Drawing Competition), early February, April, and June. Contact the Norick Art Center for specific dates.

Students who enjoy the visual arts and are serious careerminded individuals will find Oklahoma City University has much to offer to help them find and achieve their goals in an environment that is both informal and challenging. In addition to the Petree College of Arts and Sciences policy on transfer credit, the art department requires a conference with a department's advisor and may require a portfolio review of student work prior to acceptance. Contact the art department for further information.

BIOLOGY

Chair: Buchanan

Faculty: Barber, Branch, Buchanan, Conley, Gaudin, Skinner-Noble

Biology (B.S.) Cell and Molecular Biology (B.S.) Biomedical Sciences (B.S.)

The Department of Biology offers three distinct majors and degree options to assist students in achieving their career and personal goals. Satisfactory completion of courses in the major and general education course work, plus additional electives to total at least 124 credit hours, are required to graduate with a Bachelor of Science degree. In addition to course work in biology, all students who major in the Department of Biology must complete additional specified chemistry and physics courses. The department offers a traditional biology major, a cell and molecular biology major, and a major in biomedical science. In addition, in collaboration with the Meinders School of Business, biology students have the opportunity to earn a minor in business. Students who complete a minor in business may complete a Master of Business Administration (M.B.A.) degree with as little as one additional year of study after earning their B.S. degree.

Each of the three B.S. degree programs offered in biology provide a broad liberal arts background as well as thorough training in biological sciences. A biology degree provides education and training for individuals who will work in careers such as biology education, research, health-related fields, forestry, medical institutions, animal care, wildlife management, naturalist positions, outdoor education, and many more. The Department of Biology recognizes the value and contributions of the sciences in the modern world and continually strives to provide programs of study that will enhance a student's future life, whether he or she plans to pursue further graduate or professional studies or to enter the job market immediately following graduation.

General Education Curriculum NOTE: Due to the fact that biology majors take many courses with labs, the lab science requirement is met by any of those required courses.

B.S. Biology

Our traditional major, this program offers a thorough grounding in the biological sciences. Students must earn 40 credit hours in biology, including 19 credit hours of core courses plus 21 credit hours of upper-division (3000- and 4000-level) biology courses. An additional 17 credit hours of chemistry and physics courses are required. Because of its flexible design, this major prepares students for a variety of career paths, including medical studies, graduate studies, and secondary science teaching.

B.S. Cell and Molecular Biology

Our most specialized and rigorous major, students must earn 40 credit hours in biology, including 26 credit hours of core courses and 14 credit hours of biology electives. In addition, 26 credit hours of chemistry and physics courses are required. This major prepares students to pursue careers in medicine and is ideally suited for students who intend to pursue graduate studies in fields such as genetics, cell biology, and molecular biology.

B.S. Biomedical Science

Our human-centered major, this program of study provides a solid foundation in biology, chemistry, and physics course work to help prepare students for many careers in allied health. Like our other majors, 40 credit hours of biology courses must be completed. This includes 24 credit hours of core courses, plus 16 credit hours of biology electives. An additional 17 credit hours of chemistry and physics is required.

4 + 1 = 6 Program (BMED + MBA)

Along with a major in biomedical science, many students will want to develop their skills and knowledge in business to prepare them for careers that combine science and entrepreneurship. The Meinders School of Business offers a minor in business that allows students to develop a solid foundation in economics, accounting, and management. The courses in the minor also fulfill the prerequisites to enter the M.B.A. program offered in the School of Business and allow students to complete this degree in as little as one additional year of study.

CHEMISTRY

Chair: Nail

Faculty: Engebretson

The Department of Chemistry offers Bachelor of Science degree programs in chemistry and biochemistry and a minor program in chemistry. The minor is strongly suggested for students of other majors who are interested in the medical professions.

The B.S. in chemistry program is designed to provide a strong foundation for professional employment as well as for graduate studies in science and in medicine. The B.S. in biochemistry provides an excellent background in chemistry, biology, and biochemistry.

Oklahoma City University chemistry and biochemistry graduates have a long tradition of admissions to medical programs. Others have furthered their studies by earning Ph.D. degrees; Oklahoma City University chemistry and biochemistry graduates have been recruited for admission by prestigious graduate programs throughout the United States. Graduates who elect to enter the work force often can find positions with employers such as the University of Oklahoma Health Science Center, the Oklahoma Medical Research Foundation, and the Oklahoma State Department of Environmental Quality. Additionally, there are a number of smaller companies in the Oklahoma City area that hire chemists. Chemistry and biochemistry graduates often pursue opportunities in nonscientific areas such as business and law; the skills learned by studying the chemical sciences provide an excellent foundation for professions outside of science. Additional information on opportunities for chemists and biochemists can be found on the Internet.

General Education Curriculum NOTE: The laboratory science, mathematics, and capstone requirements of the general education curriculum are met by the chemistry degree major requirements.

COMPUTER SCIENCE

Chair: Goulden Faculty: Hoot, Li, Tice

Departmental Objectives

The Oklahoma City University computer science major gives graduates well-developed programming capabilities, a well-rounded knowledge of computer structures and functioning, extensive hands-on experience with workstations and microcomputer systems, and the benefit of an exceptionally strong foundation in the liberal arts.

The academic strengths of the program are complemented by excellent access to both workstations and microcomputers. Computers currently available include two PC labs (twenty machines each), and a SUN lab (twenty workstations and a server). Additional computer acquisitions are made on a continuing basis to ensure student access to modern computing facilities. Computer science classes are typically small. Classes with a lab section are restricted to a maximum of twenty to ensure each student has individual access to instructors and computers. A unique characteristic of the program is its emphasis on the integrated knowledge of computers and computer systems that professionals need for the continued maintenance of their professional qualifications.

Oklahoma City University offers two Bachelor of Science degree programs in this field: computer science, designed for students who intend to pursue a graduate degree, and computer information systems, designed to graduate computer professionals who will seek immediate employment in business, industry, or government.

Four Plus One

Undergraduate students in computer science at Oklahoma City University are now offered the opportunity to receive their graduate degrees in computer science with only one additional year of course work. These students can follow the computer science track and take Logic, Operating Systems, and Software Engineering while undergraduates. Thus, 9 hours of graduate work will be waived before entering the Master of Science in computer science program at Oklahoma City University.

COMPUTER SCIENCE (B.S.)

The degree in computer science is designed for students who may pursue graduate degrees in the field. The program includes a large number of electives so that the student may create a program suited to his or her particular interests.

COMPUTER INFORMATION SYSTEMS (B.S.)

Major Requirements

The degree in computer information systems was designed for students who wish to pursue a career in computing or information technology immediately following graduation. Like the more traditional program in computer science, the computer information systems degree emphasizes hands-on learning and a solid core of computer science and allows a rich selection of electives so that the student can design a program that is well suited to their interests and career goals.

EDUCATION

Chair: Lawler-Brown Faculty: Farha, Pyeatt, Willner

The majors listed within the Department of Education section of this catalog are early childhood education, elementary education, vocal music education, and instrumental music education. Other certification areas listed in this section require degrees in the discipline plus any other courses required to meet competency requirements in that teaching field. The department offers a noncertification degree in General Studies in Education. The General Studies in Education program may be used to complete American Montessori Society certification.

Teacher Education

The teacher education program has been designed to prepare dedicated teachers to work effectively in diverse educational settings. Teacher preparation includes professional development, as well as a comprehensive knowledge base in the curriculum areas taught. The knowledge base is grounded in historical and contemporary education theory and practices that respect the changing school culture. In addition, the teacher education program is designed to develop leadership skills necessary for collaboration, service, and sustained success throughout the educator's career. The general purpose of the progam is to prepare the student for the teaching profession and to assist all candidates in becoming successful teacher leaders. The major goal of the program is to train educators who have the necessary knowledge, skills, and dispositions combined with a commitment to professional service. To accomplish this purpose, the department has established the following specific goals for students:

- 1. develop a strong knowledge base in subject area content, research, theory, and practice reflecting an understanding of physical, social, mental, and emotional patterns of development and their impact on the learning process;
- 2. develop competence in a variety of teaching methods and techniques to meet the needs of diverse learners;
- 3. create a successful climate for learning by using teaching practices that are sensitive and responsive to student needs:
- 4. become reflective teachers who are competent in their subject matter and methodology and dedicated to ensuring that all students learn;
- 5. describe, analyze, and reflect on authentic school situations and adapt instructional practices to support all students' learning;
- 6. exhibit a commitment to life-long learning.

Competency-Based Program

The passage of HB 1549 called for the implementation of a competency-based model for Oklahoma in teacher preparation. This program is aligned with specialized professional associations of the individual teaching disciplines and the competencies adopted by the state. As a competency-based program, courses are recommended within the major that assure students' knowledge in their teaching fields. The professional education courses have been sequenced to support students' mastery of general teaching competencies as they progress through the course of study. These competencies are documented by students and evaluated by faculty through the use of observations, individual conferences, portfolios, videotapes, examinations, projects, and other relevant supporting materials.

The teacher education program integrates theory and practice in the preparation of teachers. Through early practical experiences in the schools, students are engaged in the processes of teaching and learning as they develop a continuing awareness of children and the system of education. Beginning in their first education course, students observe in local schools. Each practicum observation experience has graduated responsibilities which culminate in student teaching for an entire semester.

Students are exposed to a variety of methods and materials. They learn to apply theory to practice in diverse educational settings. The faculty of the Department of Education strives to give students an accurate picture of public school teaching by placing them in a variety of settings. After completing the course of study, students are prepared to begin their teaching careers.

Admission to the Teacher Education Program

Students preparing for teaching should apply for formal admission to the teacher education program during their first professional education course, Introduction to Teaching (EDUC 2001), taken during their freshman or sophomore year. Prior to admission to the program, students should complete a minimum of 24 semester hours of college credit. Applicants must demonstrate a strong commitment to teaching and meet the following requirements:

- 1. A minimum GPA of 2.50 or above on all course work applied toward the degree prior to the date of making application. This GPA must be maintained throughout the student's enrollment in the program. (Course work from other institutions with the grade of D or F will not be accepted.) Grades of D or F in professional education courses or major requirements are not acceptable. These courses must be retaken.
- 2. Completed admission application.
- 3. Disposition Evaluation (score of 20 or higher)
- 4. 30 completed credit hours
- 5. Passing score on OGET
- 6. Minimum combined 2.5 GPA in English Composition I and English Composition II.
- 7. Documentation of prior experience working with children.
- 8. Completion of EDUC 2001 Introduction to Teaching with a grade of "C" or better.
- 9. Criminal History Disclosure Statement
- 10. Faculty interview
- 11. Teacher Education Council review

Each candidate is evaluated on these criteria. Applications are approved or rejected by the Teacher Education Council. Continued admission to the program is contingent on the criteria being maintained throughout the program. Students who have not been admitted to the teacher education program will be allowed to enroll in Introduction to Teaching, Child Development or Human Development, Psychology and Assessment of Learning, and Students with Exceptionalities. Enrollment will not be permitted in Contemporary Issues and Culture in Education, Elementary Techniques, Curriculum and Methods for Early Childhood, K-12 or Secondary Methods courses, and Student Teaching without admission to the teacher education program.

Planning Programs

Any student seeking teacher certification should plan a program with the teacher education advisor and the advisor in the student's subject area. The licensure/certification requirements outlined for general education, professional education, and specialization fit into the degree requirements of the university. With proper planning, the student can meet the requirements for a teaching license and the requirements for a degree with a major in a chosen field. Students seeking secondary or PK-12 education licensure are advised by the content/subject area advisors to ensure successful completion of degree requirements and are also advised in the education department to monitor teacher licensure requirements. These students should meet with their education advisors before enrollment each semester to check their status toward completion and to verify that their course selection meets teacher licensure requirements.

Students should verify their programs with the education teacher certification officer to meet licensure requirements in the state in which they expect to teach.

Transfer students who plan to seek teacher certification must meet the requirements for admission to teacher education and student teaching.

Students must participate in field experiences prior to taking Student Teaching. These field experiences are structured within the professional education courses and are requirements for successful completion of the courses.

All appropriate methods courses must be taken prior to Student Teaching. Student Teaching and Contemporary Issues and Culture in Education are taken concurrently.

Oklahoma City University offers eleven accredited licensure programs. The requirements for these programs are outlined on the following pages.

Professional Semester (Student Teaching)

During the semester prior to teaching, application should be made for admission to Student Teaching. Approval is dependent upon meeting the following criteria:

- 1. previous admission to teacher education,
- 2. a minimum overall GPA of 2.50. A GPA of 3.00 in both professional education and specialized education (major requirements) with no grade of D or F in those courses,
- 3. recommendation by the student's major department (teaching field),
- 4. disposition rubric completed by content area professor and education professor,
- 5. completion of (or near-completion of) the first 13 hours in professional education,
- 6. completion of (or near-completion of) at least 85 percent of the course work required in the teaching field.

The Teacher Education Council approves or rejects all applications for admission to Student Teaching as well as to teacher education.

Student Teaching is virtually a full-time job for one semester. It cannot be done in a legitimate manner if the student takes more than one other course and is active in extracurricular activities. Careful attention must be devoted to leaving the Student Teaching semester free of other obligations. Students desiring to take more than 13 hours during the Student Teaching semester must petition the Teacher Education Council for permission.

The evaluation of early childhood, elementary, PK-12, and secondary student teachers will be on a letter-grade basis. Final evaluation will be determined by the cooperating teacher and university supervisor.

Recommendation for Licensure/Certification

Three tests for all teacher candidates have been implemented by the Oklahoma Commission for Teacher Preparation as a component of the competency-based certification requirements. The Oklahoma General Education Test (OGET) tests the candidate's general knowledge. The Oklahoma Professional Teaching Examination (OPTE) tests the candidate's competence in pedagogy. The Oklahoma Subject Area Tests (OSAT) tests the candidate's knowledge in each subject area that will be taught.

All candidates must meet Oklahoma City University's general education requirements for foreign language proficiency at the Intermediate II level to be recommended for candidacy.

After successful completion of a degree program, passage of the three state certification examinations, and portfolio assessment, the candidate may apply for a license to teach in Oklahoma after being recommended by the Oklahoma City University Department of Education certification officer.

Residency Committee

During the first year of employment in an Oklahoma stateaccredited school, the licensed teacher will complete a yearlong residency program. This program is designed to support the first-year teacher in the transition from licensed teacher to certified professional. A committee is set up which includes three professional educators: an administrator, a mentor teacher, and a university representative. These three professionals evaluate, coach, and mentor the licensed teacher. Upon successful completion of the first year of teaching, the residency teacher is recommended for Oklahoma teacher certification. When the first-year teacher needs additional support, he or she is recommended for a second year of residency.

Second Major in Education

The Department of Education has approved second majors in The Petree College of Arts and Sciences, supporting both content areas approved for Oklahoma State Certification as well as other majors within the university. This second major supports either a B.A. or B.S. depending on the content area of the first major.

Students majoring in the following secondary academic disciplines—English, social studies, science, speech/drama/ debate, and mathematics—will have a second major in education. PK-12 (art and foreign language) majors also will have a second major in education.

Second Major in Education—Noncertification

Students with a first major in religion/youth ministry, other noncertificate majors, and computer science may declare education as a second major. The professional education component of the teacher education program requires 25 hours of course work. A minimum cumulative GPA of 2.5 must be maintained, with a GPA of 3.0 in both professional education and the major.

EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION

The early childhood program is based on the belief that educators must have a strong theoretical base of understanding in young children's growth, development, and learning processes. The educator must master a variety of instructional strategies and responsive behaviors for working with young children in the educational setting. A developmentally appropriate educational environment is imperative for young children to construct knowledge at various cognitive and experiential levels. The educator is taught to support children in their total developmental process.

ELEMENTARY EDUCATION

In elementary education each candidate is trained to teach in diverse educational settings. The future teacher's preparation includes a knowledge base in professional development as well as a comprehensive knowledge base in the curriculum areas taught in the elementary schools. Each educator is trained to be a reflective and self-evaluative teacher. Classroom organization, planning, and management skills are incorporated throughout the professional and specialized curriculum. Leadership skills in the field of education are encouraged. The core of the program includes current educational strategies in effective teaching techniques and technology.

SECONDARY AND PK-12 LICENSURE/CERTIFICATION

Secondary and PK-12 (pre-kindergarten through grade 12) education is a competency-based licensure option for students majoring in a discipline certified to be taught in the public schools. These majors can add teacher licensure to their degree by gaining admittance to the teacher education program, completing the required courses in professional education as well as a major in the discipline, and successfully passing the three certification examinations for Oklahoma licensure/certification. Oklahoma teacher certification is a competency-based program with competency examinations in general education (Oklahoma General Education Test— OGET), professional education (Oklahoma Professional Teaching examination—OPTE), and the student's discipline or area of study (Oklahoma Subject Area Test-OSAT). In addition, the student's competency is assessed by a portfolio demonstrating knowledge of students, teaching, and learning articulated through the Oklahoma General Competencies for Licensure and Certification adopted by the Oklahoma State Board of Education as required by House Bill 1549.

Teacher education programs are developed in accordance with Oklahoma State laws and therefore are subject to change. Students are advised to consult with their education advisor concerning requirements or any change in requirements that may occur. Grades of D or F in major requirements are not acceptable and must be retaken.

Students in this track may take one methods course with permission of the instructor.

MONTESSORI CERTIFICATION

An undergraduate student who has completed 60 hours and has a cumulative GPA of 3.00 may pursue the Montessori certificate awarded by the American Montessori Society.

Requirements include but are not limited to 20 hours of course work and 6 hours of seminars. A two-semester practicum (onehalf days) is served in an approved Montessori school under an approved supervising teacher. Completion of an undergraduate degree and passing a written exam and an oral exam are necessary for Montessori certification. If the undergraduate degree is pending, associate certificate is awarded.

The Montessori certificate program can fit into the general studies in education. Students may choose Montessori certification for area of specialization with permission from both the Montessori advisor and the director of teacher education.

The Montessori teacher education program at Oklahoma City University is accredited by The Montessori Accreditation Commission for Teacher Education.

ENGLISH

Chair: Keller

Faculty: Bennett, Cyr, Garrett, Hessler, Keegan, Khoddam, McGuire, Phelps, Smokewood, Winn

In courses leading to the major in English, students learn to think critically; to read actively and creatively; to analyze and evaluate print, electronic, and visual texts; to be sensitive to the artistic, moral, and social dimensions of language; to improve writing skills; and to engage in meaningful research. Students also gain knowledge of literary terms and concepts, the major genres, the development of literary movements and periods, influential authors and themes, important critical and theoretical approaches to interpretation, the development of the English language, basic linguistic concepts, and current issues confronting the profession of English.

The English department strives to guide, direct, and teach students in an environment that supports personal and professional growth. To this end, the department has created a major with three tracks: literature, writing, and teacher education. The tracks are designed to prepare students for a variety of professions and endeavors, including public relations, literary publications, law school, business, and many other vocations. Graduate course work in English is available through the literature and writing tracks of the Master of Liberal Arts program.

ENVIRONMENTAL STUDIES

Administered by the Department of Biology

Chair: Buchanan

Faculty: Multidisciplinary Environmental Studies Faculty

Program Description

The environmental studies program was established to provide students in the region with an opportunity to study in this exciting field and to examine and analyze the many complex issues that affect the environment and that, in turn, affect the human and natural history of the region.

The environmental studies program is designed to provide students with the interdisciplinary knowledge and expertise to be effective agents for change in the complex world that characterizes the start of the twenty-first century. Interdisciplinary by nature, the major in environmental studies incorporates course work from biology, chemistry, environmental science, geology, history, political science, and economics. The program includes a foundation in required natural science studies, yet encourages students to pursue areas of interest in diverse fields.

Prospective environmental studies student should reflect on many questions: Are you interested in the natural world? Is the understanding of relationships among organisms and their environment intellectually stimulating? Does this knowledge enrich your life? Are you interested in learning more about ecology and environmental issues? Do you wish to work towards an economically and ecologically sustainable future for mankind and all creatures of the Earth? If you can answer yes to questions such as these, then a major in environmental studies may be for you.

For more information, contact the Department of Biology at environment@okcu.edu or (405) 208-5035.

Program Objectives

Environmental studies students will obtain a thorough education in the following areas of inquiry:

- 1. Interdisciplinary understanding of environmental issues;
- 2. Human and environmental implications of technology and science;
- 3. Potentials and possibilities for living in an environmentally just, equitable, and sustainable world;
- 4. Understanding of physical and biological processes in the environment at a local, regional, and global level;
- 5. Understanding of the ecological relationships connecting the biotic and abiotic components of the ecosphere;
- 6. Cultural and historical relationships between humans
- 7. Environmental aspects of the dynamics of the relationship between human activities and the environment;
- 8. Knowledge of historical and contemporary relationships between politics, economics, and land use;
- 9. Knowledge of sustainability in biological, economic, and political processes, and the relationships to equity in policy development.

ENVIRONMENTAL SCIENCE (B.S.)

Major Requirements Credit Hours: 55(62)

Special attention should be given to the prerequisites for courses and to the semesters in which courses are offered. Careful planning of a course of study in consultation with an academic advisor is required for completing the degree in eight semesters.

Biology Ethics Philosophy Chemistry History Political Science Economics Mathematics Rhetoric Education Modern Language Women's Studies

Recommended Course

GEOG 4283 Biogeography

> (Course offered at University of Oklahoma, Norman campus)

Required General Education Course Work

All undergraduate students must fulfill the general education requirements (see page 60 of this catalog). Environmental studies majors must the following specific general education courses, in addition to all others specified.

BIOF 1003	Science, Technology, and Society:
	Ecological Sustainability
PSYC 2303	Statistics for the Behavioral Sciences or
ECON 2123	Business Statistics
BIOL 1214	Fundamentals of Biology
ECON 2013	Principles of Macroeconomics
PHIL 2163	Environmental Ethics

Recommended Minors

We recommend that all environmental studies majors complete a minor in an area related to their area of specialization or in an unrelated area that is complementary to the major or to the student's professional or personal interests. Minors that are especially appropriate include, but are not limited to, biology, economics, ethics, and political science.

Note on Biology Minor and Area of Concentration

GEOG 4283 Biogeography (Course offered at University of Oklahoma, Norman campus) may be counted towards a Minor in biology or an area of concentration in biology, but may not be applied to both. Students who desire to take course work at another college or university are responsible for any and all tuition and fee payments to those institutions and are responsible for adhering to admissions policies at those institutions, as well as all Oklahoma City University policies governing concurrent enrollment and transfer credit.

The Department of Biology further recommends that the student complete a portion of their course work during the summer months through the Department of Biology field studies program, at the University of Oklahoma Biological Station, or in other similar summer programs.

Study Abroad

It is recommended that all students majoring in environmental studies participate in at least one study abroad program. Through the Office of International Education, Oklahoma City University offers a variety of ways for students to study abroad and receive academic credit, ranging from semester and/or academic year programs (reciprocal exchanges, partnership agreements, affiliated/approved programs) to short-term summer programs and OCU facultyled study trips. Visit the OIE and review the extensive study abroad resource library to choose a program that's best for your academic goals or contact their office via email at oie@okcu.edu

Additional Coursework Required to Satisfy Prerequisites of Preprofessional Tracks

PREMEDICINE

Environmental studies majors who plan to apply to medical school should complete CHEM 3103, CHEM 3141, CHEM 3203, CHEM 3241, PHYS 1503, PHYS 1541, PHYS 1603 and PHYS 1641 (Two semesters of organic chemistry and general physics with laboratories). Some medical programs also require one semester of biochemistry and/or calculus.

PRELAW

Students who intend to apply to law schools after graduation should consult an advisor in the Department of Political Science regarding pre-requisite course work and application procedures.

HISTORY

Chair: McCombs

Faculty: Buss, Clark, Cobb, Hooper

Objectives

The history department has a three-fold objective. First, the department works to provide a major that prepares students for graduate study in history, law, public service, and archival work, while still encouraging a broad perspective and measured judgment appropriate for the graduate entering almost any career. Next, the department provides a minor and a variety of elective courses intended to hone interests and deepen knowledge in particular subject fields as well as enabling the student to synthesize knowledge from other disciplines. Finally, the department presents general education courses to help students better understand themselves, their national heritage, and the world in which they live. Through all of the above, the department hopes that students will also understand how events in the past did and did not happen and, perhaps most importantly, that neither the history of their country nor of the world is a simple morality play.

Features of the History Department

The history department is made up of exceptional faculty members, several of whom have won university awards for teaching. The history faculty has created a variety of programs to meet students' needs, including the Bachelor of Arts in history and the Bachelor of Arts in history/political science. The department proudly sponsors the Sigma Omicron chapter of Phi Alpha Theta, the international history honor society.

Possible Careers for History Majors

HUMANITIES

Advisor: Bennett

Faculty: Humanities faculty

The humanities major is designed for students who desire a broad undergraduate education with some specialization in one or two areas.

Students pursuing the major in humanities must take a minimum of 30 hours and a maximum of 40 hours of course work in humanities in addition to the general education curriculum for the B.A. degree. Any hours in humanities beyond the maximum of 40 must count as electives.

Distribution of the course work must reflect at least one course beyond the general education curriculum requirement from each of the five departments (art, English, mass communications, modern languages, and philosophy) within the division and from the Wimberly School of Religion and the Margaret E. Petree College of Performing Arts. In departments which do not have a general education requirement, such as mass communications, an introductory course will fulfill this requirement.

A minimum of 12 semester hours in humanities course work must be completed in residence at Oklahoma City University.

HUMANITIES (B.A.)

Credit Hours: 30-40 Major Requirements Core Courses:

Art:

ART 1123 Basic Drawing I ART 1223 Basic Design I

Another course may be substituted with approval of the chair. English: any English course beyond the literature required by the general education curriculum

Mass communications:

Introduction to Mass Communications MASC 1113 Another course may be substituted with approval of the chair. Modern languages: one course beyond Intermediate I Philosophy: any 2000-level philosophy course not used to fulfill the general education requirements

Religion: any 2000-level religion course not used to fulfill the general education requirements

Theatre: Consult advisor.

Upper-division course work: 15 hours of additional course work at the 3000 or 4000 level from at least three different departments in any area of humanities.

Capstone Course: An integrated project within one or more of the three areas of speciality reflected by the upper-division course work to be supervised by any faculty member in those areas or a pre-established department-specific capstone or modification of it with permission of the chair of the department.

All course work presented as a requirement for the humanities major must have received a grade of C or higher.

Department Mission

The Department of Kinesiology and Exercise Studies seeks to provide a quality learning environment to prepare students for a variety of careers in areas related to health, fitness, clinical, and corporate settings. We implement the knowledge, skills, and abilities in our students to provide the population a healthier lifestyle and a better way of living while providing outstanding field experiences and service learning opportunities.

Exercise Studies

Exercise studies is a major with a broad application. It prepares students for several careers and educational endeavors, including prephysical therapy, preoccupational therapy, preathletic training, cardiac rehabilitation, personal training, strength and conditioning specialist, fitness and wellness management, sport nutrition, health promotion, and several other related areas including graduate school. The curriculum has been designed to meet the standards set by the National Association of Sport and Physical Education. The curriculum is also based on guidelines for educational preparation for fitness and personal trainer certifications by the American College of Sports Medicine and the National Strength and Conditioning Association. These two organizations offer the most prestigious and complete certification programs in the fitness industry.

Kinesiology Activity Courses

Activity courses offered at Oklahoma City University include Pilates, Yoga, Aerobics, Golf, Fencing, Self Defense I and II, Self Defense for Women, Cardio-Kickboxing, Weight Training, Tennis, Strength and Conditioning, Rock Climbing, Sailing, and Blue Crew.

Undergraduate degree programs at Oklahoma City University may include no more than six hours of credit from activity courses at the 1000, 1100, and 1200 levels (or equivalent for transfer work). No more than two of these six credit hours in an undergraduate degree program may be earned from intercollegiate sports participation.

Physical Education and Coaching, Graduate School, or Prephysical Therapy

Oklahoma City University offers a program that prepares students to pursue secondary alternative teacher certification in physical education. KES faculty are available to advise students on this process. KES faculty can also provide information on the requirements and competencies necessary for applying to graduate or physical therapy school. Requirements for graduate programs vary, and students are urged to consult closely with KES faculty as they develop their professional plans.

A student entering a communications-oriented career must be broadly educated to understand the constantly changing society in which he or she functions professionally and to interpret those changes for readers, viewers, and clients. He or she must also have a high skill level in all forms of communication.

The mass communications department, because of its location in Oklahoma City, is able to offer students a unique program. This program combines a sound liberal arts curriculum with theoretical and practical courses in mass communications. It also provides opportunities to gain experience and college credit by interning at area newspapers, television stations, and advertising and public relations firms.

The mass communications department has as its general objectives the following:

- To work with each student personally in developing an individualized program based on his or her aspirations and previous experience
- To provide a sound theoretical foundation for understanding the principles and practices of the print media, television, public relations, and advertising
- To allow students to build upon that theoretical foundation with practical experience in his or her field of study
- To stimulate an awareness in each student of the rights and ethical responsibilities of those working in the media.

MATHEMATICS

Chair: Rossberg Faculty: Kombe, Trail

Mathematics is the language of science and, with the explosive development of computer applications in every facet of business and industry, it is rapidly becoming the language of society. Throughout history, mathematics has been studied for its beauty as well as for its utility. It has been considered more as a "way of thinking" than as a collection of facts, formulas, and procedures. The nature of mathematics requires the development and use of a variety of analytical skills and approaches to problem solving that impact the student's existence and are highly prized by prospective employers. The study of mathematics prepares a student for life as well as for a career.

The demand for quality students in mathematics is such that excellent opportunities exist for graduate study. Graduates of programs in mathematics have an excellent background for further study and/or employment in the related sciences as well as many areas of business and law. The Society of Actuaries constantly seeks graduates to pursue careers in the insurance field.

The study of a modern language requires understanding and active use of the structure and linguistic patterns of language as a means of communication. Knowledge of a language provides insight into past and present achievements of international culture in the context of business, everyday life, and the arts.

The purpose of Oklahoma City University's modern language program is to introduce students to international cultures and to provide the linguistic and cultural competencies to enrich students' education and expand career options in a multicultural world. B.A. degree programs are available in French, German, and Spanish. A minor is available in Chinese.

The objectives of the modern language department are twofold: to give students practical tools for the worlds of business, government, and the professions, and to give students the broad understanding of other cultures that is an integral part of a liberal arts education.

Students may enroll for Honors credit in language classes and may qualify for membership in the National Collegiate Honor Society, Alpha Mu Gamma. Foreign study scholarships for Alpha Mu Gamma members may be available. Career options are manifold. Fluency in a second language and culture enhances any career—medical, public service, diplomatic/mission, international aid work, teaching, communication, travel, entertainment, business, and the arts.

The program features lecture/lab classes taught by native and near-native speakers. A computer lab features French learning/ review programs. Foreign study is encouraged.

Students may receive credit for AP, IB (level 4), or CLEP. See department chair for details. The last 6 hours of the major must be completed in residence at Oklahoma City University. Recommended electives are 8 hours of another foreign language and Critical Reading and Writing (ENGL 2303), taught by the English department. Other suggested electives are courses in English and Continental literature, History of Philosophy (PHIL 3114-3314), and history or political science courses related to the countries where French is spoken.

Teacher certification candidates must take Foreign Language Methods for Elementary and Secondary Schools (FREN 4313) and meet the professional education requirements.

MOVING IMAGE ARTS

Director: Kiersch

Faculty: Moving Image Arts Faculty

Two Interdisciplinary Degrees: B.A. in Film Studies B.F.A. in Film Production

Program Description

Literacy in visual and aural "texts" has become a necessity in our world, and as technologies develop, individuals' and cultures' reliance on the visual and aural increases. Thus, the moving image arts have become a primary global means for communicating values.

The Moving Image Arts program at Oklahoma City University recognizes the centrality of visual and aural communications and responds to the continual emergence of new technologies by providing interdisciplinary liberal arts curricula focused on both the critical and the physical production studies of moving image content. Students in both degree programs study and create today's dynamic products of artistic and informational communications.

Through required courses, students majoring in either film studies or film production will learn how to create recorded content and understand the effects of recorded content as both a narrative and non-narrative imaginative language of visual and aural art. Beyond the core course work, they will also have extensive elective course choices that will properly prepare and fulfill different professional objectives to enhance each student's specific career direction.

The Moving Image Arts flexible programs of study will

- prepare students for professions in the current industries of the moving image arts or to pursue advanced studies in graduate programs.
- educate students in the history, theories, and concepts of the arts and sciences of the moving image arts as a global art form and their impact on social, economic, and cultural constructions.
- allow students to develop individual talents, skills, and personal creative voices by offering an intensive, handson production education coupled with a broad exposure to the liberal arts as a foundation to successfully engage in art and culture.
- add value to the studies of other majors, especially those in the already established programs of music, theatre, and dance, by providing allied course work to expand their expertise into recorded as well as live performance.

Degree Programs

The Moving Image Arts program offers two undergraduate degrees: a Bachelor of Arts in film studies and a Bachelor of Fine Arts in film production. Both degrees require completion of the same Moving Image Arts core courses in addition to the university general education requirements. However, each degree track additionally requires specific major courses and a number of interdisciplinary electives from a pool of diversified subjects.

As part of its professional emphasis, the department provides an opportunity for practical work in both the classroom and the field. Internships are strongly encouraged.

Admissions

By setting expectations for its students and providing them with an environment of academic and professional excellence, the moving image arts degrees promote student success.

All students wishing to major in film studies or film production must meet certain specific admission requirements in addition to the general university admission requirements. Admission to this program is selective. An interview, résumé, and either a recorded content portfolio or writing sample (depending on degree plan) are required. Decisions are based on the applicant's ability to demonstrate a high level of proficiency, potential, and a unique creative voice.

Proficiency

All moving image arts students are required to successfully complete formal competency measurements to further foster their development as a creative filmmaker and/or scholar: The first, a preliminary measurement, is taken prior to the sophomore year Project One course. All majors are introduced to the production process in a required, handson film production class. The outcome is a collectively produced short class project.

The second (Project One) measurement, taken in the second semester of the sophomore year, is an individually produced short, sync-sound moving image production. The third (Capstone) measurement, in the senior year, is either a comprehensively planned and produced moving image thesis project or an indepth senior seminar with a written thesis requirement in moving image theory/culture.

Failure by any student to demonstrate proficiency in the above mentioned courses will result in that student not being eligible for advanced classes or, in the case of the Capstone, the attainment of the moving image arts degree.

At the discretion of the moving image arts director, students failing to meet minimum requisites may be given one retest or re-evaluation or a 30-day time period in which to resubmit the course project in order to restore their academic standing. In the event a student fails to improve, no further considerations will be extended.

PHILOSOPHY

Chair: Davidson

Faculty: Meyers, Werneke

"Curiosity—that inborn property of man, daughter of ignorance and mother of knowledge—when wonder wakens our minds, has the habit, wherever it sees some extraordinary phenomenon of nature...of asking straightway what it means."

Giambattista Vico, The New Science, Axiom XXXIX

Philosophy is the ongoing process of disciplined reflection on such issues as the ultimate good or purpose of human life; the forms of knowledge and their limits; the different modes of reality and their relationships; the origin and nature of the fundamental social, political, and economic institutions that affect the quality of human life; and the extent to which human life can be understood in purely human terms. These issues confront each of us every day as implicit in the decisions we have to make about our relationships to others and ourselves, decisions about what our vocations will be, and what is required to excel in those vocations, decisions about which public policies are worthy of our support. Since everyone has to confront these decisions, the question is whether or not a person will make his or her decisions in an enlightened, disciplined, and philosophically responsible way.

The formal study of philosophy at Oklahoma City University is designed to train persons to be philosophical. That is, it is designed to train people who are capable of acting most responsibly, because they have the clearest conception of their goals, the most comprehensive understanding of the world in which these goals are to be realized, and the most realistic assessment of the available means toward these goals. To accomplish this end, the philosophy major requires each student to refine his or her ideas in relation and response to the history of philosophical activity (in the form of three 4-credit-hour courses in the History of Philosophy). This is preparation for undertaking an original work in philosophy, the senior thesis. Additional courses are offered in the traditional areas of philosophy (e.g., ethics, political philosophy, philosophy of religion, metaphysics, epistemology, etc.), from which a student selects a minimum of four to complete the 27 credit hours required for the major in philosophy.

The philosophy major at Oklahoma City University provides the necessary foundation for successful graduate study in philosophy as well as for advanced, professional training in law and the ministry. Indeed, philosophy is the ideal major for any student who contemplates a career which places a premium on the ability to think critically, creatively, and systematically.

For students majoring in other disciplines, a minor in philosophy is also available.

Philosophy/Religion

The joint major in philosophy and religion is designed primarily for those students who want to undertake ethical and religious studies within a rigorous philosophical and theological context in preparation either for advanced academic study in philosophy or religion or professional training for the ordained ministry. The core requirements in the History of Philosophy and the History of Christianity are intended to provide students with a systematic grounding in the major philosophical and theological resources of Western philosophy and the Judeo-Christian tradition. Students may then select one of four areas of emphasis (philosophical theology, ethics, religionphilosophy and culture, or biblical studies) as the subject of more concentrated study. The culminating experience for all majors is the writing of a senior thesis. The thesis is a major research paper, an original work in the student's area of emphasis, prepared under close supervision of one or more members of the philosophy department and/or the School of Religion.

POLITICAL SCIENCE

Chair: Johnson

Faculty: Daadaoui, Eberhardt, Magill

Just as the ancient Greeks used the word idiot to refer to one who took no interest in the affairs of the state, we believe that the study of political science is an essential part of the educational process.

Purpose

The purpose of the program is to provide a liberal arts education with an emphasis in the study of political science. The program prepares students for a wide variety of careers as well as for active and discerning roles in the community.

Objectives

- 1. Sensitize students to the issues of power, freedom, order, and authority in societies and on the international scene
- 2. Enable students to become more active and discerning citizens
- 3. Introduce students to the various subfields of the disci-
- 4. Assist in preparing students for graduate school, law school, and postbaccalaureate careers

Special Features/Careers

Student majoring in political science can choose among five degree options, of which four are designed to further specific vocational objectives:

Option 1: B.A., liberal arts emphasis—Designed for the student with broad interests in political science.

Option 2: B.S., preprofessional emphasis—Designed for the student seeking graduate work in political science leading to a career in college teaching or research.

Option 3: B.A., prelaw emphasis—Designed for students intending to go to law school.

Option 4: B.S., public management emphasis—

Designed for students seeking either a position in government or graduate work in urban studies, public administration, or urban planning.

Option 5: B.A., international affairs emphasis—

Designed for students seeking careers with the U.S. foreign service, corporations doing business abroad, or international nongovernmental organizations or for students who wish to teach or conduct research abroad.

The department offers a variety of courses from which all majors choose a "core curriculum" of 9 hours. Depending on the option selected, further specialized courses are taken in political science and related areas. There are options for off-campus study, including internships and the Washington Center as well as other opportunities. Students can work with faculty on a one-to-one basis in independent studies or directed readings and are encouraged to master basic career skills—writing, research methods, problem solving, and analysis. Culminating the major is a required Senior Seminar that includes advanced study incorporating either an experiential or a written research component. Student

PSYCHOLOGY

Chair: Jowaisas

Faculty: Cataldi, Hakam, Preisz

Psychology is the scientific discipline that seeks to describe and explain our thinking, emotions, and behavior. Psychology's intellectual roots are in biology and philosophy, origins reflected in our curriculum. The psychology curriculum is designed to foster skills congruent with the liberal arts tradition of the university: oral and written expression reflecting a critical consideration of the data, issues, and concepts gained in the classroom and through the reading of original sources. The general goal of the curriculum is for students to attain a better understanding of themselves and others, an understanding of the nature of psychological research, and an ability to apply research findings for solutions to theoretical and practical problems in the psychological realm.

The psychology department has several other, less global objectives. We offer courses and a curriculum balanced between theory and application for the following purposes:

- 1. Preparing students for graduate work in psychology and related fields. The B.S. degree provides a core of courses that satisfies the vast majority of graduate school entrance requirements in psychology.
- 2. Satisfying students who wish to work in applied areas with a bachelor's degree. The B.S. degree includes applied courses and allows students latitude to design unique programs suited to special interests.
- 3. Providing nonmajors with sufficient resources to work in nonpsychological fields that require knowledge of human motivation, learning, attitudes, and behavior. Thus, business majors with an interest in management, sales, or advertising, or premedical majors interested in psychological functioning, or biology majors interested in the mechanisms of learning may pursue their interests with a minor in psychology.

The psychology curriculum prepares graduates for advanced study in psychology, law, social work, medicine, research, and teaching and for work in human services and related fields such as human resources management in business settings.

The Oklahoma City University chapter of Psi Chi, the national psychology honor organization, and the Psychology Club, a local organization informally affiliated with Psi Chi, offer students opportunities for socializing and learning about the discipline in an informal setting.

RESEARCH AND DATA ANALYSIS

Administration: Dean, Petree College of Arts and Sciences Departments: Economics, Finance, Marketing, Mathematics, Psychology

Program Description

The research and data analysis program combines courses from several disciplines to create a focused, intensive program that prepares students for careers or additional studies in public health, economics, institutional and market research, mathematics, statistics, and other fields that require skills in applied mathematics and statistics, critical analysis of data, and synthesis of information and numerical data. All of the concentrations in the program require a common set of courses that provide students with the fundamentals of mathematical and analytical skills, as well as a foundation in basic research methodology in several disciplines. Each of the concentrations then builds on this core to provide students with more specific preparation in particular disciplines that incorporate a strong data analysis component, such as applied mathematics, economics, social sciences, and biomedical sciences.

The research and data analysis program was designed with input from faculty in business, math, psychology, and biology. There is marketplace demand for program graduates in fields and occupations including but not limited to social sciences, business, biomedical sciences, actuarial science, educational institutions, and state and local government.

Major Requirements Credit Hours: 45 Required Course Work in the Science Major

- 1. A minimum of 42 credit hours in science and mathematics course work is required to complete the major. Remedial and nonmajors' courses may not be counted towards the major.
- 2. The student must achieve a concentration in one discipline (biology, chemistry, mathematics, or physic) by completing a minimum of 24 credit hours in that discipline. Of this total, at least 18 credit hours must be above the 1000-level and must include the senior capstone course in the discipline.
- 3. In addition to the courses in the discipline of concentration, the student must complete a minimum of 6 credit hours from each of the other three disciplines.

Required Ancillary Course Work in the Science Major

1. The student must satisfactorily complete (minimum grade C-) an upper-division (3000- or 4000-level) course in technical writing. Currently, this requirement can be met by ENGL 3223 Technical and Business Writing. Any course substitution must be approved in writing by the faculty advisor and the science degree assessment coordinator.

General Requirements for the Science Major

- 1. The student must complete all of the program objectives and assessment requirements, including completion of the student portfolio and completion of the Educational Testing Service Major Field Test in the discipline of concentration in place when the student matriculates at Oklahoma City University. A complete listing of requirements is available from the faculty advisor or the science degree assessment coordinator.
- 2. The courses that constitute the major and the discipline of concentration are to be specified in writing by the student and his or her faculty advisor and are subject to the approval of the science degree assessment coordinator.
- 3. A minimum 2.00 GPA is required in the major at graduation, and no course in which a grade below C- was earned may be counted towards the major.
- 4. A minimum of 12 credit hours of the course work in the major, including the senior capstone, plus at least one other 3000- or 4000-level course in the concentration, must be completed in residence at Oklahoma City University.

SOCIOLOGY AND JUSTICE STUDIES

Chair: Horn

Faculty: Cowgill, Kurtz

Founded in the late 1960s, the Department of Sociology and Justice Studies has been producing top-quality students for over forty years. The department offers Bachelor of Science and Bachelor of Arts degrees in sociology and justice studies. Graduates have gone on to work in research facilities, as professors, in nonprofit agencies, in law enforcement and sociology agencies. Students are required to complete an in-service learning component and internship. It has been our experience that these courses are instrumental in a student deciding on a particular career path. Moreover, many students are offered full-time employment after these experiences.

All full-time professors hold terminal degrees and have experience in the field from correctional service officers to probation and parole officers to nonprofit employees working with terminally ill children to a trial consultant. The faculty provides a solid base for critical thinking, reading, and writing in a curriculum infused with intellectual, spiritual, and moral development.

Courses

The required courses are offered on a two-year rotation. Students are responsible for taking the required courses when they are offered. Students who are having difficulties with course scheduling should consult their advisors.

Transfer Credit

Fifty percent of all justice studies and sociology courses must be taken at Oklahoma City University.

Attendance

Classes are conducted on the assumption that regular attendance is essential to satisfactory progress. The student is responsible for meeting course requirements, regardless of the causes of absences. A student unable to attend classes should confer in advance with the professors involved. Failure to attend classes may result in the loss of credit, exclusion from the final examinations, or both.

(Students must check with the department for additional information concerning departmental policies and procedures.)

Sociology

The mission of the sociology program is to prepare students to work in a diverse field with sociological understanding of human behavior. Each student's unique potential is nurtured through faculty mentoring.

Sociology at Oklahoma City University introduces students to sociological concepts that enable them to become scholars who are more productive citizens and workers. The sociology major provides a solid liberal arts education that prepares students for graduate school or a variety of career paths (e.g., social services, criminal justice, education, or government). The sociology department offers students the opportunity to take classes in two areas of concentration, Sociology of Culture and Gender and Family.

Justice Studies

The mission of the justice studies program is to analyze issues of justice and injustices within the societal contexts of human behavior in complex societies. Using interdisciplinary perspectives, students examine critically the manifestation of this behavior through a criminology or a peace and conflict perspective. Students are expected to develop an ethical awareness and the aptitude to decisively research a broad base of knowledge on issues of justice, crime, and the law. Students are expected to declare either a criminology or a peace and conflict concentration. Some students may want to take both concentrations.

The mission of the criminology concentration is to offer a curriculum that helps students understand the social nature of crime so as to develop rationale policies. In addition to studying courts, corrections, and law enforcement, students are expected to examine the law as a social product affected by cultural values, race, gender, class, or sexuality orientation. They are expected to critically examine and assess the consequences of criminal behavior through the victim's and community's lenses, as well through those of the offender and the judicial system.

The mission of the peace and conflict concentration is to teach students to analyze conflict, design peacebuilding strategies, and work toward societal transformation. Students are expected to critically examine harmed relationships from multiple perspectives with ethical awareness. They are also expected to construct social justice advocacy projects based on human rights and human needs theories.

INTERDISCIPLINARY MINORS

AMERICAN STUDIES

This minor provides a broad-based study of American culture, politics, history, and political institutions. From these courses, the student can better understand American values, why Americans believe what they believe, and what it has meant to be American over the last 150 years or so. The mix of disciplines guarantees a variety of perspectives and approaches and should enrich a student's understanding of American life and thought.

Dr. Jeri Jones, Assistant Dean

A BROAD VIEW OF MANAGEMENT

The Meinders School of Business is committed to providing quality business education at the undergraduate and graduate levels. Curricula are designed to provide students with a broad-based view of management: a view that emphasizes ethics, entrepreneurship, and social responsibility in the workplace; a view of management that will enable students to work effectively in the challenging global business environment. Course work features practice as well as theory and helps to provide students with the management skills necessary for effective leadership. Theoretical foundations are balanced by practical applications.

AN EDUCATIONAL ENVIRONMENT THAT SERVES THE STUDENT

The Meinders School offers students a wide variety of learning opportunities outside of the classroom. These enrichment activities provide valuable insight into the business world and augment traditional classroom study. These learning opportunities, such as industry visits, internships, and career coaching, focus on helping students develop strategies to reach their personal career goals. Through a series of professional development workshops conducted each semester, students also begin preparing for their careers after college. Among the topics covered are résumé writing, interviewing techniques, business etiquette, and communication skills.

OUTSTANDING FACILITIES

The business school is located in the Meinders School of Business building, a $20 million facility completed in 2003. The three-story, eighty thousand square-foot building includes features that focus on student success and add value to students' academic experiences. The facility includes classrooms with state-of-the-art technology, breakout study rooms for small groups, a learning center, student/faculty lounge, and a resource center. The building houses faculty offices, the Love's entrepreneurship Center, as well as a 230-seat tiered auditorium capable of hosting videoconferences, guest speakers, and seminars.

LOVE'S ENTREPRENEURSHIP CENTER

The Love's Entrepreneurship Center at Oklahoma City University is one of the state's most valuable business development resources. The Love's Center is solely focused on helping to strengthen the state's economy one business at a time by helping individuals and existing entities with the development of new possibilities. The process includes strategic planning, business plan development, accessing capital, and growth management. To learn more about the center, see: www.okcu.edu/loves or call (405) 208-5589.

STEVEN C. AGEE ECONOMIC RESEARCH AND POLICY INSTITUTE

Steven C. Agee Economic Research and Policy Institute is focused on assisting the Oklahoma City business community by disseminating information to businesses, government, and regulatory agencies through economic impact studies, marketing and macroeconomic survey data, the Meinders Consumer Confidence Poll, and other forms of economic research. The institute oversees eight consumer confidence surveys conducted in concert with the Federal Reserve Bank meetings as well as other research and polling for businesses, organizations, and agencies. The institute is designed to provide undergraduate and MBA students opportunities to be directly involved in applied economic research through the Institute Scholars Program. To learn more about the institute, see www.okcu.edu/business or contact Dr. Steven C. Agee at sagee@okcu.edu.

ACADEMIC POLICIES

Transfer Student/Credits

The academic dean and the student's advisor evaluate and approve graduate and undergraduate courses to be transferred from other regionally accredited colleges and universities. All courses accepted from other institutions must encompass the equivalent breadth and depth of courses offered in the school.

An Oklahoma City University student wishing to enroll simultaneously at another institution must file a petition and obtain prior written approval of the academic dean.

Grading

Students enrolled in the Meinders School will be evaluated in all courses using the university grading system described in this catalog. The school does not use the credit/no-credit system.

Attendance Policy

Students are expected to attend classes and arrive no later than the designated starting time for all classes. Absenteeism and tardiness may lead to a grade reduction at the professor's discretion.

Academic Probation and Suspension Policy

Students will be placed on probation according to the policy described in the Academic Regulations section of this catalog.

Academic Appeal Process

A student may appeal decisions affecting his or her academic progress as follows:

- 1. The student initiates an appeal by filing a written petition with the school's academic dean.
- 2. The academic dean reviews the petition and determines if a meeting with the student petitioner is necessary.
- 3. The student petitioner will be informed in writing of the decision on the merits of his or her petition.
- 4. If the student does not agree with the decision, he or she may continue the appeal process with the associate provost.

Student's Responsibility for Degree Program

Each student enrolled in the school is responsible for being aware of and meeting all the requirements of the degree program. Each student should maintain a personal record of his or her progress toward the degree.

Whenever an exception to the planned program of study is deemed necessary, such exception, having been made in consultation with a faculty advisor, must be documented for the official record and approved in writing by the dean of the school.

All requests for independent study, arranged courses, course substitutions, course waivers, concurrent enrollment, course transfer, or semester hour loads in excess of 18 credit hours (exclusive of physical activity courses) must be approved in writing by the dean.

DEGREE PROGRAMS

The Meinders School of Business offers the degrees of Bachelor of Science in Business (B.S.B.), Master of Business Administration (M.B.A.) and the Master of Science in Accounting (M.S.A.).

B.S.B. Degree Requirements

1. General Requirements

- A. A candidate must have completed a minimum of 124 credit hours with a GPA of 2.00 or better.
- B. The student also must have completed a major with a GPA of 2.00 or better.
- C. The last 15 hours, including the last 6 hours of the major, must be completed in residence at Oklahoma City University. A minimum of 40 hours must be completed at Oklahoma City University.

2. Course Requirements

The student program is composed of courses classified in four groups:

A. General education curriculum 43 credit hours B. Basic business courses 61 credit hours C. Area of specialization or major requirement 15-27 credit hours D. Electives 0-8 credit hours

Although a student, with the help of an advisor, has a choice of courses under these four main classifications. certain essential courses must be included. The four broad classifications permit maximum freedom in choosing courses to fit a student's individual needs while ensuring that each student receives a balanced preparation for business and life.

General Education Requirements for All Undergraduate Majors

The basic general education curriculum is a requirement for all undergraduate degrees at Oklahoma City University. See the General Education Curriculum section of this catalog for the general education requirements. Updated lists of courses approved by the General Education Committee and the associate provost are available on the university Web site.

ACCOUNTING

Chair: Rodgers

Faculty: Austin, Stetson, Thompson, Ward, Weber

Program Description

The courses in accounting provide students with a broad knowledge of generally accepted accounting principles, cost accounting practices, not-for-profit and governmental accounting procedures, and tax laws. They are designed to meet the needs of the public accountant, industry accountant, government accountant, and the needs of the ownermanager of a business. The following are typical areas of professional activity that provide opportunities for graduates in accounting: public accounting firms, both national and local; small and large corporations; federal, state, and local governments; and service organizations, such as hospitals, nonprofit agencies, and universities.

ECONOMICS

Chair: May

Faculty: Agee, Alli, Dearmon, Moini, Seals, Shandiz, Willner

Program Description

An economics major offers a student many professional opportunities in business and government. Economic analysis is regularly applied to many different real-world issues. One is not limited with an economics major. The analytical training emphasized is also valuable as preparation for graduate study in business, law, and many other disciplines. Economics provides the basic understanding of much of the business world. Typical employment after graduation is in insurance, securities, and banking industries. Other areas of employment where analytic skills are a priority are also common employment opportunities.

Math, as a second field, is necessary for a graduate degree in economics and highly recommended for graduate study in finance. For those planning to attend law school, economics is one of the most useful majors. See an economics or finance faculty member for more information.

FINANCE

Chair: May

Faculty: Ma, Quintero, Shafa, Shaw

Program Description

Knowledge and understanding of financial organization and structure have a very real place in our economic system. Professional training in financial principles, practices, and promotion; operation and contribution of community and securities markets; investment and risk concepts; short-term and long-term financing for the firm; and expansion, consolidation, and merger of enterprises all prepare the student for work in a finance department or to work as a specialist in the areas of budget, investment, or credit and financial control. Professional opportunities will be found in banks, savings and loan associations, investment firms, brokerage houses, or financial planning in the public sector.

INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY

Chair: Rodgers

Faculty: Carlton, Greve, Khader

Program Description

Knowledge of the computer has become increasingly important to the business student, as business firms are using computers in creative and innovative ways. There are many career opportunities for the student in the field ranging from programmers using various languages to managers of sophisticated information systems. Those who are primarily interested in programming will concentrate on the object-oriented programming language courses which are taught in the computer science department. Information technology deals with the interaction between the business executives, who are the users of the information, and the operators, who program the computer. All courses in the information technology concentration stress global applications.

MARKETING

Faculty: Brown, Howard, Smith

Program Description

Marketing is a system of business activities that begins with an interpretation of the wants and needs of consumers, follows through with all activities involved in the flow of goods and services from producers to consumers, and ends with those services necessary to aid the consumer in getting the expected usefulness from the product or service purchased.

A marketing graduate could find professional opportunities in areas of sales promotion, advertising, distributing, retailing, and sales management.

NOT-FOR-PROFIT MANAGEMENT AND LEADERSHIP

Chair: Jones

Faculty: Crandall, Frew

MSB designed its B.S.B. in not-for-profit management and leadership program in response to the needs faced by the not-for-profit sector today. Not only is the growth of not-for-profit organizations increasing significantly so is their economic impact. Not-for-profit organizations exhibit numerous unique challenges for their management. Leaders of not-for-profit organizations know their organizations differ in accounting, law, board governance and personnel staffing. They are mission driven and serve multiple stakeholders. This program is focuses on helping present and future leaders of the not-for-profit sector gain solid analytical and problem solving skills unique to not-forprofit organizations.

DANCE PEDAGOGY

ENTERTAINMENT BUSINESS

ANN LACY SCHOOL OF AMERICAN DANCE AND ARTS MANAGEMENT

John Bedford, Dean Melanie Shelley, Associate Dean

The Ann Lacy School of American Dance and Arts Management provides professional, career-oriented programs for students interested in working in the American entertainment and performing arts industries as dancers, managers, master dance teachers, or as creative talent with strong business and liberal arts knowledge and skills. The school, which consists of the dance and arts management departments, seeks to produce graduates who are prepared to work in the commercial entertainment or nonprofit performing arts industries.

ACADEMIC POLICIES

Admission Requirements

Applicants to the dance performance, dance management, and American dance pedagogy majors must audition for admission and be accepted. Applicants for admission to the entertainment business major must submit a goals-related essay and résumé and must be interviewed and accepted by the arts management faculty.

Applicants must have ACT scores of 19 or higher or SAT scores of 920 or higher to be eligible to audition for admission to the Ann Lacy School of American Dance and Arts Management as entering freshman dance performance majors. Applicants must have ACT scores of 21 or higher or SAT scores (math plus verbal) of 1000 or higher to be eligible to audition for admission to the school as entering freshman dance management or American dance pedagogy majors or to be interviewed by arts management faculty for admission as entertainment business majors.

To be eligible to audition for admission as a dance performance, dance management, or American dance pedagogy major or to be interviewed by the arts management faculty for admission as an entertainment business major, transfer students with less than 27 completed semester credit hours of academic courses must have qualifying ACT or SAT scores as described above for entering freshmen and a cumulative college GPA of 2.75. Transfer students for all degree programs with over 26 completed semester credit hours of academic courses must have a cumulative college GPA of 3.00.

The undergraduate degrees in the Ann Lacy School of American Dance and Arts Management are intended to be "first degrees." Applicants with undergraduate degrees will not be accepted into the school's undergraduate degree programs. Generally, transfer students expected to have completed more than 60 credit hours by the time they plan to attend Oklahoma City University will not be accepted into the dance performance and dance management degree programs.

Dance Transfer Credits

Transfer credit for modern dance courses may not be applied toward the requirements of the dance performance, dance management, or American dance pedagogy degrees.

Credit/No-credit

Students within the school may not take courses for credit/ no-credit to meet degree requirements.

Attendance

Students are expected to attend classes diligently and regularly in the same way that employees in the entertainment industry are expected to show up for work. Course grades will be lowered one full grade (i.e., A- to B-) for each absence beyond that allowed for the course under the appropriate dance or arts management Standards and Procedures. Three late arrivals or early departures from class will be considered equal to one absence.

Arts Management Course Projects and Papers

Course projects and papers must be turned in before or by the established due time and date deadline. Projects and papers will not be accepted after deadlines. Late projects and papers will receive a grade of F.

School Academic Probation

Students within the school with a semester GPA below 2.00 or with two or more F's in any subject during a semester, will be placed on Ann Lacy School of American Dance and Arts Management academic probation. In order to remain in a major within the school, students on school academic probation must achieve, during the following semester, a semester GPA of 2.75 or higher in an enrollment of at least 15 credit hours approved by the dean, with no grades of D or F.

Students who have been placed on school academic probation who do not meet the above requirements may apply for consideration for readmittance after completing an additional 30 credit hours in academic courses (not applied arts or nonacademic courses) with a GPA of 2.75 and no D's or F's for any semester in which the students were enrolled after leaving the school.

Minimum Grade Requirements for Dance Management, American Dance Pedagogy, and Entertainment Business Majors

For an arts management course (AMGT) or business course to count toward the B.S. in dance management degree, B.S. in American dance pedagogy or B.S. in entertainment business degree, a student must earn a grade of C or higher.

Full-Time Enrollment Required

In order to remain in the Ann Lacy School of American Dance and Arts Management, students must maintain fulltime enrollment (a minimum of 12 credit hours) each semester. Last-semester seniors with less than 12 credit hours of remaining degree requirements may enroll in less than 12 credit hours as long as they enroll in all of their remaining degree requirements offered by the university.

Concurrent Enrollments

Students may not enroll in courses at other colleges or universities during the fall or spring semesters while attending Oklahoma City University.

Employment in the Entertainment Industry and the Start and End of a Semester

Students will not be excused from classes, final exams, project and paper deadlines, dance leveling or juries at the end of a semester in order to begin employment. Students may not return late for the spring semester. Students may receive permission to miss certain classes at the beginning of the academic year in August due to summer employment in the entertainment industry. The process for receiving permission to return late in August is posted on the dance and arts management call boards each year and must be followed carefully.

Policy-Based Program

The Ann Lacy School of American Dance and Arts Management is governed by policy documents which include Dance Standards and Procedures, Entertainment Business Standards and Procedures, Parents' and New Students' Guide to the Oklahoma City University Dance Department, and Parents' and New Students' Guide to the Entertainment Business Program. Students, faculty, and staff within the school are expected to adhere to the policies described in these documents.

Performance Opportunities for Dancers

Dancers may audition for The American Spirit Dance Company, Oklahoma City University Pep Dancers, Spirit of Grace Liturgical Dancers, and opera and musical theater productions presented by Oklahoma City University's Oklahoma Opera and Music Theater Company. They may also find performance opportunities in the popular annual Student Choreography Show.

American Spirit Dance Company members and arts management majors may apply to be considered for The American Spirit Dance Company's special touring company, which travels and performs nationally and internationally. Students' transportation and lodging expenses for tours are paid by The American Spirit Dance Company.

Performance Opportunities for Entertainment Business Majors

Entertainment business majors constitute a multifaceted group with interests in all aspects of the arts and entertainment industry. Performing opportunities include university choirs, university theatre, children's theatre, university band, university orchestra, and Oklahoma Opera and Music Theater Company. There are also a multitude of bands and ensembles formed by students providing opportunities for instrumentalists, vocalists, and songwriters.

Degree Programs

The Ann Lacy School of American Dance and Arts Management offers the degrees of Bachelor of Performing Arts in dance performance (B.P.A.), Bachelor of Science in dance management (B.S.), Bachelor of Science in entertainment business (B.S.), Bachelor of Science in American Dance Pedagogy (B.S.), and the Master of Fine Arts in dance (M.F.A.).

Commitment to Education

The Ann Lacy School of American Dance and Arts Management is committed to developing future leaders in the entertainment industry. We strongly believe that the best leaders will be those who are not only thoroughly trained in performance or arts management, but who are also well educated in the liberal arts. We believe that a solid education will produce greater future opportunities and personal reward for our students. Students are expected to maintain a balanced semester schedule which includes academic as well as performance or arts management classes.

DANCE DEPARTMENT

Chair: Rowan

Faculty: Boday, Jacquemain, Kiesman, Martin, Oplotnik, Rogers, Sandel, Shaw, Stevens, Shelley,

van der Merwe, Wilcox Adjunct Faculty: Cosby, Warford

Mission and Purpose

In 1981, the Oklahoma City University dance department was reconceived and reorganized as a career-oriented program offering students the opportunity to study tap, jazz, and ballet with an emphasis on theatre dance. The program aims to create well-rounded performers, arts managers, and dance teachers. Dance performance majors study voice, drama, music, and technical theatre to become "triple threats," a show business term for the performer who can dance, sing, and act. Dance management majors study arts management and business to prepare for a variety of management jobs in the performing arts. American dance pedagogy majors study business, choreography, and the art of teaching dance to help them become master dance teachers.

The dance program has a double consumer orientation: It strives to meet the needs of career-oriented students who seek education, training, and experience in a professionally oriented program, and it strives to meet the needs of its own and future audiences by teaching students that audiences must always be remembered and entertained. In fact, the dance program is founded on the belief that art and entertainment are not mutually exclusive.

It is also the purpose of the dance program to instill in its students renewed appreciation and respect for the American dance forms. The dances and songs that evolved out of the American experience and traditions communicate to and touch a much larger audience than that which may prefer primarily Western European performing art forms.

Ballet is taught as a common framework and for the mental and physical discipline and training it provides. Even though the dance program offers more ballet training than most traditional ballet/modern programs at other universities, ballet is not a primary feature of the program, and modern is omitted as a result of a conscious effort to avoid duplication of the many outstanding ballet and modern programs taught throughout the region and nation.

The dance program narrows its focus to entertainment and theatre dance and excels in these areas. Indeed, it is the purpose of the dance department to maintain a national reputation as the university to attend if one wants a college degree and a career in musical theater or entertainment dance, dance management, or dance instruction and choreography.

Being a dance major is a privilege granted by the university, not a right. Due to the strenuous nature of dance and the career orientation of the dance program, the university reserves the right to determine the eligibility of any student to continue majoring in dance based on considerations including, but not limited to, health and weight; regular attendance of dance classes; focus and commitment; probable success in attaining the dance degree as determined by the dance faculty's evaluation of the student's technical progress measured by leveling examinations at the end of each semester; and a student's record of class attendance and active participation and growth as an artist and performer as measured by various performance proficiency examinations and academic progress.

Regular class attendance is related to health and safety. A dancer who does not study and train regularly is subject to increased incidents of injury. Weight in dance is both an aesthetic and a health and safety consideration. Excess weight causes misalignment and leveraging of body parts that can lead to injury.

Dance Major

All students wishing to major in dance performance, dance management, or American dance pedagogy or to attend dance classes must audition and be leveled and approved for admission into dance classes or into the dance program by the dance department chair. Students wishing to enter the dance program in the fall semester should audition during the preceding fall or spring. Students wishing to enter the dance program in the spring semester should audition during the preceding fall. Admission auditions are not given during the summer.

Students who are not able to audition in person may audition for admission by submitting a nonreturnable audition recording as described below. Students are strongly encouraged to audition in person.

Students wishing to be considered for a dance performance, dance management, or American dance pedagogy tuition scholarship should plan to audition in person at the dance admission and scholarship auditions held each fall and spring. Students auditioning for a scholarship and admission into the dance program will be judged on personality, college entrance test scores, body structure, weight and appearance, as well as on their technical ability and versatility.

For information about audition dates, contact the dance department by phone at (405) 208-5322 or by e-mail at dance@okcu.edu, or visit our Web site at www.okcu.edu/ dance amgt.

Recorded Audition Requirements

- 1. All recorded auditions must be on standard VHS or DVD format. Other formats will not be viewed.
- 2. Recorded auditions will be used for determining admission to the dance, dance management, and dance peda-

- gogy majors and for class technique levelings. Recorded auditions will not be used for scholarship determination.
- 3. Recorded auditions should show only the dancer who is auditioning and should not be recorded in a performance.
- 4. Auditioning dancers for the dance performance, American dance pedagogy, and dance management majors will be judged on personality and body proportions in addition to technique. Please make sure that these factors are visible. Do not wear black or very dark leotards and tights.
- 5. Recorded auditions should show the following steps in ballet, tap, and jazz.

- 1. Adage placement combinations showing balance and extension
- 2. Pirouettes
- 3. A line of turns of the dancer's choice (i.e. chaines)
- 4. Small jumps
- 5. Large jumps
- 6. Jumps with beats, if possible

- 1. Inside and outside jazz turns
- 2. A jumping combination using different levels (i.e. jumps in the air with floor work between the jumps)
- 3. A short movement combination/dance showing dynamics, energy, aerobic stamina, and the ability to hit poses

Tap

- 1. A series of basic rhythm steps (i.e., flaps or shuffle steps)
- 2. Time steps and a time step break
- 3. Simple to complex riffs
- 4. Steps using pick ups, pull backs or drawbacks, and wings

Audition tapes or DVDs should be sent to

Chair, Dance Department Ann Lacy School of American Dance and Arts Management Oklahoma City University 2501 N. Blackwelder Oklahoma City, OK 73106

Audition tapes or DVDs will not be returned. Please do not send an original recording that you want to keep. The student's name, address, telephone number, height, weight, and desired major should be affixed to the cassette/DVD.

Weight Policy

Since the dance program is oriented toward preparing dancers for professional careers, weight is a very important factor in a student's success, happiness, health, grades, and retention in the dance program. Students seeking admission into the dance program will be evaluated in part on their weight and body structure.

Due to the variety of body types and structures, it is not possible to develop a weight/height table for objectively evaluating dancers. This is a subjective area, and judgments about weight and appearance will be made solely by the dance faculty.

Students who are considered by the dance faculty to be significantly overweight or underweight or who have structural problems will not be admitted as dance majors and may not be permitted to take A and B technique classes. They may take basic movement classes by permission.

Dance majors who do not achieve and maintain acceptable dance weight may be counseled out of the program at any time. Students are encouraged to seek professional assistance in setting up a nutritious weight adjustment and maintenance program. Dancers who are not able to actively participate in dance classes may be counseled out of the program at any time or may be required to drop their dance courses.

The dance department adheres to a uniform grading policy that applies the same grading standards to all students in dance technique courses regardless of academic major, prior dance training, or personal goals.

The weight and appearance standards for professional dancers in the musical theater and entertainment industries, as determined by the dance faculty, apply to all ballet, jazz, and tap courses at the A and B levels. Final course grades for students not meeting these standards, as determined by the course instructors, will be reduced one complete letter grade (e.g. a B- to a C-).

Double Majors

Dance performance and dance management majors may not double major. American dance pedagogy majors may double major in education only. The dance program is extremely demanding and time-consuming due to its professional career orientation. Dance majors are involved in physically rigorous classes and rehearsals, performances, runouts, and tours. These activities take considerable time, energy, and concentration. Fatigue caused by overextension can cause illness, injury, psychological and emotional distress, poor grades, and loss of scholarships.

Minors

Dance performance majors who are interested in minoring in another subject area are strongly encouraged to do so. There are many minors available through other departments on campus. Most minors require 18-21 credit hours of concentrated work in a specified subject area. Information about minors can be obtained from the department in the subject of interest.

Dance performance majors should decide early in their college careers if they wish to pursue a minor and in which subject. This is because they can use the six hours of electives required by the dance degree to satisfy requirements in their minor subject. In this manner, a student can usually obtain a minor with 12-15 credit hours of work beyond the dance performance degree requirements.

American dance pedagogy majors interested in a minor should review requirements with their academic advisor and the school in which they wish to obtain their minor.

Health and Safety

The dean of the Ann Lacy School of American Dance and Arts Management or the chair of the dance department may require a student to take a physical at the student's expense before granting permission for the student to participate in dance classes and activities.

The dean of the Ann Lacy School of American Dance and Arts Management or the chair of the dance department may also suspend a student's participation in dance classes and dance activities out of concern for the health and safety of the student. The dean of the Ann Lacy School of American Dance and Arts Management or the chair of the dance department may require that a student be examined by a physician at the student's expense and be cleared for full participation in dance technique classes and dance activities before the student may resume participation.

Nondance Majors and Dance Technique Classes

Only students in degree programs specifically requiring dance technique courses may enroll in a dance technique course. Dance courses may not be used to meet the general education kinesiology and exercise studies requirement. All students must obtain permission from the dean of the Ann Lacy School of American Dance and Arts Management to enroll in a dance course.

All students must be leveled by the dance faculty before enrolling in dance technique courses. Contact the Dance Office at (405) 208-5322 for information about leveling schedules.

The dance department adheres to a uniform grading policy that applies the same grading standards to all students in dance technique courses regardless of academic major, prior dance training, or personal goals.

The weight and appearance standards for professional dancers in the musical theater and entertainment industries, as determined by the dance faculty, apply to all Ballet, Jazz, and Tap courses at the A and B levels. Final course grades for students not meeting these standards, as determined by the course instructors, will be reduced one whole letter grade (e.g. a B- to a C-).

Senior Performance and Technical Proficiency Exam

Students must apply to the dance program for permission to take the senior performance and technical proficiency exam. A student may be denied permission if the dance faculty determines that the student is unlikely to achieve required graduation levels. A student may be denied permission if achieving the predetermined graduation weight cannot be healthily accomplished within the available remaining time before the scheduled date of the senior performance and technical proficiency exam. A student may be denied permission if the dean of the Ann Lacy School of American Dance and Arts Management or the chair of the dance department believe that participation in the components of the exam jeopardize the student's health and safety. Detailed information about applying for permission to take the senior performance and technical proficiency exam and application procedures are contained in the Dance Standards and Procedures.

Professional appearance, weight as it affects technique, and professional presentation of self will be considered in determining levels and grades in dance technique classes.

In order to be awarded a B.P.A. in dance performance degree, dance performance majors must attain the following minimum competency levels as determined by the dance department leveling jury:

First-Choice Dance Style	Master level 7
Second-Choice Dance Style	Master level 6
Third-Choice Dance Style	Master level 5

In order to attain the required graduation levels, students may need to complete more than the minimum required credit hours in dance technique classes.

Dance performance majors must also successfully complete a senior performance project that includes performance of a solo dance of two to three minutes in length. The dance must be an original work created during the senior year. The senior performance project will be adjudicated as either Satisfactory or Unsatisfactory by the dance faculty on the basis of the quality of performance and choreography. To graduate with the B.P.A. in dance performance degree, a student also must attain at the time of the senior performance and technical proficiency examinations a graduation weight established by the dance department. The graduation weight will be established during the semester of planned graduation or during the semester before planned graduation.

In the event that a student does not succeed in one or more components of the proficiency exam, the following policies apply:

- 1. At the discretion of the dance department chair, within seven days after the first examination, the student may be given a re-examination covering the portion of the examination that he or she previously failed.
- 2. The student will have a maximum of eighteen months to take a second exam(s) of any and all portions of the examination which the student originally failed. During this period, the student may retake the required portion(s) no more than three times (not including the re-examination described in item 1, above).
- 3. The student must retake all failed portions of the examination at the same time.
- 4. The student may not schedule the first retake earlier than ninety days after the original examination.
- 5. The student must apply in writing to the dance department chair to schedule a retake and must indicate what - measures have been taken to prepare for successful completion of the examination.

- 6. In the event that the student fails to successfully complete all parts of the proficiency examination within eighteen months and the three allowed retakes, the B.P.A. in dance performance degree will not be awarded and no additional examinations will be given..

Competency in Dance Technique Ballet/Tap/Jazz

Competency in and knowledge of ballet, tap, and jazz technique will be determined by dance faculty evaluation or leveling examination. The appropriate method of determining competency will selected by the dance faculty. An American Dance Master Teacher Program (ADMTP) level 5 or equivalent skill/knowledge/experience, as determined by the dance faculty and level 4's or equivalent skill/knowledge/experience, as determined by the dance faculty, in the student's second and third choice technique are required for graduation. Students who do not attain the minimum requirements will not be permitted to graduate with the B.S. in American dance pedagogy degree.

Competency in Basic Music Knowledge

American dance pedagogy majors must demonstrate basic music theory knowledge. This competency may be met by successfully completing Music Fundamentals or passing the Music Fundamentals equivalency test.

ARTS MANAGEMENT DEPARTMENT

Chair: Bedford

Faculty: Jacquemain, Risi, Shelley Adjunct Faculty: Cosby, Millsap

The arts management department seeks to prepare students to become managers in the entertainment and performing arts industries or to become performers or creative talent who can better manage or understand the management of their business affairs. Arts management courses are designed to combine theory with the practical. Many courses require extensive projects, which can be used later by students as part of their job search portfolio. Hands-on experiences are provided through the many performance activities and productions presented both on and off campus.

Career-Related	l Academic Electives:	13(15)

Career-related academic electives should be selected in consultation with and approval of the director of entertainment business. The electives provide the student with an opportunity to custom design a track to support his or her specific management interests in the entertainment industry. Because the Ann Lacy School of American Dance and Arts Management offers a B.S. in dance management, the entertainment business program and the careerrelated academic electives may not be used to create a customized dance or dance management track.

WANDA L. BASS SCHOOL OF MUSIC

Mark Edward Parker, Dean Mark Belcik, Associate Dean

The Bass School of Music is renowned for its exceptional training of musicians in the liberal arts tradition. For eighty years its graduates have been in demand as singers, conductors, composers, instrumentalists, educators, critics, and commentators. Bass School of Music alumni include Grammy, Tony, and Emmy award winners. It is the only school in the world to be both an all-Steinway institution and a member of the National Alliance for Music Theater. Over the past decade, students have enrolled from fortyeight states and five continents.

The school's versatile faculty features nationally known performers, composers, and clinicians who excel at teaching. Twelve Oklahoma City University professors play in professional orchestras. Top guest artists give frequent performances and master classes. Students are well schooled in the classics and involved in the creation and exploration of new works.

Oklahoma City University's Oklahoma Opera and Music Theater Company presents eighteen performances of six shows each year. Ensembles, open to all university students by audition, include the Symphony Orchestra, Wind Philharmonic, Ad Astra Women's Chorus, Men's Chorus, Chamber Choir, Percussion Ensemble, Flute Choir, Jazz Ensemble, and Jazz Arts Combo. Project 21, organized by student composers, presents concerts of original works at least five times a year, and singers plan and perform programs for an informal on-campus cabaret. More than two hundred performances, ranging from solo recitals to collaborations involving several ensembles, are staged during the academic year.

Accreditation

The school is a full member of the National Association of Schools of Music. The requirements for entrance and for graduation as set forth in this catalog are in accordance with the published regulations of this association.

FIELDS OF STUDY

Bachelor of Music

Students preparing for a career in the fields of performance, music theater, private teaching, music business, church music, or composition enroll in a four-year degree program. The music education curriculum requires four and onehalf years.

Performance includes piano, organ, voice, guitar, and all of the orchestral instruments. The music education degree is offered in vocal and instrumental education.

Bachelor of Arts

The Bachelor of Arts degree is offered with a major in music. Requirements incorporate core applied music and academic studies with additional course work from the general education studies. Students pursing the B.A. in music degree can customize their elective courses to acquire the prerequisites for medical school, law school, or graduate business school (MBA).

Master of Music

This degree allows advanced study in the fields of opera performance, musical theater, composition, conducting, and performance (instrumental and voice). See the graduate catalog for detailed information.

Preparatory Division

The Performing Arts Academy offers noncredit programs for pre-college students and continuing education for adults in all instruments and voice, early childhood music, and ensembles.

The Faculty

Professors at the school are carefully chosen based on their educational, teaching, and performance backgrounds. Faculty members are active performers, composers, and researchers, but their top priority is teaching. The faculty is committed to student success. Each student receives individual attention. No classes are taught by graduate students or teaching assistants.

Facilities

The Bass School of Music is housed the 113,000-squarefoot state-of-the-art Wanda L. Bass Music Center and the historic Kirkpatrick Fine Arts Center. Opened in 2006, the Bass Music Center features high-tech music labs for voice, composition, and sound recording as well as thirty-seven teaching studios, sixty practice rooms, and seven rehearsal spaces for ensembles. Each classroom, teaching studio, practice room, rehearsal space, and performance hall features at least one Steinway piano. The Bishop W. Angie Smith Chapel houses Oklahoma City University's organ performance program. The Italian-designed chapel is built around German stained glass windows depicting the four seasons. The main sanctuary features seating for 650. The chapel's newly restored seventy-rank Holtkamp organ and two practice organs make the chapel a center of musical activity for the campus and the city.

Oklahoma City University is the home of The Oklahoma Opera and Music Theater Company. Opera and musical theater productions performed in the 1,119-seat Kirkpatrick Auditorium are enhanced by special lighting, costume, and scenic design from on-campus technical theatre faculty, staff, and students. The facilities include an orchestra pit capable of holding an orchestra of fifty and full dressing rooms. The 500-seat Petree Recital Hall hosts orchestral, wind band, jazz band, chorus, small ensembles, and recitals. The hall is designed for audio and television recording of performances. The 255-seat Burg Theatre is used for major dramatic productions, lectures, and other special presentations. The black box theatre offers innovative options, including in-the-round staging and staggered platforms to create multiple levels for performers and/or audience members. Features include thirty-six-foot high ceilings and a dedicated light and sound booth. A more intimate venue is provided by the 46-seat Wimberly Room, which features state-of-the-art equipment for recording and multimedia presentations. The Wimberly Room is used for master classes, lectures, and recitals.

The Dulaney-Browne Library houses a collection of books, periodicals, and recordings in the areas of music and the performing arts. The Leichter Library in the Bass School of Music features more than thirty thousand recordings and scores. Students have access to a computer/keyboard laboratory with Web access and extensive capabilities for composition, music sequencing, and computer-assisted learning.

Advising

The Bass School of Music gives individual advising attention to each student. In the field of music—where aptitudes, career-interests, and the individual preferences of students vary—advising is of great importance. All undergraduate music students will be assigned a faculty advisor. The faculty advisor must be consulted prior to each semester's enrollment. The coordinator of student services assists with the enrollment process.

Organizations

The Bass School of Music sponsors several student musical organizations: University Singers, Concert Choir, Chamber Choir, Surrey Singers, Wind Philharmonic, Symphony Orchestra, Percussion Ensemble, Jazz Arts Ensemble, Jazz Combo, Pep Band, Flute Choir, Double Bass Ensemble, and small instrumental and vocal ensembles. Project 21 is a consortium of Oklahoma City University composers who collaborate with vocalists and instrumentalists to bring new musical works to life. Students also form informal groups that perform in clubs from Oklahoma City to Austin. Student societies include Alpha Zeta Chapter (1928) of Sigma Alpha Iota, an international music fraternity for women; Alpha Epsilon Chapter of Pi Kappa Lambda (1960), national music honor society; and Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia (1994) for men.

Performance

A full calendar of musical events is presented to the general public and university community each year. Visiting guest artists give performances and master classes for students and the community.

More than 500,000 people have attended Oklahoma City University performances here and abroad. The Oklahoma Opera and Music Theater Company, Symphony Orchestra, Surrey Singers, Wind Philharmonic, and Chamber Choir have all toured extensively, including several international tours. Oklahoma City University students travel widely, bringing their special talents to other parts of the world while learning from and interacting directly with other cultures.

Oklahoma City—A Thriving Cultural Center

Concerts by touring virtuosi, along with innumerable recitals and concerts by faculty and students, make Oklahoma City one of the most vital performing arts centers in the Southwest. By special arrangement, Oklahoma City University students are admitted free to events sponsored by the Civic Music Association. The city is also home to the Oklahoma City Philharmonic, Ballet Oklahoma, Canterbury Choral Society, Oklahoma City Chamber Music Society, Lyric Theatre, and a variety of other musical and theatrical organizations.

Employment

The Placement Office assists students in finding part-time employment while attending the university. This may be in the field of performing arts or in a related area. Advanced music majors may have an opportunity to teach in the Performing Arts Academy. Students are made aware of national auditions and competitions throughout the academic year by the Bass School of Music and by studio instructors. On-campus auditions are held by professional organizations including Lyric Theatre, Music Theater of Wichita, Disney, Busch Gardens, Opryland, and Discoveryland.

The Placement Office staff and Bass School of Music faculty make every effort to assist graduates in finding suitable positions. Employers seeking qualified performers and teachers frequently contact the university. Students pursuing graduate study frequently win admission to the world's top universities and conservatories.

Admission Requirements—Music

In addition to meeting the general university admission requirements, all students wishing to major in music must be accepted through audition. The applicant should have the following musical qualifications:

- To enter the B.M. curriculum in piano or organ, the student should be able to play creditably such compositions as the Bach "Two-Part Inventions" and the easier sonatas of Haydn and Mozart. The student should be able to play major and minor scales, chords, and arpeggios with accurate fingering at a moderately rapid tempo.
- To major on an orchestral instrument, the student should be able to play compositions of above-average difficulty on his or her instrument.
- To enter the curriculum in voice, the student should have ability as a singer and knowledge of the rudiments of music. Some background in piano is highly desirable.
- To enter the curriculum in vocal music education, the student should have a satisfactory singing voice and

- knowledge of music fundamentals. The ability to play simple piano music is highly desirable.
- To enter the curriculum in instrumental music education, the student should be able to play at least one band or orchestral instrument well enough to have performed in a high school band or orchestra.
- Candidates for the curriculum in composition must audition as a vocalist or instrumentalist, submit several scores and/or recordings of original work for evaluation, and complete an interview with the composer-inresidence.
- 7. To enter the curriculum in guitar, the student should be able to play compositions equal in difficulty to the studies of Sor, Giuliani, Carulli, or Carcassi, and be able to play major and minor scales, chords, and arpeggios.
- 8. To enter the curriculum in music theater, the student should have ability as a singer, dancer (ballet, tap, or jazz), and actor. The student should have genuine interest in becoming proficient in these areas of performance.
- All new transfer students who have not successfully completed freshman and sophomore music theory requirements must take the music theory advisory examination. The examination will be scheduled during the first week of classes of both fall and spring semesters.
- 10. If a student is enrolled in a degree program at Oklahoma City University, prior approval by the dean must be obtained before taking courses at another institution for the purpose of applying those courses to a degree program at Oklahoma City University.

The Bass School of Music will accept transfer credit for music or related courses in which the student has a grade of C or higher from institutions that are accredited by NASM. For further information on scholastic and admission audition dates, call the coordinator of student services at (405) 208-5980.

Credits in Applied Music (Performance)

Credits earned for private lessons in voice, piano, organ, guitar, or orchestral instrument are designed as credits in performance. The amount of credit earned in performance depends on the number of lessons per week, the amount of practice, and whether the student is advanced enough to earn major credit; it also depends on whether he or she is taking an instrument or voice as a secondary or minor requirement for his or her degree.

General Regulations

- 1. A student in the Bass School of Music follows the same academic and general regulations as students in other schools in the university. See the Academic Regulations section of this catalog. See the Expenses and Financial Aid section for information about payment of tuition, scholarships, and grants-in-aid.
- 2. Each student is carefully assigned to his or her major applied teacher. Requests for change must be submit-

- ted to the dean in writing with an explanation for the change. Changes cannot be made during a semester. Petitions are available from the coordinator of student services. Students must discuss their desire to change studios with their current professor before inquiring about study with another professor.
- All students enrolled for credit in applied music, except Oklahoma City University employees and/or faculty, must take a final exam ("jury"). All students are required to register for a jury time and date when the lists are posted. After a time and date have been scheduled, it cannot be changed or exchanged with another student. To avoid scheduling conflicts with other examinations, the final examination schedule for the university should be consulted before a student registers for a jury time and date. A student may be excused from taking a jury only in the case of a documented major illness, personal tragedy, or national disaster. A missed jury must be made up in the full semester immediately following the semester in which the jury was canceled. Makeup juries are posted in the Bass Music Center and take place during the first two weeks of the next full semester. A student failing to schedule a makeup jury may not advance in performance level.
- 4. Private lessons that have been missed, except in case of protracted illness, will be made up at the convenience of the teacher, provided twenty-four hours advance notice of the absence is given the teacher and reasons for such missed lessons are acceptable. A teacher is not required to make up a lesson that the student has missed without first contacting the teacher as described
- Students late for private lessons will receive only the remaining portion of the lesson period.
- Music students must receive permission from their applied music teachers before accepting musical engagements.
- Unless otherwise specified, the term ensemble, as found in the following curricula, refers to one of the major ensembles: Symphony Orchestra, Wind Philharmonic, University Singers, Ad Astra Women's Chorus, Men's Chorus, Chamber Choir, and University Singers. The major ensemble to which a singer is assigned is determined by audition. The major ensemble for string players is the Symphony Orchestra. The major ensemble for wind and percussion majors is the Wind Philharmonic. Selected wind and percussion majors are also expected to participate in the Symphony Orchestra, Jazz Arts Ensemble, and Pep Band, as appropriate. All students are strongly encouraged to participate in the various small ensembles in their area of performance. The ensemble participation requirements apply during each semester the student is enrolled for seven hours or more, regardless of the number of semesters the student is enrolled at the university. The total ensemble requirements must be met before the degree can be completed. All voice students are required to - audition for all opera and music theater productions and to perform in them if cast.

- All candidates for the B.M. degree except piano, organ, and composition majors are required to pass a piano proficiency test. Failure to do so is a barrier to graduation. All students must take a minimum of one semester of piano before they are allowed to sit for the piano proficiency examination.
- 9. Music education majors are required to perform satisfactorily a half recital. This recital can be performed by memory or with music at the teacher's discretion.
- 10. Students enrolled in the Bass School of Music are evaluated in all courses using the grading system included in the Academic Regulations section of this catalog. Students may not select credit/no-credit grading for any course work.
- 11. Credit for applied study at another institution is not transferable while a student is working toward a degree at Oklahoma City University.
- 12. To qualify for graduation, a student must attain the designated level of performance as specified in each of the applied performance divisions. Levels are determined at the time of the jury examinations.
- 13. Vocal students are required to pay a standard fee for accompanists' services as part of their applied lessons. This fee covers accompanists' services for studio lessons, master classes, and juries for two credit hour students, and studio lessons and juries for one credit hour students. Instrumental students may need to provide an accompanist as instructed by their applied teacher.
- 14. Regardless of the number of hours earned, a student must be enrolled in at least one credit hour during the semester or term in which the recital is presented.
- 15. All music majors must successfully complete six semesters of Music Assembly attendance. Music Assembly credit is posted on the official transcript. Failure to meet this requirement is a barrier to graduation.
- 16. Applied music study requires a requisite knowledge of music fundamentals. Leveling exams in voice and basic music skills are prerequisites for Applied Voice (AMV) for all nonmusic majors. Students not at an appropriate level for private applied voice study are placed in Voice Class (AMVC) and may be required to take Music Fundamentals (MUS 1102).

General Education Requirements for All Undergraduate Majors

The general education curriculum is a requirement for all undergraduate degrees at Oklahoma City University. See the General Education section of this catalog for a complete list of required courses and competencies. Updated lists of courses approved by the General Education Committee and the associate provost are available on the university Web site.

BACHELOR OF ARTS IN THEATRE PERFORMANCE

BACHELOR OF FINE ARTS IN ACTING

BACHELOR OF FINE ARTS IN THEATRE DESIGN AND PRODUCTION

DEPARTMENT OF THEATRE

David Herendeen. Interim Director

Faculty: Boston, Campanella, Foreman, Marsh, Palladino,

Pasto, Turner

Adjunct Faculty: Adams, Bhaird, Cox

The Department of Theatre offers is a multidimensional, dynamic program that embodies the convictions of the liberal arts tradition of education. For eighty-three years its graduates have been in demand as teachers, performers, playwrights, technicians, and directors.

The department's versatile faculty joins students in outstanding productions of plays: the classics, revitalized or newly conceived plays, and experimental works. Through outside assessment, faculty, students, and productions from the Department of Theatre have won awards at prestigious events such as The International Siglo de Oro Theatre Festival and the Kennedy Center/American College Theatre Festival.

Great training and a chance to perform, design, and direct marks the Oklahoma City University theatre experience. Every season includes six mainstage productions. Two of these productions are specifically designed for young audiences. These shows are produced in collaboration with Oklahoma Children's Theatre, a professional company housed and hosted by Oklahoma City University. Oklahoma City University students are also involved with the company's entire season of professional works. The department also has producing partnerships with the Oklahoma City Repertory Theatre (and Equity company) and with Oklahoma Shakespeare in the Park. Oklahoma City University's Let's Pretend Players provide yet another performance opportunity for our students. This talented group tours the region with their imaginative school shows throughout the school year.

FIELDS OF STUDY

Three degrees are offered at the undergraduate level, including a Bachelor of Fine Arts in acting, a Bachelor of Arts in theatre performance, and a Bachelor of Fine Arts in design and production. Teacher certification in the area of speech/drama/debate can be added to the Bachelor of Arts degrees.

B.A. Theatre Performance

Undergraduates enrolled in the theatre performance program receive more varied performance training including on-camera acting, voice, and dance. The student's cross-training in voice and dance are provided by the Bass School of Music and Ann Lacy School of American Dance and Arts Management. Students will also take diction, history, theory, and technical theatre classes—all leading to a B.A. degree.

B.F.A. Theatre Design and Production

The B.F.A. in theatre design and production is a comprehensive degree that offers students professional theatrical training as well as a foundation in the liberal arts. The B.F.A. provides strong foundational knowledge in the areas of scenic, lighting, and costume design, technical direction, stage management, scenic technology, and costume technology. The theatre design and production program seeks to prepare students to enter the fields of theatre design, theatrical production, entertainment technology, and stage management. The program also prepares students for graduate study in theatre design, production, and technology. Course work provides practical "hands-on" experience in theatrical productions (ranging from theatre to musicals to opera to dance) as well as the study of theory and history of theatre.

B.F.A. Acting

The B.F.A. in acting degree is a preprofessional training program that combines the best of conservatory/studio training with the breadth of the general education requirements that have made Oklahoma City University one of the nation's best small universities. B.F.A. actors will take nine acting classes over their four years (including exciting topics classes, such as Improvisation, Chekhov, Shakespeare, Acting Styles, Auditions, and two semesters of On-Camera Acting), along with extensive voice and movement training, a study of script analysis and theatre history, and an introduction to major aspects of technical theatre and directing. Our B.F.A. graduates will be ready to face any of the challenges that will confront professional actors in exciting job market of the twenty-first century.

The Faculty

The faculty of the Department of Theatre comprises theatre professionals carefully chosen for their educational, teaching, and performance backgrounds, and their genuine commitment to student success. Professors of the Department of Theatre are active performers, directors, writers, and researchers. The top priority for our teachers, though, is teaching.

The faculty is personally supportive and genuinely interested in each student's program of study, training, and experiences. No classes are taught by graduate students or teaching assistants. The close interactions between professors and students are an invaluable aspect of the educational experience at Oklahoma City University.

Admission Requirements

In addition to meeting the general university admission requirements, all students wishing to major in theatre performance and acting must be accepted through audition. Admission to the theatre design and production program is selective. An interview, portfolio, résumé, and writing sample are required for admission. Students in the program must maintain a portfolio of their design and production work that they will present at the end of each semester.

There will also be a formal annual review and assessment of each student at the end of the spring semester. B.F.A. students are expected to maintain good academic standing and have successful reviews for their production and performance assignments. Students who do not meet these requirements could be removed from production assignments or put on probation. Continued poor performance can lead to dismissal from the degree program.

Department Prerequisite

Students for whom English is a second language will be required to achieve a score of at least 55 on the Test of Spoken English.

Credit/No-Credit

Students in the Department of Theatre are required to be evaluated on the traditional grading system for all general education courses and on all courses taken in their majors. A maximum of 12 credit hours of elective courses may be taken on the credit/no-credit grading system.

General Regulations

- 1. A student in the Department of Theatre follows the same academic and general regulations as students in other schools in the university. See the Academic Regulations section of this catalog. See the Expenses and Financial Aid section for information about payment of tuition, scholarship, and grants-in-aid.
- 2. Theatre performance and acting majors are required to audition for all department productions; if cast, they are to make themselves available for all scheduled rehearsals and performances.
- 3. Theatre majors must have the permission of the department director before accepting outside theatrical engagements.
- 4. Failure to comply with the university's and Department of Theatre's academic and general regulations may result in disciplinary action and/or loss of scholarship.
- 5. Being an Oklahoma City University theatre major is a privilege granted by the university, not a right. Due to the intense activity, performance demands, and career orientation of the theatre program, the university reserves the right to determine the eligibility of any student to continue majoring in theatre based on considerations including, but not limited to, regular attendance of classes, focus and commitment, positive participation in departmental productions and activities, technical progress, and probable success of attaining a theatre degree. Determinations and subsequent counseling, will be made by the theatre faculty and administration through evaluations and observations gleaned from the regular semester auditions, performances, and classroom evaluations.
- 6. Private voice lessons have prerequisite levels in both singing and music fundamentals to assure success in the studio setting. Leveling will occur at the beginning of the semester. Students can level towards private voice lessons multiple times. If the student does not meet the required vocal level, they may be enrolled in Class Voice. Class Voice can be taken multiple times. Three semesters of Class Voice can also fulfill the voice requirements for the B.A. in theatre performance, and the B.F.A. in acting.

MASTER OF SCIENCE IN NURSING

KRAMER SCHOOL OF NURSING

Marvel Williamson, Dean Lois Salmeron, Associate Dean Faculty: Barnes, Bottoms, Burton, Cook, Crane-Smith, Korvick, Parrott, Phillips, Schleider, Wisener

The Kramer School of Nursing (KSN) offers a traditional baccalaureate degree to prepare successful candidates for the Registered Nurse (R.N.) licensure examination, a sixteen-month Bachelor's-to-B.S.N. (Bachelor of Science in Nursing) for students who already have bachelor's degrees in other fields seeking eligibility for the R.N. licensure examination, and an accelerated option for R.N.s to obtain the Bachelor of Science in Nursing (B.S.N.). Students pursuing the B.S.N. who already have bachelor's degrees in other fields have already fulfilled the equivalency of the university's general education requirements. KSN also offers a Master of Science in Nursing. The Kramer School of Nursing is accredited by the National League for Nursing Accrediting Commission.

Role and Responsibility of the Oklahoma Board of Nursing

The Kramer School of Nursing is approved by the Oklahoma Board of Nursing. Graduates of this state-approved program are eligible to apply to write the National Council Licensure Examination (NCLEX) for registered nurses. Applicants for Oklahoma licensure must meet all state and federal requirements to hold an Oklahoma license to practice nursing. In addition to completing a state-approved nursing education program that meets educational requirements and successfully passing the licensure examination, requirements include submission of an application for licensure, a criminal history records search, and evidence of citizenship or qualified alien status. Applicants for practical nurse licensure must also hold a high school diploma or a graduate equivalency degree (G.E.D) [59 O.S. §567.5 & 567.6]. To be granted a license, an applicant must have the legal right to be in the United States (United States Code Chapter 8, Section 1621). In addition, Oklahoma law only allows a license to be issued to U.S. citizens, U.S. nationals, and legal permanent resident aliens. Other qualified aliens may be issued a temporary license that is valid until the expiration of their visa status, or if there is no expiration date, for one year. Applicants who are qualified aliens must present, in person, valid documentary evidence of:

- 1. A valid, unexpired immigrant or nonimmigrant visa status for admission into the United States;
- 2. A pending or approved application for asylum in the United States;
- 3. Admission into the United States in refugee status;
- 4. A pending or approved application for temporary protected status in the United States;
- 5. Approved deferred action status; or
- 6. A pending application for adjustment of status to legal permanent resident status or conditional resident status.

The Board has the right to deny a license to an individual with a history of criminal background, disciplinary action on another health-related license or certification, or judicial declaration of mental incompetence [59 O.S. §567.8]. These cases are considered on an individual basis at the time application for licensure is made, with the exception of felony charges. An individual with a felony conviction cannot apply for licensure for at least five years after completion of all sentencing terms, including probation and suspended sentences, unless a presidential or gubernatorial pardon is received [59 O.S. §567.5 & 567.6].

Mission

The mission of Kramer School of Nursing is to provide unique educational and service opportunities that prepare professional nurses who practice with integrity, knowledge, and compassion while positively impacting the health care needs of diverse communities.

Goals

The goals of the Kramer School of Nursing are derived from our mission. The B.S.N. graduate of the Kramer School of Nursing will function as a professional nurse able to

- Demonstrate clinical competence in the provision of ethical and legal nursing care.
- Collaborate with and educate clients regarding self-care activities designed to promote health, restore wellness, and prevent illness.
- Utilize the nursing process as a critical-thinking framework for problem solving and making effective clinical judgments.
- Promote physical, mental, social, and spiritual health across the lifespan within diverse cultures.
- Manage, coordinate, and delegate care of clients within and in collaboration with the health care system.
- Exemplify the caring behaviors of acceptance of, respect for, and empathy with the client.

Admission to the Traditional B.S.N. Program

To declare nursing as a major, incoming freshmen and sophomores must be admitted to Oklahoma City University and not be on academic probation. Oklahoma City University students changing majors to nursing also must not be on academic probation.

A student must have a 3.00 cumulative GPA or higher, a TOEFL score of 550 or higher if English is not the mother tongue, and have junior-level nursing course prerequisites completed to progress to and enroll in junior-level nursing classes without undergoing further consideration.

To enroll in nursing courses, students must comply with the Oklahoma Board of Nursing mandate that all nursing students sign a disclosure statement regarding felonious acts and competency.

Admission to the Bachelor's-to-BSN Program

To be considered for admission to the sixteen-month Bachelor's-to-B.S.N. program, an applicant must meet the following requirements:

- Admission to Oklahoma City University
- A bachelor's degree in any field from a regionally accredited college or university*
- 3.00 or higher cumulative GPA
- TOEFL of 550 or higher if English is not the mother tongue
- Any college chemistry course with a lab with a grade of B or better
- Any college microbiology course with a lab with a grade of B or better
- Any basic college psychology course with a grade of C or better
- Human anatomy and physiology course(s) with a grade of B or better covering the whole body and all systems; the anatomy portion must have had a lab

* For students whose first bachelor's degrees were earned outside the United States, English must have been the language of instruction. The first bachelor's degree must also be equivalent to a bachelor's degree granted by a regionally accredited U.S. college or university. Course prerequisites to the Bachelor's-to-BSN program taken internationally must be equivalent to the corresponding courses offered at Oklahoma City University. These equivalencies must be determined by a company acceptable to Oklahoma City University that evaluates international transcripts.

To enroll in nursing courses, students must comply with the Oklahoma Board of Nursing mandate that all nursing students sign a disclosure statement regarding felonious acts and competency.

Admission to the RN-to-BSN Program

In order to be accepted into the R.N.-to-B.S.N. program, an applicant must have the following:

- A cumulative grade point average of 2.5 or better in previous college course work
- A score of 550 on the TOEFL if English is not the mother tongue of the applicant
- A valid active Registered Nurse license

Eligibility Statement

Due to the strenuous nature of nursing and the practice orientation of the Oklahoma City University Kramer School of Nursing program, the school reserves the right to determine the eligibility of any student to enroll or continue in the nursing major. This decision is based on considerations including but not limited to characteristics required of a professional nurse. Eligibility is determined by the faculty's evaluation of a student's ability to perform the skills necessary to complete the course objectives and includes attitudinal and behavioral components. These elements are re-evaluated each semester.

Every student must pass background checks and drug screenings to enter clinical settings. Inability to meet these requirements will prevent the student from completing the program. Graduates must also meet the licensure requirements of the Board of Nursing in the state where the first license will be sought. Such requirements may include further background checks, investigations of felony convictions, and other measures related to public safety. If in doubt about eligibility to receive a nursing license, contact the Board of Nursing for further information before proceeding with nursing school.

Progression

Although not necessarily required for admission, the following progression requirements also apply before proceeding with any clinical practicum:

- CPR certification
- Health requirements specified by each agency where clinical and practical experiences will occur, including immunizations and health tests
- Background check and drug screen

To progress to each sequential semester of nursing courses, the student must earn grades as specified below and complete prerequisites for that semester.

All students must earn a "C" or higher (2.00 on a 4.00 scale) in each nursing and transfer course and a "C-" or higher in each required support course taken at Oklahoma City University used to complete the B.S.N. degree requirements.

In nursing courses, students must receive a minimal grade of 75 percent in theory, 75 percent in clinical application, and a passing grade in clinical performance.

All nursing courses must be completed in sequence as listed in the degree requirements unless approved by the Faculty Organization at the Kramer School of Nursing. It is the responsibility of the student to enroll in courses as they are offered. Students may repeat only one nursing course. Failure to complete the repeated course with a grade of "C" or better within two enrollments will result in dismissal from the nursing major.

Transfer of Credit

Students in the nursing major must comply with university policy concerning transfer of credit. The Kramer School of Nursing faculty evaluates transfer of nursing credit from other nationally accredited associate and baccalaureate programs. All courses transferred into the degree major must encompass the equivalent breadth and depth of courses offered in the Kramer School of Nursing. Evaluation of students requesting transfer from another accredited nursing program will be based upon the following:

■ letter of recommendation from the dean/director of the former school

- complete syllabus or course description of each nursing course completed
- request for specific course substitution and any other materials deemed relevant

A grade of less than C in any course will not be considered for transfer. Each transferred course must be approved by the dean or designee of the Kramer School of Nursing.

Grading Policy

Students enrolled in the Kramer School of Nursing will be evaluated in all courses using the grading system described in the Kramer School of Nursing Student Handbook. The school does not accept credit/no-credit grades.

Graduation/Licensure

Students with a nursing major must comply with university policy on graduation procedures. Upon passing the exit exam and completion of all requirements for graduation, students in the traditional B.S.N. and Bachelor's-to-B.S.N. programs are eligible to apply for the NCLEX-RN examination. It is the responsibility of the student to complete the application during the last semester of the senior year. Candidates for licensure in Oklahoma who have been arrested for or convicted of any offense—including a deferred or suspended sentence—within the past five years, or have ever been convicted of a felony, or have ever had disciplinary action taken against another health-related license, or have ever been judicially declared incompetent are required to notify the Oklahoma Board of Nursing prior to being approved to write the NCLEX-RN. Failure to report such action may be a violation of the Oklahoma Nursing Practice Act.

Clinical Experience

In conjunction with the clinical experience, students must accept certain responsibilities which include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Transportation to the clinical area and to other special laboratory assignments
- Professional liability insurance with a $1,000,000/ $3,000,000 limit throughout clinical course enrollments
- Evidence of selected immunizations
- Evidence of current CPR certification at the appropriate level from an approved provider.
- Additional expenses for nursing uniforms and equipment beginning at the junior level
- Background check and drug screen

CURRICULUM

A minimum of 124 credit hours is required for the B.S.N. degree, including 60 hours in the major. The following is the science and nursing curriculum sequencing for the traditional B.S.N. nursing major (see separate listing of general education course requirements). Students should work with their advisors in enrolling to ensure that they complete the nursing prerequisites and all requirements by their expected graduation date.

R.N.-TO-B.S.N. OPTION

The R.N.-to-B.S.N. is available for R.N.s interested in completing their baccalaureate degrees in nursing. The 18 credit hours of nursing courses can be completed in as little as nine months. These courses are as follows:

Credit Hours:	18
RN-to-BSN Professional Nursing	2
RN-to-BSN Health Assessment	3
RN-to-BSN Nursing Research	3
RN-to-BSN Community Health Nursing	5
RN-to-BSN Nursing Leadership	5

All nursing classes meet on one half day each week. No additional science or math courses are required other than those required for the diploma or associate's degree in nursing. A variety of options are available for general education courses, including independent study, Internet courses, and traditional classroom courses. The B.S.N. requires a total of 124 credit hours:

- 72 credit hours granted for an associate's degree in nursing and an R.N. license
- 30 credit hours taken at Oklahoma City University (including 18 in nursing)
- 22 transfer, portfolio, and/or additional credits from Oklahoma City University

Master of Science in Nursing (M.S.N.)

The Kramer School of Nursing also offers a Master of Science in Nursing (M.S.N.) degree with two tracks: nursing education and nursing administration. Also offered through the M.S.N. program is an M.S.N./M.B.A. option. See the Oklahoma City University Graduate Catalog for more information.

GENERAL INFORMATION AND POLICIES

RELIGION

RELIGION/RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

RELIGION/YOUTH MINISTRY

JOINT MAJOR IN RELIGION AND PHILOSOPHY

WORLD RELIGIONS

WIMBERLY SCHOOL OF RELIGION AND GRADUATE THEOLOGICAL CENTER

Dr. Mark Y. A. Davies, Dean Faculty: Betsworth, Emler, Starkey, Wolfe

The mission of the Wimberly School of Religion and Graduate Theological Center is to offer religious and theological studies in the United Methodist tradition that unite knowledge and vital piety, explore questions of meaning and value for the lives of all persons, and prepare persons seeking to enter a variety of Christian vocations in service to the church and community.

As a professional school, the Wimberly School of Religion and Graduate Theological Center plays the dual role of preparing persons for service in the church, while at the same time engaging the total student body in the study of religion for its own sake through the university's general education curriculum.

The curriculum of the Wimberly School of Religion and Graduate Theological Center focuses primarily on basic studies of the faith, values, and religious life that have undergirded Western civilization. The aim of these studies is an understanding of religion and how it relates to various cultures and issues in the modern world.

ACADEMIC POLICY

Credit/No-Credit

Up to 12 hours of elective courses may be taken for credit/no-credit.

Grade Point Average

A religion major must have a 2.25 GPA in religion courses to graduate, including the six hours under values and culture and Introduction to Biblical Literature.

Degree Programs

The Wimberly School of Religion offers the degrees of Bachelor of Arts in religion, Bachelor of Arts in religion with an emphasis in religious education, Bachelor of Arts in religion with an emphasis in youth ministry, Bachelor of Arts with a major in religion/philosophy, Bachelor of Arts in World Religions and Master of Arts in religion.

Religion Major

To major in religion at the undergraduate level has meaning and value for anyone who wants to understand religion in its several dimensions. It is particularly useful for persons planning to enter the Christian ministry, Christian education, or other church-related vocations. Studies in the major field, along with courses in English, history, philosophy, the social sciences, and various electives will give the student an excellent background for entrance into a theological seminary or for various service opportunities in the church and society.

A student majoring in religion may have no more than 36 hours in the major field, not counting the six hours under values and culture in the general education curriculum and the two hours of internship. Six hours of New Testament Greek or Biblical Hebrew may be counted as either elective or major credits.

The Internship in Religion course should be taken by all junior or senior religion majors who are employed in a ministry setting.

Religion/Religious Education

A major in religion/religious education is particularly useful to persons planning to enter the Christian ministry, Christian education, youth work, program coordination, or other church-related vocations. Studies in the major field, along with courses in English, history, philosophy, the social sciences, and various electives, will give the student an excellent background for entrance into a theological seminary or for service in the church and society.

The Internship in Religion course is required for majors in religious education. It is taken in the junior or senior year.

Religion Major/Youth Ministry

The major in religion/youth ministry is useful for students planning careers as directors or ministers with youth or planning to enter other forms of Christian ministry, such as Christian education or the pastorate.

The spiritual formation of youth as Christian disciples requires students who would serve as youth workers to be grounded in the biblical and theological understandings of the faith and be knowledgeable about the development of young people. Mature interaction with youth requires far more than the ability to present interesting programs. Studies in the major field, along with courses in English, history, philosophy, the social sciences, and various electives, will give the student an excellent background for entrance into a theological seminary or for various service opportunities in the church and society.

United Methodist Certification in Christian Education and Certification in Youth Ministry

The religion/religious education and religion/youth ministry majors have been approved by the Section of Deacons and Diaconal Ministers, General Board of Higher Education and Ministry of the United Methodist Church. Persons graduating with a B.A. in religion/religious education or in religion/youth ministry will have fulfilled the educational requirements for certification in the respective areas. Information on additional requirements is available from the registrar of the student's Annual Conference Board of Ordained Ministry.

Religion/Philosophy

The joint major in philosophy and religion is designed primarily for those students who want to undertake ethical and religious studies within a rigorous philosophical and theological context in preparation either for advanced academic study in philosophy or religion or for professional training for the ordained ministry. The core requirements in the History of Philosophy (PHIL 3114, 3214, and 3314), the History of the Christian Church (3103 or 3113), and Contemporary Theology (REL 3423) are intended to provide students with systematic grounding in the major philosophical and theological resources of Western philosophy and the Jewish and Christian traditions. Students may then select one of four areas of emphasis (philosophical theology, ethics, religion-philosophy and culture, or biblical studies) for more concentrated study. The culminating experience for all majors is the writing of a senior thesis (PHIL 4893 or REL 4893). The thesis is a major research paper, an original work in the student's area of emphasis, prepared under close supervision of one or more members of the philosophy department and/or the School of Religion.

World Religions

To major in world religions at the undergraduate level has meaning and value for anyone who wants to understand religion in its several dimensions. Students must complete at least one course in Jewish studies, one (3000- or 4000-level) course in Christian theology, three (3000- or 4000-level) courses related to world religions, and one religion elective.

Honors in Religion

The designation Honors in Religion recognizes excellence in a student's work at Oklahoma City University. To be eligible for Honors in Religion the student must have completed 60 semester hours at Oklahoma City University and a minimum of 24 semester hours in religion in the School of Religion. The student must have a GPA of 3.50 in the religion major and a cumulative GPA of 3.25 in nonreligion courses taken at Oklahoma City University.

Honors in Religion students must complete Senior Research Paper (REL 4893) with at least a grade of A-.

Minor in Religion

In addition to courses taken in the general education curriculum, students with a minor in religion will take a minimum of 15 hours in the Wimberly School of Religion. The courses will be from at least three of the following areas: Bible, church history, theology or religion, culture and ethics. Only the third semester of biblical languages may count toward the minor. At least six hours must be taken at the 3000-4000 level.

Students who wish to minor in religion must file an approved plan of study with the dean of the School of Religion prior to their enrollment for the 90th credit hour (beginning of the senior year). A student may not major and minor in the School of Religion. Religion minors must have a 2.50 GPA and take at least 50 percent of their religion courses in residence at Oklahoma City University.

Honor Society in Religious Studies

Theta Alpha Kappa is open to both undergraduate and graduate students. Undergraduate students must have completed three semesters at Oklahoma City University, completed 12 hours in religious studies, attained a 3.25 GPA in religion courses and at least a 3.00 GPA in their total academic program. Graduate students must have completed at least half of the residency requirements for their degree and attained a 3.50 GPA for this work.

RELIGION (B.A.)

Major Requirements Credit Hours: 33 At least one upper-division course (3000-4000 level) must be completed in each area: biblical studies; history of Christianity; and religion, ethics, and culture. A minimum of 18 hours must be taken at the 3000-4000 level in the School of Religion.

Certification Studies in the United Methodist Church

Certification is the church's recognition that a student has met the required personal and church qualifications, academic preparation, and work experience necessary to achieve and maintain professional excellence.

Certification is available in the United Methodist Church in the areas of Christian education, youth ministry, church music, parish nursing, church business management, spiritual formation, camping and retreat ministries, and communications. The School of Religion provides the academic programs related to certification in the areas of Christian education and youth ministry.

The following are ways a student can fulfill the academic requirements of certification at Oklahoma City University:

- 1. Attain a bachelor's degree with a major in religion/religious education or religion/youth ministry. (Students continuing toward ordination as deacon must complete 8 hours of graduate credit in addition to the 27 basic theological graduate hours and other disciplinary requirements for ordination.)
- 2. Attain a bachelor's degree plus five graduate certification courses in the area of specialization, including a course in United Methodist doctrine and polity.
- 3. Attain a master's degree in the area of specialization.

The following are ways a person can fulfill the academic requirements for associate certification at Oklahoma City University:

- 1. Complete a minimum of 24 semester hours in the area of specialization, such as the program for associate certification in youth ministry or program for associate certification in Christian education,
- 2. Complete a minimum of 24 semester hours in undergraduate course work, and
- 3. Complete five graduate certification studies in the area of specialization including a course in United Methodist doctrine and polity.

For additional information on requirements for certification, contact the registrar of the Annual Conference Board of Ordained Ministry, Section of Deacons and Diaconal Ministry.

Associate Certification Program in Youth Ministry

The associate certification in youth ministry is a program for persons over twenty-five years old who do not have a college degree and wish to receive training leading to certification in the United Methodist Church. The program is offered by colleges recognized by the United Methodist General Board of Higher Education and Ministry, Section of Deacons. Students must complete a minimum of 24 semester hours in the area of specialization.

Designed to provide the skills and knowledge necessary to understand financial statements and information, to make financial decisions, to design and institute improvements in management control, to determine and work with ethical uncertainties, and to develop and manage the budgeting process. Fund accounting is explained as a building block for nonprofit financial reporting. Issues faced by the chief executive of smaller organizations such as unemployment compensation, workers compensation, and selfinsurance are covered. Prerequisite: ACCT 2213. (spring)

ART

INTRODUCTION TO VISUAL ARTS 3 HOURS 1113

This course examines the visual arts as a means of personal expression and how these expressions reflect the values of the artists and their societies. It requires students to interpret and evaluate works of art from various venues in the central Oklahoma area. Students learn technical aspects of art production and how the visual arts relate to other art forms, such as dance, theatre and cinema.

BASIC DRAWING I 3 HOURS 1123

Using light and shadow, proportions, texture, perspective, and various techniques. Learning to see! The coordination of eye, hand, and mind.

BASIC DESIGN I 3 HOURS

The understanding and application of design and color using the basic principles and elements of design. The use of composition within a limited space; learning to see with the mind.

3 HOURS 1323 DRAWING II

A continuation of Basic Drawing I stressing a wide variety of media and materials; further experimentation with drawing techniques and color. Explanation and application of composition. Prerequisite: ART 1123.

1423 BEGINNING WATERCOLOR 3 HOURS

Application of the fundamental use of color washes and opaque techniques. The use of watercolor with other media. Prerequisite: ART 1123.

INTRODUCTION TO SCULPTURE 3 HOURS

Explore the basic methods and techniques of various sculptural and three-dimensional design. Emphasis on three-dimensional composition and form. ART 1223 is helpful.

2023 DESIGN II 3 HOURS

Continuation of Basic Design I stressing color and three dimensions. Prerequisite: ART 1123 or ART 1223. (spring)

2103 ART HISTORY I 3 HOURS

This course is primarily for students who want an emphasis in specialized areas of art history beyond the two survey courses. An in-depth study for persons interested in this area or who want to attend graduate school. (TBA)

HISTORY OF ART SURVEY I 3 HOURS 2113

A survey course covering the history of art and architecture from prehistory to the Renaissance. (spring)

BEGINNING FIGURE DRAWING I 3 HOURS

Working with the complexities of the nude human figure. Dealing with the proportions, values, forms, anatomy, various techniques, and media included in this discipline. Loosening the drawing style toward more facility. Prerequisite: Art 1123. (fall)

INDIVIDUAL STUDIO I 3-6 HOURS

Study in special areas which may be taught in a classroom situation or, with instructor's permission, on an individual basis (to be arranged). May be taken for up to 6 hours credit. (TBA) (Also see ART 2253.)

2213 HISTORY OF ART SURVEY II 3 HOURS

A survey course covering the history of art and architecture from the Renaissance to the Modern. (fall)

A continuation of Beginning Figure Drawing I stressing further complexities including composition, total space, and more sophisticated style and media. Prerequisite: ART 2123. (spring)

INDIVIDUAL STUDIO II 3-6 HOURS

Study in special areas which may be taught in a classroom situation or, with instructor's permission, on an individual basis (to be arranged). (TBA)

BUSINESS OF ART 3 HOURS 2313

Principles of investment and selling art, including portfolio, exhibition, and business information. (TBA)

3 HOURS 2323 JEWELRY I

Basic skills in metal design; sawing; soldering; forming silver, copper, and brass. Some experiments with clay, paper, fiber, and feathers. (TBA)

BEGINNING CERAMICS 2343 3 HOURS

Introduction to the basic skills necessary to produce a finished piece of pottery. Techniques include pinch, coil, slab work, and basic throwing on the potter's wheel. Techniques and information about glazes, clay, kilns, and tools are included. (fall)

2363 SPECIAL PROBLEMS I 3 HOURS

For art majors to specialize in depth with specific problems in specific media. This could include internships, special study with professionals, or workshops in specialized fields. Instructor's permission required. May be repeated with different content and section number. Topics include introduction to airbrush and history of graphic design. (TBA)

DIRECTED READINGS 3 HOURS 2453

A course that allows students to further expand their knowledge in specialized academically oriented subjects. Instructor's permission required prior to enrollment. (TBA)

2523 GRAPHIC DESIGN I 3 HOURS

Basic principles of graphic design including process, visual thinking, introduction to letter forms, and Macintosh computers. No previous art required. (spring)

ART HISTORY II

This course is primarily for students who want an emphasis in specialized areas of art history beyond the two survey courses. An in-depth study for persons interested in this area or who want to attend graduate school. May be repeated with a different content and section number. (TBA)

2623 GRAPHIC DESIGN II 3 HOURS

A continuation of Graphic Design I. This class stresses sensitivity to typography and the art of the letterform as communication. It also studies symbols and logos as visual language. Macintosh computers are used. Prerequisite: ART 2523. (fall)

GRAPHIC DESIGN III 3 HOURS 2643

This advanced class focuses on solving comprehensive graphic design problems. Included are traditional methods and Mac-based solutions. Preparing projects for printing or production is stressed. Prerequisite: ART 2623. (spring)

ART HISTORY III 2663 3 HOURS

A course for students who want an emphasis in specialized areas of art history beyond the two art history survey courses. Instruction at the junior level. May be repeated with different content and section number.

SPECIAL PROBLEMS II

A course that allows students to specialize in depth with technical and theoretical problems and processes. This may include directed readings, seminars, classroom and studio instruction, internships, and special study with professionals or workshops in specialized fields. May be repeated with different content and section number. Topics include illustration and basic Macintosh. (TBA)

ARTS AND CRAFTS 3 HOURS

Application of techniques, materials, and projects for elementary and high school teaching. A variety of media and craft projects are suggested or available for either nonteachers or prospective teachers. This class is for beginners through intermediate.

PROFESSIONAL ARTS I

This course allows students to pursue the study of specialized areas such as gallery techniques, professional screen-printing, mural painting, airbrush, or other areas by internship or classroom instruction. May be repeated with different content and section number. Topics include experimental imaging with PhotoShop and Native American art.

3063 PROFESSIONAL ARTS II 3 HOURS

A continuation of ART 2963. May be repeated with different content and section number. Topics include gallery techniques, packaging design, and the art museum. (TBA)

3123 CLAY SCULPTURE/FIGURE AND PORTRAITURE 3 HOURS

Modeling and sculpting in clay. Subject matter includes portrait, figure, and stylization in sculpture. Prerequisite: ART 1523. (TBA)

ART TOPICS

Similar to ART 2963 but a higher-level class that allows the highly motivated student a chance to study in a specialized area on an in-depth basis. May be repeated with different content and section number. Topics include design tools/ technological process, collage, business practices/graphic design, and studio art. (TBA)

SCULPTURE: ABSTRACT FORMS 3223 3 HOURS

Application of clay, plaster, etc., modeling, employing detractive and construction methods. Learning to abstract clay forms including portrait, figure, and still life. Prerequisite: ART 1523. (TBA)

DIRECTED READINGS/ART HISTORY3 HOURS

Systematic study of a particular area of art history through directed readings and tutorials. (TBA)

3263 ART HISTORY IV 3 HOURS

This course is for students who want an emphasis in specialized areas of art history beyond the two art history survey courses. May be repeated with different content and section number. (TBA)

ADVANCED FIGURE DRAWING III 3 HOURS

This is not a classroom course but is approached as an independent study. Required for students working toward the B.F.A. degree. Instructor's permission required. Prerequisites: ART 2123 and ART 2223.

SPECIAL TOPICS/ART HISTORY I 3363

In-depth study in areas of special interest that may involve student's emphasis. Junior-level commitment and achievement are expected in both student research and presentation. May be repeated with different content and section number. (TBA)

JEWELRY II 3 HOURS

A continuation of Jewelry I with further instruction in advanced technigues in metal craft. Prerequisite: ART 2243 or ART 2323. (TBA)

3463 PRINTMAKING 3 HOURS

Students choose from the four main printmaking media. May be repeated with different content and section number. (fall)

SPECIAL PROBLEMS III 3563 3 HOURS

The same as ART 2763 but requires greater student involvement in refinement of techniques and processes. Junior-level or above consistency is expected of the student. May be repeated with different content and section number. Topics include publishing and editorial design and intermediate typography. (TBA)

BEGINNING PAINTING I 3 HOURS

Introduction to oil, acrylic, or watercolor and their various techniques and processes. (spring)

GRAPHIC DESIGN IV 3 HOURS

For all graphic design majors, this advanced class focuses on comprehensive, in-depth graphic design problems. Three major projects (2D and 3D), including a group project, are covered. This course should provide the student with some significant portfolio pieces of the highest quality. Prerequisite: ART 2643. May include service learning component. (fall)

3663 SPECIAL TOPICS I

In-depth study in areas of special interest, including internships or seminars that may involve an individual's emphasis. Juniorlevel commitment and achievement are expected in both student research and presentation. May be repeated with different content and section number. Topics include internship, seminar, studio, and studio arts. (TBA)

PAINTING II 3723

3 HOURS

3 HOURS

Continuation of ART 3623 stressing in-depth concentration in oils, acrylics, and mixed media. Prerequisite: ART 3623. (TBA)

SPECIAL TOPICS II 3-6 HOURS

Investigation of a chosen or assigned art area within the advanced student's special field. Studio or study at least six hours per week. In certain cases contracts may be agreed to by the student and instructor. May be repeated with different content and section number. Topics include color concept and theory, photography as an art form, design for electronic media, and exhibit design. (TBA)

BEGINNING CERAMICS/RAKU I

For beginning and intermediate students. Designed to teach basic ceramic and raku techniques. Glaze, nonglaze, and patina instruction included. Techniques in pinch, coil, slab work, and throwing on the potter's wheel. Electric and gas kiln firing methods demonstrated. (spring)

3863 SPECIAL PROBLEMS IV 3 HOURS

For art majors to specialize in depth with specific problems in specific media. This could include gallery preparation courses, internships, special study with professionals, or workshops in specialized fields. Instructor's permission required. May be repeated with different content and section number. Topics include desktop publishing. (TBA)

SPECIAL PROBLEMS V/ 3883 INTERNSHIP

3 HOURS

Internship in art area of special interest. Required in certain art majors. Instructor's permission required. (TBA)

CERAMICS/RAKU II 3 HOURS

Further in-depth emphasis on glazing and technique. Prerequisite: ART 2343 or ART 3823. (TBA)

4063-6 ADVANCED STUDY I 3-6 HOURS

Emphasis on special problems related to areas of special interest including academic, studio, or internships and their numerous techniques and solution possibilities. Instructor's permission required. May be repeated with different content and section number. Topics include water media, graphic design studio, portfolio. (TBA)

SPECIAL TOPICS III

Advanced study in areas of special interest: a thorough involvement in specific subject is confined to definite areas of the student's emphasis. Senior-level commitment and achievement are expected in both research and presentation. Can be repeated with different content and section number. Topics include advanced graphic computer and studio. (TBA)

ADVANCED STUDY/INTERNSHIP

Required in certain art majors. Students are placed in professional areas of their specific emphasis to work as if employed. Instructor's permission required. (TBA)

4263 SPECIAL TOPICS/ART HISTORY II 3 HOURS

Advanced study in areas of special interest with a thorough involvement in specific art history subjects. Senior-level commitment and achievement are expected in both student research and presentation. Can be repeated with different content and section number. (TBA)

4353-6 ADVANCED STUDIO I 3-6 HOURS

Emphasis on special problems related to areas of special interest including academic, studio, or internships and their numerous techniques and solution possibilities. Instructor's permission required. Can be repeated with different content and section number. Topics include advanced typography. (TBA)

4363 ADVANCED STUDY/ART HISTORY I 3 HOURS

Advanced study in a chosen or assigned art history area of special interest confined to specific predetermined requirements. May be repeated with different content and section number. (TBA)

ADVANCED STUDIO II 3-6 HOURS

Instructor's permission required prior to enrollment. Involves producing art pieces for a senior exhibit. Required for studio and graphic design majors. (TBA)

4563 ADVANCED STUDIO 3 HOURS

Instructor's permission required prior to enrollment. Required for studio, graphic design, and photography majors. Topics include senior exhibit, senior capstone, and advanced studio/senior exhibit. (TBA)

4653-6 PROFESSIONAL ARTS III/ TECHNIQUE

3-6 HOURS

Gallery policy and procedures of display, organization, PR, documentation, research, and graphic preparations. (TBA)

ADVANCED STUDY/ 4663 ART HISTORY II 3 HOURS

May be repeated with different content and section number. Instructor's permission required. (See ART 4363). (TBA)

INDEPENDENT STUDY 4793-6

Advanced study in areas of special interest with a thorough involvement in specific subjects. Senior-level commitment and achievement are expected in both student research and presentation. Instructor's permission required. May be repeated with different content and section number. (TBA)

ARTS MANAGEMENT (AMGT)

ART MANAGEMENT INTERNSHIP 3 HOURS

The internship provides the arts management student with the opportunity to apply and temper newly gained knowledge in arts management within the context of an actual performing arts or arts service organization. The nature and content of the internship will be negotiated among the student, the host organization, and the arts management advisor.

1743 INTRODUCTION TO

ENTERTAINMENT BUSINESS I 3 HOURS

1753 INTRODUCTION TO ENTERTAINMENT BUSINESS II 3 HOURS

Two survey courses offered sequentially, examining the components of the entertainment industry in today's ever-changing world, with special attention given to business management in for-profit and nonprofit entertainment corporations, special event coordination, facility management, multimedia management, recreation management, and retail and fashion presentation and marketing productions. Students explore the challenges facing principal players such as administrators, producers, publicists, managers, agents, distributors, technicians, and talent. Students are exposed to professional fundamentals of the industry's varied corporate cultures, comportment, proposal preparation, written and oral presentation skills, and managing production meetings. The courses include investigation of the professional employment opportunities in the management side of the industry. Class discussion focuses on the impact of marketing, consumer behavior, media savvy, the law, and the Internet on an increasingly global industry. For arts management majors only.

2713 INTRODUCTION TO ENTERTAINMENT TECHNOLOGY FOR ARTS MANAGERS

3 HOURS

An introductory course to foster an understanding and appreciation of the mechanics and processes involved in creating and producing an entertainment project. Attention is given to how the technical aspects of a production in the entertainment industry evolve from initial conception to final presentation. Students learn how producers and managers communicate effectively with directors, designers, and technicians working in the entertainment industry. Guidelines and techniques for creating and managing budgets pertaining to the technical aspects of an entertainment project are examined. Sophomore standing required. For arts management majors only. (spring)

DANCE STUDIO TECHNOLOGY 3 HOURS

A study of the audio, visual, and computer technology utilized within the modern dance studio and dance school or academy to support instruction, recitals, performances, and video collections. For master teacher majors only.

DANCE STUDIO MANAGEMENT 3 HOURS

This is a course in how to establish, operate, and build a successful dance studio. All aspects of studio management are covered. including site location, physical plant requirements, classes to be offered, development of teaching staff, promotion, office management, and recitals. Junior standing required. For arts management majors only. (spring)

ARTS MANAGEMENT COSTUME LAB 1 HOUR

This course covers the techniques of constructing, maintaining. and managing costumes for a professional performing arts company. For arts management majors only.

3703 STAGE MANAGEMENT AND PRODUCTION 3 HOURS

A comprehensive examination of stage management for a broad range of theatre and entertainment events, examining the stage manager's backstage and front-of-house responsibilities from preproduction planning through postproduction. Students gain an understanding of the synergistic nature of production elements: direction, lighting, sound, sets, props, costumes, ticket office, and front-of-house management. Course topics include auditions, event planning, master calendars and scheduling, production meetings, running effective rehearsals, preparing the space, taking blocking notation, giving cues, making rehearsal reports, coordinating between director and division heads, preparing for rehearsals, running performances, and understanding human behavior as it relates to show production. The course includes a lab component consisting of show production assignments coordinated through the instructor. Junior standing required.

MANAGEMENT OF NONPROFIT 3713 ARTS ORGANIZATIONS 3 HOURS

An introduction to the management of nonprofit performing arts organizations from the perspective of the general manager. The course covers organizational structure, boards of directors, staffing, budgeting, finance, marketing, fund-raising, and operations. Junior standing required. For arts management majors only. (fall)

TOURING PERFORMING ARTS ORGANIZATIONS 3 HOURS

An introduction to the key concepts and techniques needed by a performing arts tour manager for planning, budgeting, marketing. and implementing a tour by a performing arts organization. Junior standing required. For arts management majors only. (fall)

DEVELOPMENT AND FUND-RAISING 3 HOURS

An examination of the theory, practice, and techniques for raising funds and financial support for nonprofit, tax-exempt organizations such as orchestras, dance companies, opera companies, and theatres. For arts management majors only, (spring)

3742 CONTRACTS AND MANAGEMENT FOR PERFORMERS/ARTS MANAGERS 2 HOURS

For the student planning a professional performance career, this course is designed to provide basic but important information about contract law for performers, organizational structures in the performing arts, performing arts unions, artist agents and managers, unemployment insurance, and workers' compensation. Junior standing required. (performers section in fall; arts managers and master teacher sections in spring.)

ENTERTAINMENT MARKETING 3 HOURS

The principles of marketing, advertising, and public relations are applied to promoting shows, concerts, and other performing arts events, organizations, and talent in order to achieve specific goals set by the arts or artist manager. Junior standing required. For arts management majors only. (spring)

NONPROFIT ACCOUNTING 3763 FOR THE ARTS 3 HOURS

The principles of managerial accounting and finance applied to the not-for-profit arts environment. Junior standing required. For arts management majors only. (spring)

DANCE COMPANY MANAGEMENT 3 HOURS

An examination of dance company management and the issues confronting dance managers. General arts management knowledge and techniques are specifically applied to managing professional dance companies. The course focuses on issues of concern to general managers, company managers, and stage managers for dance companies and dance-intense stage productions. Prerequisite: AMGT 3713. For arts management majors only. (spring)

4701 COMPUTERS FOR ARTS MANAGERS 1 HOUR

A class designed to advance performing arts managers' knowledge of and ability to apply the use of personal computers to performing arts management tasks. The course focuses on the uses of both common software as specifically applied to the performing arts as well as entertainment industry-specific software including, but not limited to, box office management, event coordination and planning, and the design and execution of entertainment technology. For arts management majors only. (spring)

DANCE STUDIO MANAGEMENT 3 HOURS 4783

Capstone for master teacher majors. This is a course in how to establish, operate, and build a successful dance studio. All aspects of studio management are covered, including site location, physical plant requirements, classes to be offered, development of teaching staff, promotion, office management, and recitals. Junior standing required. For master teacher majors only. (spring)

4793 PRESENTING AND SPONSORING PERFORMANCES 3 HOURS

Capstone course for entertainment business and dance management majors. An examination of the issues and considerations required to produce, sponsor, or present performances for performing arts series, festivals, and residencies. The course covers all aspects of presenting, including organizational structure, planning programming, budgeting, financing, marketing, and implementing sponsored performances. Senior standing required. For arts management majors only. (spring)

ASIAN STUDIES (ASTD)

*1413 SURVEY OF ASIAN HISTORY AND POLITICS

3 HOURS

A survey course reviewing the history of Pacific Basin countries since the nineteenth century and the beginning of their interaction with the West, focusing on politics, history, culture, philosophy, and economics. Cross-listed HIST 1413. (TBA)

2103 PERSPECTIVES ON ASIAN CULTURE 3 HOURS

An introduction to the dynamics of East Asian and Southeast Asian cultural and communication patterns, including elements such as the historical and philosophical roots, the role of the family, interpersonal relationships, and ethical and moral obligations. (TBA)

3013 INTRODUCTION TO CHINESE LITERATURE AND CULTURE 3 HOURS

An overview of the literature of China in English translation.

CHINESE HISTORY TO 1911 3 HOURS

Chinese history from prehistory to the Republican revolution of 1911. Cross-listed HIST 3103. (TBA)

*3113 MODERN CHINA 3 HOURS

Chinese politics, economics, and history from the end of the Cling dynasty, including the Chinese economic reform movement and beyond. Cross-listed POLS 3113. (fall, odd)

JAPANESE HISTORY TO THE *3203 TWENTIETH CENTURY 3 HOURS

The history, culture, and philosophy of Japan from the Nara period to the twentieth century. Cross-listed HIST 3203. (TBA)

*3213 MODERN JAPAN 3 HOURS

Traces the history of Japan from 1867 to the present, including the growth and ruin of Japan as a military power and rebirth as an economic giant. Cross-listed POLS 3213. (TBA).

MODERN SOUTHEAST ASIA

An introduction to the history, politics, and economics of modern Southeast Asia, including Singapore, Indonesia, Vietnam, Burma, Laos, Cambodia, Myanmar, and Malaysia. Cross-listed HIST 3313. (TBA)

4163 ASIAN RELIGIONS AND PHILOSOPHY3 HOURS

Variable topic course examining Asian religious and philosophical traditions. Topics include Confucianism, Taoism, Shinto, Buddhism, etc. The course explores the connections between religious and philosophical traditions and the development of politics, culture, and history of East and Southeast Asia. (TBA)

4263 TOPICS IN ASIAN STUDIES 3 HOURS

Variable topics in Asian Studies. (TBA)

3 HOURS

4363SA STUDY ABROAD (PRC, Taiwan, Japan, HK)

Study abroad courses to Asia. Content/times vary. (TBA)

BIOLOGY (BIOL)

SCIENCE, TECHNOLOGY. 1003 AND SOCIETY

3 HOURS

This course focuses on the acquisition and meaning of scientific data leading to the development and support of hypotheses and theories. The use of scientific knowledge in selected areas is investigated with regard to its application to technology, human wellbeing, and related ethical problems. Topics related to pseudoscience and the abuse of science and technology are also discussed.

SELECTED TOPICS IN BIOLOGY

Topics to be developed will change. The course is designed for students who have little or no training in science and does not count as a course toward a biology major. Three hours lecture and three hours laboratory each week. (TBA)

1101 ORIENTATION TO BIOLOGY 1 HOUR

A weekly class meeting required for all new biology majors. The requirements for the major, schedule planning, and advisement procedures are introduced. On- and off-campus resources pertinent to the biology major are introduced, and practice in their acquisition and utilization is conducted. Career information, including immediate job entry opportunities and requirements for postbaccalaureate degree; programs (professional and graduate) are presented. Students initiate development of their portfolios, which will include specified examinations and other written assignments such as laboratory reports, and a list of objectives to be satisfied prior to graduation. (fall)

SELECTED CONCEPTS IN BIOLOGY 4 HOURS

Concepts in biology, physiology, ecology, and evolution are examined in class and laboratory. The course is designed for students who have little or no training in science and does not count as a course toward a biology major. Three hours lecture and three hours laboratory each week. (TBA)

1214 FUNDAMENTALS OF BIOLOGY 4 HOURS

A survey course designed to examine the central concepts of modern biological thought and the evidence that provides support for these concepts. This course is a prerequisite for many advanced biology courses and is for majors only. Three hours lecture/discussion and three hours laboratory each week. (fall)

ENVIRONMENTAL SCIENCE 4 HOURS

This course emphasizes biological aspects of the environment, including the effect of humans on other organisms (and vice versa), and their role in biological ecosystems. This course is designed for students who have little or no training in science and does count as a course toward a biology major. Three hours lecture and three hours laboratory each week. (TBA)

HUMAN ANATOMY AND 2003, PHYSIOLOGY I AND II 2103 3. 3 HOURS

Theoretical systematic study of the structure and function of the human body. BIOL 2003 initially examines the cellular and tissue structure and function of the human body. Thereafter, an in-depth study of the skeletal, muscular, nervous, and endocrine systems ensues. BIOL 2103 focuses on the circulatory, excretory, digestive, immunological, and reproductive systems of the human body. Prerequisite or corequisite: CHEM 1025 or equivalent or permission of instructor. (I offered spring; II offered fall).

2041. HUMAN ANATOMY AND 2141 PHYSIOLOGY LABORATORY I & II 1, 1 HOUR

Taught concurrently with Biology 2003, 2103. Concurrent enrollment recommended but not required. (I offered spring; II offered fall.)

2214 GENERAL BOTANY 4 HOURS

This is a survey course designed to examine plant structure and function. The emphasis is on mechanisms of plant adaptation to the environment. The laboratory involves hands-on activities related to concepts and principles discussed in lecture. Three hours of lecture/discussion and three hours of laboratory each week. Prerequisite: BIOL 1214. (spring)

INTRODUCTORY MICROBIOLOGY

This course, intended for nursing majors and students who plan to enter allied health fields, is an introduction to the structural and functional characteristics of microbes with a focus on bacteria and viruses. The importance of microbes to human health and welfare is a principle perspective in the architecture of this course. The laboratory component is devoted to the acquisition of skills required in the study of bacteria. Three hours of lecture/discussion and three hours of laboratory each week. Prerequisites: CHEM 1025 or equivalent and BIOL 2003 or equivalent, or permission of the instructor. (spring)

GENERAL ZOOLOGY 4 HOURS

This course is a study of animal structure and function with an emphasis on animal diversity and mechanisms of adaptation to the environment. Most laboratory sessions include dissection of preserved specimens of the animals discussed in lecture. Three hours of lecture/discussion and three hours of laboratory each week. Prerequisites: BIOL 1214 or equivalent, or BIOL 2003, 2041, 2013, and 2141, or permission of instructor. (spring)

2852 MEDICAL VOCABULARY 2 HOURS

This course is designed for students who are in the biomedical track or premedicine track. The course focuses exclusively on terminology required for medical practitioners.

GENETICS 3 HOURS

This course deals with the fundamental principles and mechanisms of genetics; including, structure and function of nucleic acids; mechanisms of inheritance and genetic change; similarities and differences in viral, prokaryotic, and eukaryotic systems; applications of statistics and other analytical tools to understanding the mechanisms of genetics; and an introduction to population genetics and related questions in molecular evolution. Three hours of lecture/ discussion each week. Prerequisite: BIOL 1214 or equivalent and a college chemistry course, or permission of instructor. (fall)

INVERTEBRATE ZOOLOGY 3014 4 HOURS

A study of the structure and function of invertebrate groups. Three hours of lecture and three hours of laboratory each week. Prerequisite: BIOL 1214 and BIOL 2414 or permission of instructor.

GENETICS LABORATORY 3041 1 HOUR

Laboratory investigations in Mendelian and non-Mendelian inheritance using experimental systems such as bacteria, bacteriophage, Drosophila, and Arabidopsis, and an introduction to techniques and tools used in the molecular genetics laboratory, that may include DNA isolation and manipulation, electrophoresis, PCR, and cloning techniques. Three hours of laboratory each week. Prerequisites: BIOL 3003 or concurrent enrollment or permission of instructor. (fall)

2851-8. DIRECTED STUDY IN BIOLOGY 1-8 HOURS 3851-8. 4851-8

Level designed for individual or small-group study within specialized areas of biological science. Under appropriate faculty guidance, study opportunities range from specialized course work (i.e., courses not listed in the catalog) and seminars or colloquia to participation in a specific research project. The course level shown on enrollment reflects the level of complexity inherent in the study opportunity. (TBA)

3113 HISTOLOGY 3 HOURS

This course is a study of the anatomical features of cells, tissues, and organs. Emphasis is placed on observations at the light microscopic level. One hour of lecture and three hours of laboratory each week. Prerequisite: BIOL 1214 and BIOL 2414 or permission of instructor.

GENERAL MICROBIOLOGY 3114 4 HOURS

This course, intended for majors in biology and related fields, focuses on the structure and physiology of microorganisms, with an emphasis on bacteria. The skills required to handle and study bacteria are acquired in the lab portion of the course. Three hours of lecture/discussion and three hours of laboratory per week. Prerequisites: BIOL 1214 or equivalent and CHEM 1104 or equivalent, or permission of instructor. (fall)

3214 COMPARATIVE ANATOMY 4 HOURS

Morphology of the organ systems in animals with special emphasis on vertebrates, providing a basis for the structural and developmental history of humans and other animals. Detailed dissection of selected vertebrates. Three hours lecture/discussion and three hours of laboratory each week. Prerequisites: BIOL 1214 and either BIOL 2414 or BIOL 2003, 2041, 2103, and 2141, or permission of instructor. (TBA)

PRINCIPLES OF ECOLOGY 4 HOURS

This course is designed for biology majors. Emphasis is placed on ecological theory in an effort to explain the development and maintenance of natural ecosystems. Field trips are included. Three hours lecture and three hours laboratory each week. Prerequisite BIOL 1214 or equivalent. (fall, odd)

COMPARATIVE PHYSIOLOGY 3414 4 HOURS

The integration of neural, hormonal, nutritional, circulatory, and excretory functions of the animal as related to cell-origin interrelationships. Laboratory exercises include instrumentation and techniques required for the study of animal systems. Three hours lecture/ discussion and three hours of laboratory each week. Prerequisites: BIOL 1214 and either BIOL 2414 or BIOL 2003, 2041, 2103, and 2141, or permission of instructor. (TBA)

CELL BIOLOGY 4 HOURS

Principles of cellular activity, molecular structure and protoplasm, surface and osmotic phenomena, permeability, energy exchange mechanisms, and the biochemistry of cellular replication. Three hours lecture and three hours laboratory each week. Prerequisite: BIOL 1214 or permission of instructor. (spring, even)

*3714 GENERAL BIOCHEMISTRY 4 HOURS See CHEM 3714.

DEVELOPMENTAL BIOLOGY 3814 4 HOURS

An experimental and descriptive approach toward understanding embryological development. An introduction to gametogenesis, fertilization, differentiation, growth, regeneration, and asexual reproduction. Three hours lecture and three hours lab oratory per week. Prerequisite: BIOL 1214 or equivalent. (fall, even)

3851-8 DIRECTED STUDY

1-8 HOURS

3914 PLANT SYSTEMATICS 4 HOURS

This course emphasizes the origin and evolutionary patterns of vascular plants with an emphasis on flowering plants. The importance of various techniques used in the development of classification schemes, including those related to computer analyses and molecular biology, are discussed. Reproductive biology of flowering plants constitute a significant component of this course. The laboratory emphasizes the flora of Oklahoma. The course consists of three hours of lecture and three hours of lab oratory per week. Prerequisite: BIOL 2214.

4114 ANIMAL BEHAVIOR 4 HOURS

A comparative study of the behavior of animals in their natural environments. Emphasis is placed on the ecological and evolutionary significance of the behavior of lower vertebrates and invertebrates. Two hours lecture discussion and two three-hour laboratory periods each week. Prerequisite: BIOL 1214 or permission of instructor, (TBA)

4214 MOLECULAR BIOLOGY 4 HOURS

This course focuses on biologic processes at the molecular level, including in-depth study of nucleic acids, gene organization, and gene expression. Modern recombinant DNA technology and approaches are addressed throughout the course. Three hours of lecture and three hours of laboratory each week. Prerequisite: junior or senior standing or permission of instructor.

4314 PATHOGENIC MICROBIOLOGY AND IMMUNOLOGY 4 HOURS

This course addresses the mechanisms by which microorganisms, especially bacteria, cause disease. The human immune responses to invasive microorganisms also will be covered. Three hours of lecture/discussion and three hours of laboratory per week. Prerequisites: BIOL 3114 and junior or senior standing or permission of instructor. (TBA)

*4403 ADVANCED BIOCHEMISTRY 3 HOURS See CHEM 4403.

*4442 LABORATORY TECHNIQUES IN BIOCHEMISTRY 2 HOURS

See CHEM 4442.

BIOLOGY CAPSTONE 4502 2 HOURS

This course fulfills the general education capstone requirement for all biology majors. The student completes a capstone project that requires conducting laboratory or library research on an approved question drawn from the field of biology. Course requirements include a written paper, which draws on the primary research literature in addressing the research question and an oral presentation of the capstone project to the department. Students are required to complete the development of their portfolios. Prerequisite: senior standing.

4881-8 INTERNSHIP 1-8 HOURS

Structured and evaluated experiential learning in a biology-related organization. Number of credit hours and location arranged through the Department of Biology. Prerequisite: junior or senior standing and permission of the department chair. (TBA)

4991-8 RESEARCH 1-8 HOURS

Research projects are conducted under appropriate faculty guidance. By permission of department chair only. (TBA)

CHEMISTRY (CHEM)

SCIENCE, TECHNOLOGY, 1003 AND SOCIETY

3 HOURS

Topics discussed include the scientific method, the concept of a scientific theory, science vs. pseudoscience, science vs. technology, and scientific/technological issues that are important for modern society. (TBA)

1014 CHEMISTRY 4 HOURS

A course for the nonscience major that includes the basic vocabulary and concepts of chemistry and the acquisition of chemical knowledge and applications of chemistry. Three hours of lecture/discussion plus three hours of laboratory each week. This course satisfies the general education laboratory science requirement. (TBA)

1025 PRINCIPLES OF CHEMISTRY 5 HOURS

A survey course in chemistry designed to meet the needs of students majoring in education, exercise studies, and nursing. Four hours of lecture/discussion plus three hours of laboratory per week. This course satisfies the general education laboratory science requirement. (fall)

GENERAL CHEMISTRY I 4 HOURS

This is the beginning chemistry course for students majoring in chemistry or other areas of science. It examines the structure and chemical properties of matter. Theories of bonding, chemical nomenclature, the stoichiometry of reactions, chemical equations, and thermochemistry are included. Four hours of lecture and discussion each week. Prerequisite: two years of high school algebra or equivalent. The combination of this course and CHEM 1141 satisfies the general education laboratory science requirement. (fall)

GENERAL CHEMISTRY I LABORATORY 1 HOUR

An introduction to measurements and operations in the chemistry laboratory. Experiments in this lab follow the course content of CHEM 1104. Three hours of laboratory each week. Prerequisite: CHEM 1104 or its equivalent (may be taken concurrently with CHEM 1104). The combination of this course and CHEM 1104 satisfies the general education laboratory science requirement. (fall)

GENERAL CHEMISTRY II

A continuation of CHEM 1104. Examines features unique to solids. liquids, gases, and solutions. Applies concepts of chemical kinetics, equilibrium, thermodynamics, and electrochemistry. Four hours of lecture/discussion each week. Prerequisite: CHEM 1104 or Advanced Placement. (spring)

1241 GENERAL CHEMISTRY II LABORATORY

1 HOUR

Experiments in this lab follow the course content of CHEM 1204. Three hours of laboratory each week. Prerequisite: CHEM 1204 (may be taken concurrently with CHEM 1204.) (spring)

ENVIRONMENTAL CHEMISTRY

Students will utilize chemistry fundamentals to develop an understanding of the source, fate, and reactivity of substances in natural and polluted environments. This course will emphasize energy utilization and its consequences and on the chemistry of the atmosphere, hydrosphere, and lithosphere. Topics will include energy, the greenhouse effect, climate change, air pollution, stratospheric ozone depletion, pollution and treatment of water sources, sewage issues, trash disposal issues, land pollution, and the environmental fate and movement of various pollutants. Three hours of lecture and three hours of laboratory each week. (spring)

2303 QUANTITATIVE ANALYSIS

Principles of volumetric, gravimetric, and instrumental methods of quantitative analysis. Introduction to statistical evaluation of data. Three hours of lecture/discussion each week. Prerequisite: CHEM 1204 or Advanced Placement. (fall, odd)

OUANTITATIVE ANALYSIS 2342 LABORATORY

2 HOURS

3 HOURS

Laboratory experiments utilizing the techniques of volumetric, gravimetric, and instrumental methods of quantitative analysis. Six hours of laboratory each week. Prerequisite: CHEM 1241. Corequisite: CHEM 2303. (fall, odd)

*2403 NUTRITION

3 HOURS

Basic principles of nutrition including the physiologic role of nutrients in the body, the psychosocial aspects of eating, and nutritional needs at various stages in the life cycle. Three hours of lecture each week. This course does not count toward the majors in science and chemistry. Prerequisite: CHEM 1204 or CHEM 1025. Cross-listed KES 2403, NURS 2403. (fall)

3103 ORGANIC CHEMISTRY I 3 HOURS

The chemistry of carbon compounds with special emphasis on reaction mechanisms and synthesis. Three hours of lecture/ discussion each week. Prerequisite: CHEM 1204 or Advanced Placement. (fall)

3141 ORGANIC CHEMISTRY LABORATORY I

1 HOUR

Techniques used in Organic Chemistry laboratories and experiments that highlight concepts in Organic Chemistry. (fall)

3203 ORGANIC CHEMISTRY II 3 HOURS

A continuation of CHEM 3103. Three hours of lecture/discussion each week. Prerequisite: CHEM 3103 or equivalent. (spring)

ORGANIC CHEMISTRY 3241 LABORATORY II

1 HOUR

Continuation of CHEM 3141; synthesis of carbon-based molecules. (spring)

3242 ORGANIC CHEMISTRY LABORATORY

2 HOURS

The synthesis of organic compounds and the application of qualitative analytical techniques in organic chemistry. Six hours of laboratory each week. Prerequisite: CHEM 1241 and CHEM 3203 (may be taken concurrently with CHEM 3203). (spring)

3503 PHYSICAL CHEMISTRY I 3 HOURS

The physical properties of chemical systems, including a study of fundamental physical laws, thermodynamics, and molecular structure. Three hours of lecture and discussion each week. Prerequisites: CHEM 1204, MATH 2004 and either PHYS 1603 or PHYS 2204. (fall, even)

3541 PHYSICAL CHEMISTRY LABORATORY

1 HOUR

Experiments designed to illustrate the physical chemistry concepts discussed in CHEM 3503 with special emphasis on data analysis and report writing. Three hours of laboratory each week. Prerequisite: CHEM 3503 (may be taken concurrently). (fall, even)

PHYSICAL CHEMISTRY II

A continuation of CHEM 3503. Three hours of lecture and discussion each week. Prerequisite: CHEM 3503. (spring, odd)

*3714 GENERAL BIOCHEMISTRY 4 HOURS

Chemical properties and metabolism of constituents of living organisms. Three hours of lecture/discussion and three hours of laboratory each week. Prerequisite: CHEM 3103 or equivalent. Cross-listed BIOL 3714. (fall)

SPECIAL TOPICS IN CHEMISTRY 2-4 HOURS

Exploration of new fields of chemistry. Prerequisite: advanced standing and consent of the instructor. (TBA)

ADVANCED BIOCHEMISTRY 3 HOURS

Detailed analysis of selected areas of intermediary metabolism with an introduction to enzyme and hormone research. Three hours of lecture/discussion each week. Prerequisite: CHEM 3714 or BIOL 3714. Cross-listed BIOL 4403. (spring)

*4442 LABORATORY TECHNIQUES IN BIOCHEMISTRY 2 HOURS

Introduction to techniques used in biochemical research with emphasis on experimental design, evaluation, and interpretation of data. Six hours of laboratory each week. Prerequisite: CHEM 3714 or BIOL 3714 (may be taken concurrently). Cross-listed BIOL 4442. (TBA)

4862 CHEMISTRY CAPSTONE

This course fulfills the general education capstone requirement for all chemistry and biochemistry majors. Each student will conduct a capstone project involving library research on an approved topic in chemistry or biochemistry. Course requirements include a research paper and an oral presentation. (TBA)

CHEMISTRY RESEARCH 4991-6 1-6 HOURS

Research on specific current problems in chemistry. Three to eighteen hours of laboratory each week. Prerequisite: Advanced standing and consent of instructor. (TBA)

CHINESE (CHIN)

1013 INTRODUCTION TO CHINESE LANGUAGE AND CULTURE

3 HOURS

This course provides students with basic skills in speaking and understanding Chinese language. Attention is given to Chinese customs, mannerisms, and traditions. (fall)

BEGINNING CHINESE I 3 HOURS 1113

Emphasis on listening and speaking. Students learn "survival" Chinese and have mastery of "classroom" language. Three hundred common Chinese characters are introduced for beginning reading skills.

1213 BEGINNING CHINESE II 3 HOURS

Students learn basic conversational skills on an informed basis. Students will be able to identify four hundred additional Chinese characters.

2113 INTERMEDIATE CHINESE I 3 HOURS

Conversation skills are expanded to include nonpersonal items such as world affairs, geography, and international business. Four hundred Chinese characters are included.

2213 INTERMEDIATE CHINESE II 3 HOURS

Further development of students' abilities to speak and write Chinese. Historical, cultural, and contemporary Chinese issues are discussed in Chinese to facilitate the development of more sophisticated conversational skills.

2513 BUSINESS CHINESE

3 HOURS

This course presents a practical introduction to basic Chinese business vocabulary and phrases and terms useful in travel for persons interested in doing business in China and Taiwan. Basic Chinese etiquette, cultural background, and business ethics are addressed. (TBA)

3013 INTRODUCTION TO CHINESE LITERATURE AND CULTURE 3 HOURS

This course involves an overview of the literature of China in English translation, with additional focus on Chinese culture as necessary for greater understanding of its literature. Emphasis is placed on the masterpieces of Chinese literature, primarily from Tang Dynasty poetry to the modern Chinese novel. The course is primarily a reading course. (spring)

3113	ADVANCED CHINESE I	3 HOURS
3213	ADVANCED CHINESE II	3 HOURS
4851-3	DIRECTED READING	1-3 HOURS
4991-3	INDEPENDENT STUDY	1-3 HOURS

COMPUTER SCIENCE (CSCI)

INTRODUCTION TO PROGRAMMING 3 HOURS

An introduction to computation and functions of computer systems, including an introduction to programming. This course may serve as a first course in computer science for students without previous computer experience or who are unsure of interest or aptitude. Entering and running programs are required. Two hours of lecture and two hours of laboratory each week. Mathematics at the level of first-year high school algebra is presumed.

COMPUTER CONCEPTS 1113 AND APPLICATIONS

3 HOURS

An introduction to computer science concepts and the use of selected commercial software. A general education core course. Not required of computer science majors.

1514 ALGORITHM DESIGN AND PROGRAMMING I 4 HOURS

A study of the principles and techniques of algorithm development and computer programming. The emphasis is on problem-solving techniques and the logic of program structure. This course may serve as a first course in computer science for students with programming experience. Otherwise, the course should follow CSCI 1003. Encoding, entering, and running programs comprise a significant part of the course. Three hours of lecture and two hours of laboratory each week. Mathematics at the level of MATH 1303 is presumed.

1614 ALGORITHM DESIGN AND PROGRAMMING II 4 HOURS

A study of structured programming. The emphasis is on advanced programming concepts, including multidimensional arrays, pointers, recursion, and the syntax of classes. Encoding, entering, and running programs comprise a significant part of the course. Three hours of lecture and two hours of laboratory each week. Mathematics at the level of MATH 1503 is presumed. Prerequisite: CSCI 1514.

2004 COMPUTER STRUCTURES. ASSEMBLER, & DIGITAL DESIGN 4 HOURS

A study of the organization and architecture of computer systems. Topics include logic gates, combinational logic circuits, processor design, computer arithmetic, caching techniques, memory organization, input and output, assembly languages, and machine languages. Three hours of lecture and two hours of laboratory each week. Prerequisite: CSCI 1614. (fall, even)

2303 3 HOURS

A study of programming techniques in Java including fundamental programming structures and concepts, GUI applications and applets, and introductory concepts in object-oriented programming. Previous experience in at least one high-level programming language is assumed. Two hours of lecture and two hours of laboratory each week. Prerequisites: CSCI 1614 or permission of instructor. (fall, odd)

3114 DATA STRUCTURES 4 HOURS

The development of the concepts and techniques of structuring data for efficient storage and retrieval. Topics include linked lists, trees, stacks, queues, hash tables, sorting, and searching. Three hours of lecture and two hours of laboratory each week. Prereguisites: CSCI 1614 and MATH 1503.

NETWORKING AND DATA 3303 COMMUNICATION 3 HOURS

A study of computer networks. Topics include packet switching. routing flow control and congestion avoidance, communication protocols and interfacing, high-level protocols, terminals in the network, message authentication, network optimization, and system network structure. Prerequisites: CSCI 2004, CSCI 3114, and MATH 1503. (spring, odd)

3503 DISCRETE MATHEMATICS 3 HOURS

A survey of selected methods of reasoning and objects of study in discrete mathematical structures. Topics include Big O notation, elementary math (logic, set relations, functions, and number theory), proof and counting techniques, recurrence relations, graph theory, and trees. Prerequisite: MATH 1503 or three years of high school algebra. Recommended: MATH 2004.

3613 DATABASE DESIGN AND MANAGEMENT 3 HOURS

An introduction to application program development in a database environment. Topics include loading, modifying, and querying the database; database normalization; and entity-relationship modeling and database analysis, design, and implementation. Prerequisite: one programming language. (fall)

3863 SPECIAL TOPICS IN COMPUTER SCIENCE 3 HOURS

A study of a special topic in computer science; subject and prerequisite may vary. (TBA)

4003 PROGRAMMING LANGUAGES 3 HOURS

A study of the concepts of programming languages, including the definition of syntax vs. semantics, data types and abstractions, expressions, control structures, functions, subprograms, binding, and exception handling. A brief study of logic programming and functional programming are included. Prerequisite: CSCI 3114. (spring, odd)

3 HOURS 4063 SENIOR SEMINAR

A capstone course required of all tracks. Topics include computer science ethics and law, computing and society, and recent research in computer science. Prerequisite: senior standing or permission of instructor. (spring)

LOGIC FOR COMPUTER SCIENCES 3 HOURS 4203

A survey of classical and modern logic including Boolean operators, truth tables, and Karnaugh maps; theorems, argument verification, inference rules, and proof techniques in zeroth- and first-order logic; multivalued logics; and fuzzy logic, including applications such as artificial intelligence and controllers. Prerequisite: MATH 2004.

4213 INTRODUCTION TO SOFTWARE ENGINEERING 3 HOURS

An overview of the major aspects of contemporary software engineering designed to introduce students to the software development life cycle as defined by various software-engineering paradigms. Development of a team-programming project, including system documentation, is an important part of the course. Prerequisites: CSCI 1614 and CSCI 3114. (spring)

4303 INTRODUCTION TO OBJECT-ORIENTED PROGRAMMING 3 HOURS

Topics include the object model, classes and objects, classification, object-oriented analysis and design, class libraries, objectoriented languages and applications. Writing object-oriented programs will comprise a significant portion of the course. Prereguisite: CSCI 3114. (spring, even)

4313 OPERATING SYSTEMS 3 HOURS

A study of system management and control software in a variety of hardware and user environments. The course illustrates common approaches to the development of operating systems and examines in more detail several existing operating systems that will be of continuing importance in the future. Encoding, entering, and running programs are a part of the course. Two hours of lecture and two hours of laboratory each week. Prerequisites: CSCI 3114 and CSCI 2004. (fall)

APPLICATIONS PROGRAM 4503 INTERFACING 3 HOURS

A practical course on designing and implementing software interfaces for application programs running in the Microsoft Windows environment. The course includes a study of the Visual Basic. NET programming environment. Encoding and running programs comprise a significant part of the course. Two hours of lecture and two hours of laboratory each week. Prerequisite: CSCI 3114. (fall, even)

4513 WEB SITE PROGRAMMING AND DESIGN 3 HOURS

A practical course on installing and maintaining a Web site. The course emphasis is on Web site administration and server programming in Unix and Windows environments. Topics include CGI, HTML, Java, JavaScript, VRML, Perl, and custom Web clients. Encoding, entering, and running programs comprise a significant part of the course. Prerequisite: CSCI 3114. (spring, even)

INTERNSHIP IN 4582-3 COMPUTER SCIENCE 2.3 HOURS

A practicum working with computers. The work may be on campus or by arrangement with an off-campus facility. Prerequisites: senior standing and 24 credit hours of computer science.

4603 ADVANCED DATABASES 3 HOURS

A quantitative study of the tools and methodology of database design. The intent of the course is to equip a student to design a conceptual database, specify its implementation, and predict the performance of the system when implemented. Topics include hashing, B-trees, database structures and schemas, structured query language (SQL), and system performance and protection. Experience with ORACLE and DBMS is assumed. Prerequisite: CSCI 3613.

4803 GRAPHICS

3 HOURS

1 HOUR

An integrated study of the hardware, software, data structures, mathematics, and algorithms of image manipulation, computer graphics, and computer-assisted design. Topics include raster technique geometric transformation, illumination models, shading models, basic animations, and strategies for creating representations of three-dimensional objects. Prerequisites: proficiency in C++, MATH 2104, and CSCI 3114. (fall)

INDEPENDENT STUDY 3 HOURS

Individualized study of a particular topic in computer science under the supervision of a member of the faculty. By permission of instructor.

PRACTICUM IN PROGRAMMING 4991 1 HOUR

A survey of practical techniques in solving problems using highlevel computer languages and preparation for local, regional, and national programming competitions. This course is required for students who wish to participate in the Oklahoma City University Programming Team, which requires travel to contest sites. Enrollment by permission of instructor only.

DANCE (DANC)

1131 DANCE WORKSHOP I 1 HOUR

An orientation class focused on the examination of the professional music theater rehearsal and backstage environment with special attention to personal professionalism during class, rehearsals, and performance. Open to dance majors only. (fall)

1152 DANCE HEALTH 2 HOURS

An examination of health issues of vital concern to professional dancers-nutrition, communicable diseases, and prevention and care of injuries. Open to dance majors only. (fall)

1171 MUSICALS FOR DANCERS 1 HOUR

This course introduces dance performance and dance management majors to dance performance opportunities in American musicals through film, lecture, and discussion. Special attention is given to plots, historical significance, composer/librettist/ choreographer teams, and important dance and production numbers. Open to dance majors only. (fall)

1111. BASIC MOVEMENT— 1311, BALLET, JAZZ, TAP

1511 Introductory courses to ballet, jazz, or tap technique for the beginner. May not be applied to the requirements of the B.P.A. in dance degree. Open to students with dance degree requirements only.

BEYOND BASIC MOVEMENT— 1211,

1411, BALLET, JAZZ, TAP

1 HOUR 1611

A continuation of introductory courses to ballet, jazz, or tap technique for the beginner. May not be applied to the requirements of the B.P.A. in dance degree. Open to students with dance degree requirements only.

1193. BALLET TECHNIQUES I, II, III, IV, V, VI, VII, VIII 3 HOURS 3193

Leveled technique classes concerned with ballet, especially as it relates to the American music theater stage. Classes are taught as movement labs and also include academic assignments. Prerequisite: leveling and approval by the dance department.

1391. JAZZ I, II, III, IV, V, VI, VII, VIII 1.2 HOURS 1392. 3391, 3392

Leveled courses designed to familiarize students with the styles and innovations of twenty-first-century American jazz dance. Prereguisite: leveling and approval of the dance department. Open to students with dance degree requirements only.

1591. TAP I, II, III, IV, V, VI, VII, VIII 1 HOUR 3591

Leveled courses using the techniques and terminology of tap steps, combinations, and dances as used in music theater. Prerequisite: leveling and approval by the dance department. Open to students with dance degree requirements only.

THEATRE DANCE 1 HOUR

This course is designed to expose the dancer to the dynamic style pieces used in music theater choreography. Prerequisite: approval of the dance department. Open to students with dance degree requirements only.

2191 POINTE CLASS I 1 HOUR

2791 PARTNERING I 1 HOUR

The study of finely balanced maneuvers performed by a female dancer with the assistance of a male partner. This class is offered both for the classical ballet technique and for the music theater stage. Open to students with dance degree requirements only. (TBA)

2851 MEN'S CLASS 1 HOUR

A ballet class exclusively for men emphasizing the technical aspects of large masculine movement. Open to students with dance degree requirements only. (TBA)

DANCE WORKSHOP II 3141 1 HOUR

An examination of issues important to the personal and career development of the professional dancer. Topics include personal budgeting, image development, résumé development, auditioning strategies, information sources for job opportunities, Equity eligibility requirements, and more. Majors only, with junior standing. Dance department approval required. (spring)

SURVEY OF HISTORY OF DANCE 3623 3 HOURS FOR MASTER TEACHERS

An in-depth study of the history of primitive dance through ballet and modern dance to meet the needs of the master dance teacher. An extensive research project is required. For master teacher majors only. Prerequisite: ENGL 1113 & 1213; junior standing.

HISTORY OF AMERICAN DANCE 3633 FOR MASTER TEACHERS 3 HOURS

An in-depth study of the history of American music theater dance and dance for the entertainment industry. An extensive research project is required. For master teacher majors only. Prerequisite: DANC 3623; junior standing.

HISTORY OF TEACHING DANCE 2 HOURS

An historical examination of the development of ballet, jazz, tap. and modern dance technique and the development of instructional systems and methodologies for helping dancers to advance through a continuum from beginner to advanced levels. For master teacher majors only. Prerequisite: ENGL 1113 & 1213; junior standing.

3792-DANCE HISTORY:

3892 1. BEGINNING TO TWENTY-FIRST

2 HOURS CENTURY 2. AMERICAN DANCE 2 HOURS

The first course traces the history of primitive dance through ballet and modern dance. The second course concentrates on the development of American music theater dance. For majors only. Prerequisite: ENGL 1113 & 1213; junior standing.

ANATOMY AND PHYSIOLOGY 3912 2 HOURS FOR DANCERS

This course emphasizes understanding how the dancer's body functions and how to avoid injury. For majors only. Prerequisite: junior standing. (fall)

4283 CHOREOGRAPHY FOR MASTER TEACHERS I 3 HOURS

An in-depth study of theory and fundamentals of choreography and composition in all dance forms. Students are presented with a wide variety of choreographic challenges requiring attention to issues including style, casting, music, audience, and ethnic/cultural influences. For master teacher majors only. Prerequisite: DANC 4412, 4512, or 4712.

4291 CHOREOGRAPHY—THEORY 1 HOUR

Basic theory and fundamentals of choreography and composition in all dance forms. For majors only. Prerequisites: junior standing and approval of the dance department. (spring)

4391 CHOREOGRAPHY—PERFORMANCE 1 HOUR

Capstone course for dance performance majors. The student is provided an opportunity to apply choreography theory and composition, resulting in a public performance. Students must select music, choreograph an original dance, hold auditions, cast, determine costume and technical requirements, and rehearse and clean their dances, which are presented in the annual Student Choreography Show. Evaluation is by course instructor and faculty jury. For dance performance majors only. Prerequisites: DANC 4291, senior standing and approval of the dance department. (fall)

4293 CHOREOGRAPHY FOR MASTER TEACHERS II 3 HOURS

A continuation of work begun in DANCE 4283 with increasing focus on choreographing within a workshop environment for dancers of varying ages and abilities. An increasing focus will be placed in analyzing and critiquing the work of peers and professional choreographers. For master teacher majors only. Prerequisite: DANC 4283.

DANCE PEDAGOGY FOR 4412. 4422, MASTER TEACHERS 2 HOURS 4512, 4522,

4421, DANCE PEDAGOGY FOR 4521, MASTER TEACHERS LAB 4721

Labs for ballet, tap, and jazz offering students opportunities to apply knowledge and gain experience in real-life teaching situations, including teaching in the school's community dance center. This lab must be taken concurrently with DANC 4422, 4522, or 4722.

4491. DANCE PEDAGOGY -4591. BALLET, JAZZ, TAP 4791

These courses cover the academic and practical sides of preparing students to become qualified teachers of tap, jazz, and ballet. For dance performance majors only. Prerequisites: junior standing (DANC 3912), B level in at least one technique.

1 HOUR

3 HOURS

ECONOMICS (ECON)

2003 ECONOMICS AND THE QUALITY OF LIFE

This is an issues approach to economics. Elements of economic theory are used to provide a basic understanding of individual issues such as how markets for specific goods and services work, what causes prices and output of these goods to change, how unemployment and inflation and budget deficits are interrelated, and how the American economy is interrelated with the global economy. For nonbusiness majors only.

2013 PRINCIPLES OF MACROECONOMICS I 3 HOURS

Following a general description of the subject matter of economics and basic concepts including supply and demand analysis, this course develops the foundations of macroeconomics, Gross Domestic Product and its measurement, and theories of aggregate demand and aggregate supply. The monetary and banking systems and international trade and finance are also studied. These are all used to understand the causes and effects of changes in unemployment, inflation, economic growth rates, interest rates, exchange rates, and other economic variables.

PRINCIPLES OF 2113 MICROECONOMICS II 3 HOURS

This course studies the foundations of the supplies and demands of individual products and resources. It uses the theory of consumption to provide an understanding of the demand side of the market. Production and cost theory provide an understanding of the supply side. Combined, these show the effects of firm and consumer behavior on prices and outputs. Relations between firms within an industry are studied in perfectly and imperfectly competitive markets. This material is applied to consider the advantages and disadvantages of the market system, the effects of government policies, income distribution, economic efficiency, and other issues.

2123 BUSINESS STATISTICS 3 HOURS

Collection and presentation of statistical data; studies of various statistical distributions and their applications in business; introduction to probability theory, sampling, hypothesis testing, regression analysis, and forecasting through the use of computerized statistical packages to manage real databases. Proficiency with collegelevel algebra is expected. Prerequisites: MATH 1503.

2203 ECONOMICS OF POVERTY 3 HOURS

This course covers basic economic principles of supply and demand analysis and decision-making on the part of consumers and firms. Using this theoretical framework, specific economic issues addressing poverty are studied. Approximately half of the course is conducted in the traditional lecture/seminar format, concluding with a midterm exam. The second half consists of volunteer experience with an approved social service agency and periodic class meetings. The semester concludes with a report and presentation from each student on his or her volunteer experience. (TBA)

2323 OUANTITATIVE APPROACHES TO MANAGEMENT

3 HOURS

A survey of applied mathematical techniques used in management science. The course serves as an introduction to the techniques of linear programming, decision theory, inventory control, and queuing models. These concepts form the basis of management science. Prerequisite: ECON 2123.

3013 INTERNATIONAL ECONOMIC POLICIES

3 HOURS

This course studies and compares existing economic systems or policy regimes across countries. The emphasis is on macroeconomic issues. These include government ownership, regulation, and control of firms, including policies toward foreign investment; monetary policies, including those concerned with currency convertibility, capital mobility, and exchange rate regimes; and other policies. Policies of countries in economic transition are discussed in this context. Prerequisite: ECON 2113.

3113 MONEY AND BANKING 3 HOURS

The functions of money, credit, and financial institutions in our economy. Prerequisite: ECON 2113. (fall, summer I)

3213 MICROECONOMICS 3 HOURS

This course expands on the principles and analysis of ECON 2013 and 2113. It gives an exposition of contemporary economic theory and its uses. The student learns how to apply economic logic to many different business and government decisions, especially involving pricing policies, market structure, welfare analysis, and the workings of the modern market system. Prerequisite: ECON 2113. (fall)

3313 MACROECONOMICS 3 HOURS

Macroeconomics is concerned with the aggregate economy more than with individual firms or consumers. Perhaps the most important issues are the relationships among inflation, unemployment, and interest rates. Understanding these relationships allows one to better appreciate the logic of Federal Reserve policies and other policies. Other issues include business cycles, government deficits and surpluses, productivity, growth, and the different schools of macroeconomic thought. Prerequisite: ECON 2113. (spring)

LABOR ECONOMICS

An economic view of labor and the relationship of the laborer to his employer, union, and society, the development of human capital; trade unions; and wage differentials in different industries and between races and sexes. Prerequisite: ECON 2113. (fall-alternate)

NATURAL RESOURCE AND ENVIRONMENTAL ECONOMICS 3 HOURS

Upon completion of this course, a student will be able to appreciate the problems that societies face regarding sustainable growth and its effects on the environment and natural resources, both exhaustible and renewable. Participants gain an understanding of the basic principles of cost-benefit analysis and are able to analyze regulatory policies regarding pollution and other environmental issues. Prerequisite: ECON 2113. (spring-alternate)

3713 3 HOURS GAME THEORY

This course shows how business activity, politics, and individual interaction can be described as games. From this understanding, it then moves to how to play these games to win or not lose. It focuses on how to make strategically appropriate decisions based on predicting the likely behavior of other players. The basic structure of games is introduced as are the solution concepts used in each structure. Prerequisite: ECON 2113. (TBA)

4013 INTERNATIONAL ECONOMICS 3 HOURS

International economics can be split into macroeconomics and microeconomics. On the microeconomic side are the benefits and costs of free international trade, the effects of trade policies such as tariffs and export subsidies, international investment and the multinational corporation, and the effects of free trade agreements and the World Trade Organization. On the macro side, topics include the determinants and effects of exchange rates, exchange rate policies, and the cause and effects of the current account deficits. Prerequisite: ECON 3013 or MBM 3513. (TBA)

PUBLIC ECONOMICS 4113

While most of economics studies the workings of the private sector, public economics is concerned with government operations, especially taxes and spending. The course looks at the effects of taxes on the rest of the economy and the logic of different tax policies; tax equity or fairness; and the effects of various government spending programs, including those concerned with public goods and income redistribution. The course also studies the incentives to which politicians and government employees respond. Prerequisite: ECON 2113. (TBA)

GOVERNMENT AND BUSINESS 3 HOURS 4213

This course deals with the relationship between economically important U.S. laws and the effects these laws have on the economy. The laws are examined by their development and intent. Alternative market structures are developed. How different laws have different effects in different markets is examined to see how the laws actually affect the economy. Prerequisite: ECON 2113. (spring-alternate).

HISTORY OF ECONOMIC THOUGHT 3 HOURS 4313

"The great economists" from the Physiocrats to the present, and their influence on current economic thinking. Prerequisite: ECON 2113. (TBA)

4413 ECONOMIC GROWTH AND DEVELOPMENT

3 HOURS

Economic growth and development problems are the central problems in most countries. This course provides an analytical framework for studying these issues and looks at the determinants and history of growth and development. It explores the roles of government policy, agriculture, manufacturing, education, health, domestic saving, and international trade and investment in the development process. Case studies are employed to illustrate the main concepts. Prerequisite: ECON 2113. (TBA)

4513 APPLIED STATISTICS FOR BUSINESS

3 HOURS

INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY (IT)

COMPUTERS IN SOCIETY 1003 3 HOURS

The objective of this course is to provide students with an understanding of information technology in business. Students learn to effectively manage information technology in business, see how information technology is used to transform the business, and further refine and develop individual computer skills associated with the use of information technology in organizations. This course is meant to prepare students to solve managerial and organizational problems of limited complexity using popular end-user application programs (word processing, spreadsheets, e-mail, Web browsers, and rudimentary database) and build a personal Web site using Microsoft Front Page and introduce HTML language.

2213 OBJECT-ORIENTED SYSTEM DESIGN WITH "VISUAL" TOOLS 3 HOURS

This course provides an opportunity to gain understanding of the concepts and technology of object-oriented systems and to learn system design techniques that take full advantage of this technology. Students develop competence in using Visual tools. Prerequisite: 3 hours of a programming language.

2313 STRUCTURED OUERY LANGUAGE (SQL)

3 HOURS

The course is designed for students who want to learn to interact with Oracle databases. The course not only offers an understanding of SQL, it also prepares students for the first exam in both the Oracle Database Administrator and Internet Application Developer Certification Tracks. Students progress to simple creation of data files and read-write programming. Further topics include elementary data processing followed by advanced topics such as sorting, indexing and merging, control-break programming, data validation, array processing and table handling, and master file/transaction file processing. Database management techniques such as data modeling and the relational database model are introduced. This course prepares students for upper-level IT courses.

3133 MANAGEMENT INFORMATION SYSTEMS

3 HOURS

This course expands students' working knowledge of computer hardware. Computer software categories and applications are covered as are the use of tools such as management support systems (expert systems, decision support systems, executive information systems, and groupware) and Web browsers. Finally, the course examines the effects of computer systems upon humans with respect to information systems management. Prerequisites: IT 1003 and IT 2213 or another computer language approved by the instructor.

4313 BUSINESS SYSTEMS ANALYSIS & DESIGN

This course exposes students to structured systems analysis and design through implementation of the systems development life cycle. Deliverable for this course is a comprehensive group case involving systems proposal, cost estimation, interpersonal interviewing techniques, process modeling, data modeling, network modeling, interface design, file and database construction, security concerns, and maintenance issues. Prototyping and rapid development techniques are discussed. Prerequisite: IT 3133.

DATABASE MANAGEMENT SYSTEMS

3 HOURS

This course is designed to provide students with skills required to develop data structures in order to store organizational memory. The course begins with a brief review of SQL through comprehensive assignments, followed by instruction in Oracle, then database management and development techniques. Topics covered are flat file, hierarchic, network and relational database models; data modeling using Logical Data Structures; Structured Query Language; data normalization; storage concerns; data warehousing; and distributed database systems. Upon completion of this course the student will be able to conceptualize, develop, test, and maintain a complete database system on either microcomputers or mainframe systems. Prerequisite: IT 4313.

4333 BUSINESS SYSTEMS INTERNSHIP

3 HOURS

The internship is designed to allow students to obtain practical work experience prior to completion of the course of study while integrating knowledge and abilities gained in earlier IT courses. Interns must work with the internship coordinator and a sponsor for an organization external to the university to develop an internship proposal. Prerequisites: completion of all required IT track courses, senior standing, an approved proposal, and permission of the instructor.

4823 TOPICS IN COMPUTER INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY 3 HOURS

The subject matter varies from semester to semester emphasizing important computer information technology topics not sufficiently covered in other information technology courses. The course may be repeated with a different content. Prerequisites: IT 3133, junior standing, and permission of the instructor.

4833 NETWORKING 3 HOURS

This course is a conceptual and technological survey of the structure of distributed information systems architectures, operating systems, network operating systems, data management systems, application development environments, peripheral technology. and user interfaces. Interoperability between these architectural components is explored. Current technology and trends in each architectural element are reviewed. We discuss accomplishing electronic commerce over the Internet and how businesses will evolve in the future with the use of the Internet. Prerequisites: IT 3133, junior standing, and permission of the instructor.

4843 STRATEGIC INFORMATION SYSTEMS 3 HOURS

This course examines the use and implementation of information systems for strategic and competitive advantage in an organization. The focus is an analysis of frameworks, which provide students an understanding of the elements of competitive advantage from an upper management point of view. This foundation of frameworks is linked to the organization's information systems through the use of case studies and augmented with "real-world" examples. This course covers a sampling of commercial enterprise software packages and the various implementation methodologies. Students are required to develop requests for proposals for the acquisition of an enterprise software package and evaluate multiple alternatives to meet the needs of a case study organization. Permission of the instructor required.

INTERDEPARTMENTAL (INDP)

ARTS AND HUMAN VALUES 3 HOURS 1013

Students learn to apply creative advertising solutions to broadcast media. Terms, formats, and technical areas are included. Prerequisite: MCAD 2213 or MCBC 2103.

3403 SCRIPTWRITING FOR BROADCAST MEDIA 3 HOURS

Students learn basic scriptwriting techniques for the broadcast media. Students script a variety of programs from television, from soap operas to documentaries. Prerequisite: MCBC 2213.

3603 BROADCAST WRITING II 3 HOURS

This course includes advanced projects in writing for radio and television. Emphasis is on developing and scripting various programs, including the documentary. Prerequisite: MCBC 2213.

4023 CORPORATE VIDEO

3 HOURS

This course introduces students to the unique characteristics of the corporate video. Students go through all processes of planning, preproduction, budgeting, and, finally, producing the corporate video for a client. Prerequisites: MCBC 2213 and MCBC 2343. (spring)

BROADCAST NEWS 3 HOURS 4143

Students produce a weekly thirty-minute live newscast on KOCU-TV. Students are responsible for all aspects of producing this program from scripting to final production. Students have weekly video assignments and staff assignments. Prerequisites: MCBC 2103 and MCBC 2343. (fall)

SELECTED TOPICS/ 4161-3 BROADCAST

1-3 HOURS

Variable content seminar relating to broadcast topics. Example: Broadcast Workshop, Advanced Corporate Video. (TBA)

4243 STUDENT SHOWCASE 3 HOURS

Students work as a team to produce a weekly program for television. Positions rotate throughout the semester. Prerequisites: MCBC 2213 and MCBC 2343.

BLACKWELDER GROUP/ 4343 BROADCAST

3 HOURS

Students provide staffing for a nonprofit student-run broadcast writing and production agency. By permission only.

THE PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE/ 4483 BROADCAST 3 HOURS

Internship. A look at the profession of broadcasting from the inside out. By permission of the instructor and department chair.

DIRECTED READINGS/ 4853 BROADCAST

3 HOURS

Specialized readings relating to intensive study of broadcast subjects. By arrangement with instructor and department chair.

INDEPENDENT STUDY/ 4991-3 BROADCAST

1-3 HOURS

Independent study in an area of broadcast specialization. By permission of the instructor and department chair.

MASS COMMUNICATIONS/ FILM MEDIA (MCFM)

*1123 BEHIND THE SCENES: THE PROCESS OF MAKING FILMS 3 HOURS

Students explore the different facets of the film industry and learn the basic techniques of film production. Students work as a group to produce a short film. Cross-listed MIAP 1123.

SCRIPTWRITING FOR FILM

This course provides an introduction to the special writing requirements of the film medium. It focuses on the specialized techniques of scriptwriting from story treatment to final script. Prerequisite: MCFM 1203.

4161-3 SELECTED TOPICS/FILM

4483 THE PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE/FILM

3 HOURS

Internship. A look at professional film careers from the inside out. By permission of the instructor and department chair.

4853 DIRECTED READINGS/FILM 3 HOURS

Specialized readings relating to intensive study of film subjects. By arrangement with the instructor and department chair.

INDEPENDENT STUDY/FILM 1-3 HOURS Independent study in an area of film specialization. By permission of the instructor and department chair.

MASS COMMUNICATIONS/ PRINT MEDIA (MCPM)

NEWS WRITING AND REPORTING 3 HOURS

This course emphasizes the elements of good grammar and correct news writing style, with emphasis on practical writing assignments mirroring those that will be encountered on the job. The class consists of lecture and lab, and students are required to write for the weekly student newspaper, The Campus.

2103 PUBLIC AFFAIRS REPORTING 3 HOURS

This course introduces students to coverage of government news at the local level. Class assignments require students to learn the techniques of and limitations in gathering information from court proceedings and from city, county, and state government meetings. Students produce news stories from their fieldwork in reporting. Prerequisite: MCPM 2003.

2113 THE MAGAZINE 3 HOURS

This course provides students intensive practical experience in creating a magazine from the ground up. Students develop the editorial concept, graphic look, marketing approach, and circulation plan as well as write and edit articles, prepare illustrations, and finalize computerized pages for publication. This is an advanced course for students experienced in print reporting and editing.

NEWSPAPER ADMINISTRATION 1 HOUR 2201

This course is designed as a seminar for staff members of The Campus. It focuses on group problem solving and practical applications and acquaints staff members with current issues facing the newspaper industry. May be repeated three times.

EDITING FOR PUBLICATIONS 3 HOURS

This course focuses on the collaborative nature of work in the print media, preparing the editor for work with writers and production personnel. It leads students to refine their language and style skills, and presents them with the principles behind evaluating and selecting content, preparing copy to meet high standards, editing photographs, creating headlines, choosing type, and designing and laying out pages. Prerequisite: MCPM 2003.

OPINION WRITING 3413 3 HOURS

This course explores the skills and techniques required for effective presentation of opinions, including news analysis, critical reviews, editorials, and other forms of commentary. Emphasis is on providing insight into news developments within a framework of fairness and balance.

3513 PUBLICATION CONTENT. DEVELOPMENT, AND DESIGN 3 HOURS

This course provides an intensive experience in editing, headlining, and displaying text, photos, artwork, and informational graphics. A strong component in conceptualizing and designing publications from scratch is included. Competence in computerized page construction and graphics technology is required. Prerequisite: MCPM 3313.

3613 FEATURE WRITING FOR PUBLICATIONS

3 HOURS

3 HOURS

This course uses the basic skills learned in news writing as the foundation for moving to the creation of more complex story structures in features. It explores the similarities and differences in writing nonfiction for newspapers, consumer magazines, trade journals, and news releases and provides practical experience in each area. Prerequisite: MCPM 2003.

ELECTRONIC NEWS GATHERING AND WRITING 3 HOURS

This course gives students experience in the practicalities of in-depth enterprise news reporting and in the writing of complex stories. Assignments focus on contextual, issue-oriented topics. Students work on campus for the weekly student newspaper, The Campus, as well as off campus in developing their stories. Prerequisite: MCPM 2003.

4161-3 SELECTED TOPICS/PRINT MEDIA 1-3 HOURS

4343 THE BLACKWELDER GROUP/ PRINT

Students develop specialized series of articles, publications, etc. for selected clients and projects. By permission only.

THE PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE/ 4483 PRINT 3 HOURS

Internship. A look at professional opportunities in the print media from the inside out. By permission of the instructor and department chair.

4853 DIRECTED READINGS/PRINT 3 HOURS

Specialized readings relating to intensive study of print media content areas. By arrangement with the instructor and department chair.

INDEPENDENT STUDY/PRINT 1-3 HOURS

Independent study in an area of specialization. By permission of the instructor and department chair.

MASS COMMUNICATIONS/ PUBLIC RELATIONS (MCPR)

PUBLIC RELATIONS WRITING 3 HOURS

This course introduces students to the fundamentals of style and grammar in public relations writing. It provides practice in preparing news and feature stories, photo captions, public service announcements, speeches, memos and letters, direct mail materials, and brochures and reports. (spring)

PRINCIPLES OF 2313 PUBLIC RELATIONS

3 HOURS

This course is designed to explain the origin, evolution, and nature of the profession; to explore the areas of knowledge vital to the public relations practitioner; and to relate those knowledge areas to practical applications. Students investigate public opinion analysis, communications theory, and use of various kinds of research by the profession. Finally, the course introduces the basic process skills and techniques required for successful public relations practice. (fall)

3013 MEDIA RELATIONS AND EVENTS MANAGEMENT

3 HOURS

Course emphasis is on the techniques and practical skills necessary for the public relations professional. Focus is concentrated on planning, management, funding, budgeting, and production information and resources essential to successful media relations and special event coordination. Prerequisite: MCPR 2313.

PRINT PRODUCTION TECHNIQUES 3 HOURS 3713

Designed for advertising and public relations students who must plan, supervise, or produce persuasive publications. Content focuses on sound design and production guidelines for print media, paper selection, ink and color theory, type selection, printing processes, and production techniques.

3803 STRATEGIC PLANNING FOR PUBLIC RELATIONS

3 HOURS

This course focuses on development of strategic planning and problem-solving techniques essential for implementation of effective public relations programs. Students utilize actual public relations situations to learn how to relate to diverse publics, determine the most credible communications strategies, and analyze the impact of public relations programming and lack of programming on the organization's bottom line. Special attention is given to marketing, public relations, issues management, and international public relations. Prerequisite: MCPR 2313. (spring)

4013 INTEGRATED CAMPAIGN DEVELOPMENT

3 HOURS

As advertising evolves in the marketplace, so does the classic advertising campaign. The integrated marketing campaign is the format now used by major advertisers and advertising agencies. Students learn how to research, evaluate, and analyze the product. market, target consumer, and competition in order to create an effective integrated communications plan that includes advertising, promotion, public relations, and direct marketing components. Prerequisite: MCAD 2213 or MCPR 2313. (fall)

SELECTED TOPICS/ 4161-3 PUBLIC RELATIONS

1-3 HOURS

Variable content seminar relating to public relations topics. Example: Public Relations Case Problems, Crisis Management, etc. (TBA)

4343 THE BLACKWELDER GROUP/ PUBLIC RELATIONS

3 HOURS

Students provide staffing for a nonprofit student-run public relations company. By permission only. (TBA)

THE PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE/ 4483 PUBLIC RELATIONS 3 HOURS

Internship. A look at the profession of public relations from the inside out. By permission of the instructor and department chair.

4853 DIRECTED READING/ PUBLIC RELATIONS 3 HOURS

Specialized readings relating to intensive study of public relations subjects. By arrangement with instructor and department chair.

INDEPENDENT STUDY/ 4991-3 PUBLIC RELATIONS 1-3 HOURS

Independent study in an area of public relations specialization. By permission of the instructor and department chair.

MATHEMATICS (MATH)

1103 PROBLEM-SOLVING APPROACHES IN MATHEMATICS 3 HOURS

This course follows the content of arithmetic, geometry, and prealgebra as it is sequenced through the eighth grade. Each area is connected to problem-solving strategies included in the NCTM goals and standards for the reform of mathematical education. This course gives the student practice with operations including whole number, rational number, informal geometry, integers, and linear equations. Emphasis is on the solution of algorithms and word problems while integrating strategies and variation of techniques as applied to the scope of math learning. Content is used to strengthen the math skills of education majors. (spring)

1203 BASIC CONCEPTS FOR THE UNDERSTANDING OF PRE-ALGEBRA

3 HOURS

This math content course is designed to prepare the education student for college algebra while including ways to implement the NCTM standards for pre-algebra skills including problem solving. cognitive approaches, and thinking skills, connections and manipulatives. Math content includes work and practice with integers. variables, expression, equations, number theory (factors, multiples) and exponents), fractions, probability, decimals, percents, the coordinate plane, square roots, and polynomials. This course includes a recorded journal reflecting the experiences with the above mathematical concepts. (spring)

1213 BASIC CONCEPTS FOR THE UNDERSTANDING OF GEOMETRY 3 HOURS

This math content course prepares the education student for geometrical aspects of informal geometry in both the elementary and intermediate classroom. Content includes a historical perspective of geometry, angles and measures, lines and line segments, patterns, polygons, circumference and area of circles, and volume and surface area. As each concept is practiced, students analyze ways to implement the NCTM standards. (fall)

1303 INTERMEDIATE ALGEBRA 3 HOURS

Our most elementary algebra course, the first semester of a twosemester algebra sequence. Prerequisite: one year of high school algebra.

1503 COLLEGE ALGEBRA 3 HOURS

The second semester of a two-semester algebra sequence.

1602 TRIGONOMETRY 2 HOURS

The equivalent of high-school trigonometry. (fall)

1703 PRECALCULUS 3 HOURS

A review of trigonometry and algebra skills necessary for calculus.

2004 CALCULUS AND ANALYTIC 4 HOURS GEOMETRY I

Differential and integral calculus of one variable, application to elementary functions. Prerequisite: MATH 1503 or 1602 or equivalent.

2104 CALCULUS AND ANALYTIC GEOMETRY II

4 HOURS

Application of differentiation and integration to hyperbolic trigonometric functions, special integration techniques, infinite series, Taylor and McLaurin series, functions in polar coordinate form. Prerequisite: MATH 2004.

2203 CALCULUS III

3 HOURS

3 HOURS

3 HOURS

Multivariate calculus, use of vectors, Gauss', Strokes', and Green's theorems. Prerequisite: MATH 2104. (fall)

3003 LINEAR ALGEBRA

An introduction to vector spaces, matrices and determinants. linear mappings, eigenvalues, bilinear and quadratic forms. May be taken concurrently with MATH 2203. Prerequisite: MATH 2104. (spring, even)

3103 ALGEBRAIC STRUCTURES I 3 HOURS

An introduction to the theory of algebraic structures including groups, rings, and fields. Prerequisite: MATH 3003. (fall, even)

PROBABILITY AND STATISTICS I

An introduction to probability and statistics, discrete and continuous random variables, algebra of expectation, moment-generating functions; binomial, hypergeometric, multinominal, Poisson, normal distributions, Prerequisite: MATH 2203, (fall, odd)

3303 ORDINARY DIFFERENTIAL EQUATIONS

Ordinary differential equations, including transfer methods introduction to partial differential equations. May be taken concurrently with MATH 2203. Prerequisite: MATH 2104. (spring, even)

3403 NUMERICAL METHODS 3 HOURS

Numerical techniques applied to solving equations and systems of equations, interpolation and extrapolation, integration of differential equations, etc. Prerequisites: CSCI 1513 and MATH 2104. (spring)

DISCRETE MATHEMATICS

A survey of selected methods of reasoning and objects of study in discrete mathematical structures. Topics include Big O notation, elementary math (logic, set relations, functions, and number theory), proof and counting techniques, recurrence relations, graph theory and trees. Prerequisite: MATH 1503 or three years of high school algebra. Recommended: MATH 2004.

ADVANCED CALCULUS I 3 HOURS

A rigorous study of number systems, sequences, convergence, continuity, differentiation, and integration. Prerequisites: MATH 2203 and MATH 3303. (fall, even)

3703 ADVANCED GEOMETRY 3 HOURS

Analytic projective geometry of one, two, and three dimensions, with specializations of Euclidean and non-Euclidean geometries. Prerequisites MATH 2203 and MATH 3003. (fall, even)

*3804 ENGINEERING MATH I 4 HOURS

The course covers many of the postcalculus topics in mathematics that are necessary for the modern engineer. Coordinate systems, coordinate transformations, matrices, vector analysis. Ordinary differential equations. Laplace transform. Cross-listed PHYS 3804. (TBA)

*3903 ENGINEERING MATH II 3 HOURS

A continuation of Engineering Math I. Waves, boundary value problems, special mathematical functions, Fourier analysis and Fourier transform, complex variables. Cross-listed PHYS 3903. (TBA)

ALGEBRAIC STRUCTURES II 4103 3 HOURS

Structure of groups, lattices, categories and adjoint functors, tensor products and multilinear algebra. Prerequisite: MATH 3103. (TBA)

4203 PROBABILITY AND STATISTICS II 3 HOURS

Interval estimation, hypotheses testing linear regression, and distribution-free methods. Prerequisite: MATH 3203. (spring, even)

4303 PARTIAL DIFFERENTIAL EOUATIONS

3 HOURS

Prerequisite: MATH 3303. (TBA)

4403 TOPOLOGY 3 HOURS

An introduction to point-set topology. Prerequisites: MATH 3003, MATH 3103, and MATH 3603. (fall, odd)

QUANTUM MECHANICS

See PHYS 4503. (TBA)

4603 ADVANCED CALCULUS II 3 HOURS

4703 FUNCTIONS OF A COMPLEX VARIABLE

3 HOURS

3 HOURS

Analytic functions, Taylor and Laurent series, conformal mapping, Schwartz-Christoffel transformation, contour integration. Prerequisite: MATH 2104. (spring, odd)

4991-6 INDEPENDENT STUDY

1-6 HOURS

By permission of the department chairman. (TBA)

MOVING IMAGE ARTS (MIAP)

INTRODUCTION TO FILM STUDIES 3 HOURS 1013

The course introduces students to the essential techniques of film analysis to develop the critical vocabulary to view, discuss, and write about film as an art form. Distinction between the importance of the literary and cinematic analysis of film is emphasized. Examination of approaches to the study of film include auteurism, genre study and how film forms establish or subvert expectations, theoretical and historical developments in the history of cinema, and the tension between film as an art form and film as a business. Discussion is rooted in the screening of appropriate films.

BEHIND THE SCENES: THE *1123 PROCESS OF MAKING FILMS

See MCFM 1123.

1213 AMERICAN FILM: PRE-1945 3 HOURS

An exploration of the historical and cultural contexts that governed the emergence of film as art and mass culture. From early silent film through the American pre-war studio products, different approaches to narrative filmmaking as a developing form of communication are examined and screened. Readings, screenings, and written reports required.

2023 INTERMEDIATE TECHNOLOGY AND EQUIPMENT PRACTICUM 3 HOURS

Students learn to plan for and operate the most commonly used moving image art technical hardware employed in the processes of professional content production. Equipment needs and usage in each major labor category are examined. Guest lectures and hands-on workshops focusing on results planning, efficiency of usage, safety, and set operations.

INTRODUCTION TO FILM MUSIC

This course explores the roles of music in film from historical, aesthetic and production viewpoints. It is a lectured, workshop, and peer-taught forum examining the relationship of film as a separate element of the overall production and how the working dynamics of the creative team of director, producer, and composer collaborate to use music to voice a unique perspective affecting audience interpretation.

2223 PROJECT 1: SOPHOMORE 3 HOURS

Taken in the second semester of the sophomore year, students are immersed in the physical processes of content production and create individually produced short, basic sync-sound moving image productions. Production hardware is provided. Successful completion of this course is required for continued study in the major. Prerequisite: MCBC 1123.

FILM PRODUCTION AND BUSINESS 3 HOURS 2273

Students study the professional moving image production management process from product concept to completion. Students learn script selection, breakdown and production scheduling, budget development and management, casting and staffing, production execution, and the visual and aural post production processes. Publicity, marketing techniques, distribution plans, copyright, and chain of title are analyzed.

*2303 CRITICAL READING AND WRITING 3 HOURS See ENGL 2303. (fall)

FILM DIRECTING: THE COLLECTIVE VISION

Students analyze the techniques and resources used in modern film directing necessary for the successful development and completion of a filmed production. Students examine the duties of the director from the perspective of the various craft categories. Emphasis is on the development of the directing leadership model of organization and film production administration.

*2513 FILM: A COMMUNICATOR OF SOCIAL VALUES

3 HOURS

See MASC 2513. (spring, odd)

FILM SOUND RECORDING 3 HOURS

Fundamentals of motion picture sound characteristics and recording methods in both studio and field environments are studied. Emphasis is on technical and hardware considerations for proper sound design needs and the aural landscape as a narrative element.

3073 SPECIAL TOPICS IN FILM PRODUCTION 3 HOURS

Proposed by the student and approved by the program director, a specific topic not included in other moving image arts production classes is studied. Instructor, course competencies, and subjects vary. May be repeated with a change in content. Prerequisite: approval of program director.

NONLINEAR EDITING *3103 3 HOURS See MCBC 3103.

3173 SPECIAL TOPICS IN FILM STUDIES 3 HOURS

Proposed by the student and approved by the program director, a specific topic not included in other moving image arts film studies classes is studied. Instructor, course competencies, and subjects vary. May be repeated with a change in content. Prerequisite: approval of program director.

INTERMEDIATE DIGITAL EDITING 4 HOURS

Continuing from the fundamentals of MCBC 3103, students explore advanced techniques of montage and nonlinear image and sound track construction utilizing the Final Cut Pro platform. Editorial theory, transitions, effects, and advanced methods of time manipulations and narrative structure construction are stressed. In-class and out-of-class projects required. Prerequisite: MCBC 3103.

3223 INTRODUCTION TO CINEMATOGRAPHY

3 HOURS

Students master the fundamental systems and operations of the professional digital motion picture camera and accessories with a focus on camera care, maintenance, lens optics, and performance. Composition, movement, image continuity, and basic digital photographics are included. Outside classroom assignments are given. Prerequisite: MIAP 3123.

3313 GREAT FILMS 3 HOURS

The course explores cinema as a serious art form, perhaps the major one of the 20th century. We focus on the interpretation of films through the techniques of cinematic analysis in order to learn the art of seeing. Although other approaches to film are presented, the auteur theory, that the director is the primary creative force behind a great film, predominates. We view and discuss the films to consider what the auteur (director) is saying, how the auteur is saying it, and how successfully the auteur says it. We consider such topics as whether the true cinema was the silent one; the tension between the cinematic and literary components of a film's structure; how the style of a film can reflect the cultural texture of its director; the importance of film movements—the French New Wave, for example—on film history. The films viewed reflect different cultural experiences to provide an international dimension.

3323 INTRODUCTION TO FILM LIGHTING 3 HOURS

Using classical painters and paintings as a reference, students learn the specifics of portrait, object, and spatial lighting and apply these techniques to the dynamics of moving image content illumination. The basic lighting units, their electrical requirements, performance specifics, and the safety of operations are covered. Emphasis is given to the fundamentals of light value maintenance, manipulation, and use of lighting to enhance story. Prerequisite: MIAP 2023.

3353 PRODUCTION DESIGN 3 HOURS

Students learn the specifics of the production design/art department; its contributions, fundamentals, and applications as a means to communicate story elements. Guest lectures, discussions, and hands-on workshops focusing on story breakdown, storyboarding, and execution of design concepts.

*3363 CINEMA AND INTERNATIONAL EXPLORATIONS

3 HOURS

See ENGL 3363.

MOVING IMAGE ARTS INTERNSHIP 3 HOURS

Oualified students find a workplace opportunity and under the structure and evaluation of the program director, gain field experience. Prerequisite: 12 hours of earned MIAP credits.

ON-CAMERA ACTING

3 HOURS

See THRE 3513.

4124 INTERMEDIATE FILM SOUND 4 HOURS EDITING TECHNIQUES

Study of the technical and aural forces of moving image sound editing at the professional level. Practical and aesthetic considerations relating to recording, editing, and sound design utilizing Logic software. Prerequisite: MCBC 3103 and MIAP 3023.

SENIOR CAPSTONE—PLANNING

All degree candidates are expected to synthesize their comprehensive knowledge by creating a structured, detailed written plan of their project or thesis as a preparation for the capstone. Prerequisite: approval of program director.

*4453 SEMINAR IN THEORY & CRITICISM 3 HOURS See ENGL 4453.

4493 SENIOR CAPSTONE—EXECUTION 3 HOURS

A required program measurement in the senior year is either a comprehensively produced moving image thesis project or an in-depth senior seminar with a written thesis requirement in moving image theory/culture. Production hardware/software provided. Prerequisite: MIAP 4393; approval of program director.

MUSIC—THEORY (MUS)

MUSIC FUNDAMENTALS 1102-2. 2 HOURS 1202

These courses deal with the basic aspects of music, including notation, key signatures, intervals, elementary harmonic structure, ear training, and simple sight-reading. Designed for the nonmusic major. Based on the results of the Music Theory Diagnostic Exam, music majors may be placed in Music Fundamentals. Credit is not acceptable for the B.M. degree.

1112-THEORY I, THEORY II 2. 2 HOURS 1212

Notation, scales, intervals, four-part harmony, using principal and subordinate triads, dominant seventh, dominant ninth, cadences, harmonization of melodies, figured and unfigured basses, original phrases and periods. Application of the preceding to keyboard harmony. This course is taken concurrently with a corresponding theory course. The same instructor teaches both classes. Prerequisite: Music Theory Diagnostic Exam (MUS 1112—fall, spring; MUS 1212—spring, summer)

1122-AURAL SKILLS I, 2, 2 HOURS 1222 AURAL SKILLS II

Designed to improve musical skills related to melodic, harmonic, and rhythmic dictation, sight-reading, and keyboard harmony. This course is taken concurrently with a corresponding theory course. The same instructor teaches both classes. Prerequisite: MUS 1112 and MUS 1212, respectively. (MUS 1122—fall, spring; MUS 1222—spring, summer)

2112-THEORY III, THEORY IV 2. 2 HOURS 2212

Study of eighteenth-century harmony by analyzing, writing, hearing, and playing at the keyboard. Seventh chords, altered chords, altered nonharmonic tones, and augmented sixth chords are included. Modulations to all keys. Analysis of nineteenth-century music. Prerequisite: MUS 1212 Theory II. (MUS 2112—fall; MUS 2212—spring)

2122-AURAL SKILLS III, 2, 2 HOURS 2222 AURAL SKILLS IV

Advanced musical skills development to complement the corresponding theory course. Emphasis is on advanced melodic, harmonic, rhythmic dictation, sight-reading, and keyboard development. Prerequisite: MUS 1222. (MUS 2122—fall; MUS 2222—spring)

3113 ORCHESTRATION 3 HOURS

The study of idiomatic writing for the instruments of the orchestra. Arranging of short compositions for small ensembles of varying instrumentation. Prerequisites: MUS 2112. (fall)

4113 FORM AND ANALYSIS 3 HOURS

A comprehensive study of form from folk songs to symphony. Training in recognizing the various forms by sound and sight. Prerequisites: MUS 2212. (fall)

4212 COMPOSITION II

2 HOURS

More advanced composition techniques with emphasis on the modern idioms. For noncomposition majors only. Prerequisites: MUS 2212, MUS 3113, and MUS 4313. (TBA)

4313 COMPOSITION I

3 HOURS

Study of theory and techniques of composition. Original composition employing these techniques. For noncomposition majors only. Prerequisite: MUS 2212. (fall)

4413 EIGHTEENTH-CENTURY COUNTERPOINT

3 HOURS

Two-part inventions in Bach style. Introduction to fugal writing. Prerequisite: MUS 2212. (spring)

INDEPENDENT STUDY 4911-6 1-6 HOURS

Independent study in music composition for the noncomposition music major. Prerequisites: Permission of instructor (TBA)

MUSIC COMPOSITION (MUS)

(The following courses are for composition majors)

INTRODUCTION TO MUSIC 1211 COMPOSITION

This course provides an introduction to current compositional styles with emphasis on analysis and the composition of short examples in various styles. Prerequisite: MUS 1112. (spring)

COMPOSITION A

This course continues the analysis of contemporary styles begun in MUS 1211. Composition of examples in various styles is continued. Prerequisites: MUS 1212 and MUS 1211. (fall)

2412 COMPOSITION B

2 HOURS

1 HOUR

Emphasis is on the development of an individual style through the composition of short pieces for various mediums. Prerequisites: MUS 2112 and MUS 2312. (spring)

COMPOSITION ELECTRONIC I 3 HOURS

This course serves as an introduction to electronic music synthesis. The student is exposed to the lab environment and the technical aspects of working with electronic equipment. Prerequisites: MUS 2212 and MUS 2412. (fall)

COMPOSITION ELECTRONIC II 3 HOURS

A continuation of MUS 3313 with emphasis on creating several works for the electronic medium. Prerequisite: MUS 3313. (spring)

4513 ADVANCED COMPOSITION I 3 HOURS

This course utilizes techniques gained in the first three years of study through composition of larger pieces for various mediums. Prerequisite: MUS 3313. (fall)

ADVANCED COMPOSITION II 3 HOURS

This course is a continuation of MUS 4513. Prerequisite: MUS 4513. (spring)

MUSIC HISTORY AND LITERATURE (MUS)

1133 or MUSIC SURVEY 1233

3 HOURS

Introduction to the study of music literature. Survey of music and its place in relation to art, literature, politics, mores, and customs. Recognition of styles and forms from studying and listening to representative compositions of all periods.

3123-HISTORY OF MUSIC I, II 3. 3 HOURS 3223

A critical study of the historic periods and literature in the development of music. Prerequisites: MUS 1133 or MUS 1233 and MUS 2212. (3123—fall; 3223—spring)

MUSIC HISTORY REVIEW 4012 2 HOURS

An intensive review of the undergraduate music history sequence. Required of graduate music students not scoring satisfactorily on the graduate advisory examination.

4021 THEORY REVIEW 1 HOUR

An intensive review of the undergraduate music theory sequence. Required of graduate music students not scoring satisfactorily on the graduate advisory examination.

CHORAL LITERATURE 3 HOURS

A specialized study of choral music from medieval to present times. (TBA)

4123 HISTORY OF TWENTIETH-CENTURY MUSIC 3 HOURS

A survey of musical technology and compositions from 1900 to the present.

4323 OPERA HISTORY 3 HOURS

A study of the development of opera in Italy and a survey of its subsequent development in other countries. (fall)

CONDUCTING SEMINAR III 4342 2 HOURS

Advanced score reading, rehearsal research, and conducting techniques that continue concepts from the beginning conducting sequence. Permission of the instructor is required. Prerequisite: MUS 4242.

4423 VOCAL LITERATURE SEMINAR 3 HOURS

A specialized study of vocal literature with emphasis on style and idiomatic characteristics. (spring)

OPERA STUDIO 4462 2 HOURS

A comprehensive course designed to introduce the singer/actor to new and varied repertoire, the proper learning and creative processes, further refinement of skills and the potential for additional operatic performance opportunities. Prerequisite: Permission of instructor.

4563 JAZZ HISTORY 3 HOURS

A study of the foundation of jazz and its development from the early years to the present. (fall)

4523 WIND LITERATURE 3 HOURS

A detailed study of the history of wind instruments, musicians, composers, and repertoire from Biblical times to the present through reading, writing, listening, and research.

4583 MUSIC THEATER LITERATURE SEMINAR 3 HOURS

A survey of the development of the music theater genre from operetta to the present. (fall)

KEYBOARD LITERATURE SEMINAR 3 HOURS

A study of the repertoire and styles of keyboard music from the pre-Bach period through the twentieth century. (TBA)

ORGAN LITERATURE SEMINAR 3 HOURS

A study of the repertoire and styles of organ music from the pre-Bach period through the twentieth century.

4823 ORCHESTRA LITERATURE SEMINAR

3 HOURS

A study of representative symphonic and chamber literature by means of analysis and discussion of form, style, and instrumentation. (spring)

4923 GUITAR LITERATURE SEMINAR 3 HOURS A study of guitar literature from the Baroque period to the present.

MUSIC—CLASS APPLIED (MUS)

GUITAR IMPROVISATION

A thorough introduction to improvisation on the guitar from lead playing to developing a complex chord vocabulary. A variety of musical styles are covered with extra emphasis on jazz. May be repeated for credit.

1371-CLASS VOICE (AMVC) 1 HOUR 1471

A course designed for instrumental music education majors and for the student majoring in dance or theatre who has not had experience in vocal performance. Students learn the basics of breath control and support, phonation, free tonal production, and anatomy of singing mechanisms. Students study and prepare to perform vocal literature. Upon successful completion of Class Voice, students are eligible to take private voice study. An additional fee is charged to the student for accompanist's services. Prerequisite: MUS 1102 or MUS 1202. (fall)

PROFESSIONAL NURSING 2 HOURS

This theory course provides an overview of professional nursing practice. Theories of nursing, concepts of caring, self-care, health, wellness, and illness are presented as a basis for nursing practice.

3003 HEALTH ASSESSMENT 3 HOURS

This theory and laboratory course introduces the nursing process and focuses on the role of the professional nurse in assessing the health status of clients.

3004 FOUNDATIONS OF NURSING 4 HOURS

This theory, laboratory, and clinical course focuses on the principles, strategies, and procedures related to the practice of nursing. Students are provided with opportunities to use the nursing process, develop effective communication techniques, and practice psychomotor skills.

3103 NURSING PHARMACOLOGY 3 HOURS

This theory course introduces basic principles pf pharmacology and pharmacotherapeutics. A review of the major drug groups includes emphasis on nursing care.

ADULT HEALTH NURSING I 6 HOURS

This is the first in a series of theory and clinical courses focusing on the role of the professional nurse in the promotion of self-care and the delivery of nursing care to adult clients experiencing selected alterations in health.

3505 FAMILY HEALTH NURSING 5 HOURS

This theory and clinical course focuses on the role of the professional nurse in the promotion of self-care and the delivery of nursing care to childbearing families.

SERVANT LEADERSHIP: A TRANSCULTURAL APPROACH 1-3 HOURS

This course introduces students to service in an underserved area. The course focuses on use of assessment and communication techniques in a transcultural setting. Expenses are the responsibility of the student. Open to all majors.

ADULT HEALTH NURSING II 6 HOURS

This is the second in a series of theory and clinical courses focusing on the role of the professional nurse in the promotion of selfcare and the delivery of nursing care to adult clients experiencing selected alterations in health.

CHILD HEALTH NURSING 3905 5 HOURS

This theory and clinical course focuses on the role of the professional nurse in the promotion of self-care and the delivery of nursing care to the child and family.

COMMUNITY HEALTH NURSING 5 HOURS

This theory and clinical course focuses on the role of the professional nurse in the promotion of self-care and the delivery of nursing care within community-based health care systems.

4202 RN-TO-BSN PROFESSIONAL NURSING 2 HOURS

This theory course provides an overview of professional nursing practice. Theories of nursing, concepts of caring, self-care, health, wellness, and illness are presented as a basis for nursing practice. Open to Registered Nurses only.

4305 MENTAL HEALTH NURSING 5 HOURS

This theory and clinical course focuses on the role of the professional nurse in the promotion of self-care and the delivery of nursing care to clients experiencing alterations in mental health.

4403 RN-TO-BSN HEALTH ASSESSMENT 3 HOURS

This theory and laboratory course focuses on the role of the professional nurse in assessing the health status of clients. Open to Registered Nurses only.

HUMAN SEXUALITY *4313 3 HOURS See KES 4313.

4503 NURSING RESEARCH 3 HOURS

This theory course focuses on the application of research to professional nursing practice.

4503 RN-TO-BSN NURSING RESEARCH 3 HOURS

This theory course focuses on the application of research to professional nursing practice. Open to Registered Nurses only.

A lecture and hands-on course that explores the history of photography from 1839 through 1945. Emphasis is on processes, photography movements, and photographers. Lab fee required. (spring)

BASIC PHOTOGRAPHY I *2163 3 HOURS

This is an introductory course in fine art black and white photography. Strong emphasis is placed on camera functions, acquiring the negative, and film and print processing. The goal is to establish an understanding of photography aesthetics while building work skills in camera and darkroom techniques. A short introduction to digital photography is given. Students must provide a camera with manual capability. Lab fee required. Cross-listed MASC 2163. (fall)

*2263 BASIC PHOTOGRAPHY II 3 HOURS

A continuation of basic black and white photography stressing camera and darkroom techniques. Emphasis on camera control, composition, film and print quality, filters, and print presentation. Students must provide a camera with manual capability. Lab fee required. Prerequisite PHOT 2163. Cross-Listed MASC 2263 (spring)

SPECIAL STUDIES I

First course in independent studies directed entirely toward establishing personal techniques, photographic direction, and portfolio building. Lab fee required. Prerequisite: PHOT 2263. (TBA)

HISTORY OF PHOTOGRAPHY II 3213 3 HOURS

A lecture and hands-on course that explores the history of photography from 1946 through the present. Emphasis is on processes, photography movements, and photographers. Lab fee required. (spring)

3263 SPECIAL STUDIES II 3 HOURS

This course is primarily for students who are seeking a B.A., B.F.A. or M.L.A. in fine art photography. Strong emphasis is placed on personal techniques and establishing a portfolio with photographic direction. Lab fee required. Prerequisite: PHOT 3163.

3363 SPECIAL STUDIES III 3 HOURS

This advanced independent study course focuses on special problems within the photographic processes. Students may emphasize darkroom experimentation or alternative photographic processes. The portfolio is still a primary objective. Lab fee required. Prerequisites: PHOT 3263, approval of instructor. (TBA)

3463 DIGITAL PHOTOGRAPHY I 3 HOURS

This is an introductory course in the digital image-making process. A strong emphasis is placed on understanding the digital SLR, point and shoot cameras, lighting, scanning, printing, and basic Adobe Photoshop as it relates to photography. The objective is to establish a basic knowledge of digital photography as it relates to the fine art process. The course is open to both major and nonmajor students. A personal digital camera is not a requirement for this course. Prerequisite: none required, however; a basic course in film photography is extremely helpful. Lab fee required. (fall)

3 HOURS 3563 PHOTOGRAPHY ELECTIVES

These courses allow students to fulfill their photography elective requirements. They also offer highly motivated students the opportunity to expand their portfolios. Courses offered are Alternative Processes, Pinhole Photography, Commercial Photography, Photography Criticism, Documentary/ Photojournalism, Creative/ Experimental, Landscape, Cityscape, Studio/Environmental Portrait, Critical Issues in Photography, Photography Internship, Medium/Large Format Camera, Darkroom Techniques, Architectural Photography, Business in Photography, Color Photography, Digital Photography, Fashion Photography, A Study of Photographers, The Zone System, and Specialized Photography Workshops. (TBA)

DIGITAL PHOTOGRAPHY II

This course is an advanced continuation of Digital Photography I. Special emphases are placed on intermediate to advanced Adobe Photoshop techniques as they apply to fine art photography. A personal digital SLR is not a requirement for this course. Prerequisite: PHOT 3463. Instructor permission and lab fee required. (spring)

SPECIAL STUDIES IV 3 HOURS

This is an internship course in a specific photography area of student interest and is a requirement for all B.F.A. photography majors. Prerequisite: PHOT 3363. Instructor permission required. Lab fee may be required.

PHYSICS (PHYS)

1003 SCIENCE, TECHNOLOGY, AND SOCIETY

3 HOURS

This course focuses on the acquisition and meaning of scientific data leading to the development and support of hypotheses and theories. The use of scientific knowledge in selected areas is investigated with regard to its application to technology, human wellbeing, and related ethical problems. Topics related to pseudoscience and the abuse of science and technology are also discussed.

1014 ASTRONOMY 4 HOURS

An elementary introduction to the sun, moon, planets, comets, stars, clusters, galaxies, pulsars, quasars, stellar evolution, models of the universe, nature of light and use of the telescope, orbits of spacecrafts and exploration of space. Three hours lecture and two hours laboratory each week, including use of the observatories.

1303 ACOUSTICS 3 HOURS

An introduction to the physics of sound: sound generation and propagation, waves and pulses, superposition and interference of waves, resonance, infra and ultrasound. The application of the physical principles of sound to music: musical instruments, sound perception, sound recording, the acoustical environment. The combination of this course and PHYS 1341 satisfies the general education laboratory science requirement.

ACOUSTICS LABORATORY

Laboratory paralleling the Acoustics lecture course. Corequisite: PHYS 1303.

1503 GENERAL PHYSICS I 3 HOURS

Fundamental concepts in mechanics, sound, heat, and thermodynamics. Three hours lecture per week. Prerequisite: high-school algebra or MATH 1503. (fall)

GENERAL PHYSICS I LABORATORY 1 HOUR Experiments paralleling the lectures in PHYS 1503. (fall)

1603 GENERAL PHYSICS II 3 HOURS

Continuation of General Physics I Lecture: electricity, magnetism, optics, and atomic physics. Three hours lecture per week. Prereguisite: PHYS 1503. (spring)

GENERAL PHYSICS II LABORATORY 1 HOUR

Experiments paralleling the lecture PHYS 1603. (spring)

2104 UNIVERSITY PHYSICS I 4 HOURS

Required for physics, mathematics, and pre-engineering majors; recommended for others with appropriate background. A calculusbased introduction to the principles of mechanics and wave motion. Four hours lecture per week. Prerequisite or corequisite for MATH 2004. (fall)

UNIVERSITY PHYSICS I 2141 LABORATORY 1 HOUR

Experiments paralleling the lectures in PHYS 2104. Three hours laboratory each week. (fall)

UNIVERSITY PHYSICS II 4 HOURS

Continuation of University Physics I Lecture: Heat, electric and magnetic fields, optics. Prerequisite or corequisite: PHYS 2104, MATH 2104. (spring)

2241 UNIVERSITY PHYSICS II LABORATORY

1 HOUR

Experiments paralleling the lectures in PHYS 2204. (spring)

2314 INTRODUCTION TO ELECTRONICS 4 HOURS

An introduction to electronics and the circuit characteristics of discrete components and simple integrated circuits. The course includes the theory and operation of electronic instrumentation, amplifiers, oscillators, and elementary circuit modeling. Two hours of lecture and two hours of laboratory each week. Corequisite: MATH 2004. (TBA)

3041 ADVANCED PHYSICS LABORATORY 1 HOUR

Advanced experiments in classical and modern physics. Three hours laboratory each week. Prerequisites: PHYS 2204 and 2241. (TBA)

3103 ANALYTICAL MECHANICS 3 HOURS

Kinematics and dynamics of a particle, momentum, energy, conservative forces, statics and dynamics of rigid bodies, introduction to vibration theory. Prerequisite: PHYS 2204. (fall)

3203 THERMODYNAMICS 3 HOURS

Transfer of heat, laws of thermodynamics, temperature, entropy, enthalpy, and reversibility and irreversibility. Carnot and other cycles, thermodynamic properties of materials, changes of phase, introduction to chemical thermodynamics, and low-temperature physics. Prerequisite: PHYS 2204. (TBA)

ELECTRICITY AND MAGNETISM 3303 3 HOURS

Laws of Coulomb, Gauss, Faraday and Ampere, electric fields, electric potential, dielectrics and conductors, direct and alternating currents, magnetic fields, magnetic materials, and Lorentz force. Prerequisite: PHYS 2204. (spring)

OPTICS 3403 3 HOURS

Geometrical treatment of lenses and mirrors, aberrations, optical instruments, analytical treatment of physical optical phenomena of reflection, refraction, interference, diffraction, polarization, scattering, introduction to magneto-optics, electro-optics, and quantum optics. Prerequisite: PHYS 2204. (TBA)

MODERN PHYSICS 3503 3 HOURS

Existence of the electron, determination of fundamental constants, atomic nature of matter, particle beams in electric and magnetic fields, photoelectric effect, x-rays, Compton effect, Bohr-Sommerfeld theory, deBroglie's hypothesis, Schroedinger equation, and introduction to special relativity. Prerequisite: PHYS 2204. (TBA)

3603 ELECTRIC FIELDS AND CIRCUITS 3 HOURS

Advanced treatment of DC and AC circuits, including Thevenon's theorem, Norton's theorem, complex representation of AC phenomena, matrix description of circuits and applications. Prerequisite: PHYS 2204. (TBA)

3703 SOLID STATE PHYSICS 3 HOURS

Nature and property of materials, crystal structures, x-ray diffraction, lattice vibrations, thermal properties of solids, free-electron model, band theory of solids, Brillouin zones, semiconductor crystals, and superconductivity. Prerequisite: PHYS 3503. (TBA)

ENGINEERING MATH I

3 HOURS

See MATH 3804, (TBA)

*3903 ENGINEERING MATH II 3 HOURS

See MATH 3903, (TBA)

CLASSICAL MECHANICS

3 HOURS

Lagrangian and Hamiltonian formulation of the mechanics of particles, field concepts, vibrational structures, and accelerated reference systems. Prerequisite: PHYS 3103. (TBA)

INTRODUCTION TO BIOPHYSICS I 2 HOURS 4102

This course introduces students to the Newtonian approach to biology, biomechanics, applications of thermodynamics to biological systems, and physiology. Two hours lecture and two hours laboratory each week. Prerequisites: PHYS 2204, BIOL 2314, CHEM 2203. (TBA)

4103 FLUID MECHANICS 3 HOURS

An introduction to fluid statics and dynamics, including properties of fluids, continuity equation, hydraulics, equations of motion, Bernoulli's equation, types of flow, flow in pipes an over submerged bodies, boundary layers. Prerequisites: PHYS 2104, MATH 2104. (TBA)

4141 INTRODUCTION TO BIOPHYSICS I, LABORATORY

1 HOUR

Laboratory paralleling the lectures in PHYS 4102. (TBA)

INTRODUCTION TO BIOPHYSICS II 2 HOURS

This course is a continuation of PHYS 4102 and emphasizes the applications of modern physics on biology systems. Two hours lecture and two hours laboratory each week. Prerequisites: PHYS 3503, 4102, BIOL 3914, CHEM 3103. (TBA)

4203 STATISTICAL MECHANICS 3 HOURS

Introduction to statistical methods, representative physical ensembles, statistical formulation of laws of thermodynamics, simple applications, quantum statistics of ideal gases, application of blackbody radiation, systems of interacting particles, application to crystalline solids, and other areas. Prerequisite: PHYS 3203. (TBA)

INTRODUCTION TO 4241 BIOPHYSICS II, LABORATORY

1 HOUR

Laboratory paralleling PHYS 4202. (TBA)

4302 TOPICS IN BIOPHYSICS 2 HOURS

This course introduces students to the theory and application of high-technology equipment (X-ray tubes, MRI, nuclear radiation, ultrasound imaging, etc.) used in medicine. Two hours lecture and two hours laboratory each week. Prerequisite: PHYS 4202. (TBA)

RELATIVITY

Special relativity, applications to various areas of physics, introduction to general relativity. Prerequisite: PHYS 3103. (TBA)

4341 TOPICS IN BIOPHYSICS LABORATORY

1 HOUR

Laboratory paralleling the lectures in PHYS 4302. (TBA)

4403 ELECTROMAGNETIC THEORY 3 HOURS

Maxwell's equations, potentials, wave equation, electromagnetic radiation, forces, energy relations, and relativistic formulation of Maxwell's equation. Prerequisite: PHYS 3303. (TBA)

*4503 QUANTUM MECHANICS 3 HOURS

Schroedinger formulation, Heisenberg formulation, potential well problems, harmonic oscillator, hydrogen atom, perturbation theory, emission and absorption probabilities. Prerequisite: PHYS 3503. Cross-listed MATH 4503. (TBA)

ATOMIC AND NUCLEAR PHYSICS 4603 3 HOURS

Atomic models, exclusion principles, periodic table, magnetic and optical properties of atoms, optical spectra, radioactivity, nuclear structure and models, nuclear forces, nuclear reactions, fission, fusion, and neutron physics. Prerequisite: PHYS 3503. (TBA)

INTRODUCTION TO 4691-3 PHYSICAL RESEARCH

1-3 HOURS

Studies of research techniques, studies in technical journals, studies in treatment of experimental data and pursuit of research in preparation for graduate work. Prerequisite: 12 hours of physics beyond PHYS 2204. (TBA)

4991-3 INDEPENDENT STUDY 1-3 HOURS

Prerequisite: 12 hours of physics beyond PHYS 2204. (TBA)

POLITICAL SCIENCE (POLS)

INTRODUCTION TO 1012 LEGAL STUDIES

2 HOURS

A survey of ethics and jurisprudence; English and American legal history; salient features of the legal system; the nature of the legal profession; the various areas, both traditional and emerging, of law and legal practice; and a brief introduction to legal research and law school Socratic method. Prerequisite: POLS 1003. (fall 2009)

COMPARATIVE POLITICS 1013 3 HOURS

A wide-ranging survey of the similarities and differences among major contemporary political systems. Included are examinations of government and politics in liberal democracies, communist and postcommunist countries, the newly industrializing states, and the less-developed countries. This course is specifically designed for international students as a substitute for POLS 1113. It may also be taken by domestic students to fulfill the cross-cultural study requirement for general education.

1113 GOVERNANCE IN AMERICA 3 HOURS

This course meets the State of Oklahoma college degree requirements for three semester hours of American government.

*2103 ISSUES IN WOMEN'S STUDIES 3 HOURS See INDP 2103.

INTRODUCTION TO 2114 POLITICAL RESEARCH 4 HOURS

An introduction to the scientific study of politics, including specific research techniques and the nature of theory in behavioral science. (spring)

*2301 STATISTICS FOR THE BEHAVIORAL SCIENCES LABORATORY

1 HOUR

See PSYC 2303. Lab credit is encouraged.

*2303 STATISTICS FOR THE BEHAVIORAL SCIENCES LECTURE 3 HOURS

See PSYC 2303.

2403 OIL/LEGISLATIVE WORKSHOP 3 HOURS

An introduction to parliamentary procedure and the legislative process through participation in the Oklahoma Intercollegiate Legislature (OIL). On-campus sessions extending from the beginning of the fall semester until late October cover parliamentary procedure and legislative organization. In late October, students spend four days at the state capitol at the autumn session of OIL. (fall 2009)

LEGISLATIVE BEHAVIOR

A study of legislators and legislative institutions at the state. national, and local levels of government. (fall 2009)

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

A study of how nations behave with particular attention to the nature of the state system, bilateral and multilateral diplomacy, alliances, arms control, and domestic determinants of national behavior, (TBA)

*2613 POLITICAL PHILOSOPHY 3 HOURS

See PHIL 2613. (spring, odd)

*2713 REGIONAL GEOGRAPHY

3 HOURS

See HIST 2713. (spring, odd)

3003 PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION 3 HOURS

Survey of structure and process of public agencies, including study of patterns of communication and authority; of relations with elected officials, publics, and interest groups; and of personnel practices. Prerequisite: POLS 1003. (TBA)

3013 EUROPEAN POLITICS AND GOVERNMENT

3 HOURS

A survey of political trends and governmental institutions in Europe. Included is a detailed examination of the political systems of Britain, France, Germany, and Russia with comparisons to the U.S. Prerequisite: POLS 1113 (spring 2009)

MODERN CHINA *3113

3 HOURS

See ASTD 3113.

3213 STATE AND LOCAL GOVERNMENT AND ADMINISTRATION 3 HOURS

The course focuses on the structures and politics of states, counties, and cities as well as on policy formulation and decisionmaking processes. Topics on Oklahoma politics and policy are included, Prerequisite: POLS 1113, (fall 2009)

*3313 MODERN JAPAN

3 HOURS

See ASTD 3213. (TBA)

POWER AND POLITICAL 3413 ORGANIZATION

3 HOURS

An examination of the theory and application of power with special reference to interest groups, political parties, and participation. Prerequisite: POLS 1113. (TBA)

ELECTION SEMINAR 3 HOURS

Examines the election process, emphasizing issues, political parties, and profile campaigns with the goal of giving students an in-depth understanding of the campaign process and of the major actors and institutions in campaigns. Examined are election results and their implications for governing. Prerequisite: POLS 1113. (fall 2008)

THE VIOLENT SOCIETY 3513

3 HOURS

An interdisciplinary study of the theory and practice of violence and nonviolence in various contexts. (TBA)

INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATION 3 HOURS

Description and analysis of contemporary efforts to achieve cooperation among nations, including the United Nations and various regional organizations. (TBA)

3613 AMERICAN FOREIGN POLICY 3 HOURS

An inquiry into the major issues of U. S. foreign and military policy. the instruments of policy, and the process of policymaking. (TBA)

3713 AMERICAN PRESIDENCY 3 HOURS

Study of the contemporary presidency with emphasis on presidential power, presidential selection, and perspectives for assessing the presidency. Prerequisite: POLS 1113. (TBA)

POLITICS OF THE THIRD WORLD

An examination of the special characteristics of Latin American and non-Western government and politics. Particular attention paid to problems of instability, relations with the Western world, and the role of the military. (spring 2010)

3951-6 DIRECTED READINGS 1-6 HOURS

Restricted to majors with junior or senior standing.

LEGAL WRITING 3 HOURS

Students learn a systematic approach to legal case analysis, applying the system in practice exams, legal memos, and legal briefs. (spring 2010)

*4114 CONSTITUTIONAL LAW 4 HOURS

Emphasis on landmark U.S. Supreme Court cases pertaining to criminal procedure. First Amendment issues, racial and sexual equality, relations among the three branches of the national government, and federal-state relations. Prerequisite: POLS 1003. Crosslisted JUS 4114. (spring 2009)

CONTEMPORARY *4313 POLITICAL THEORY

3 HOURS

An examination of political philosophy and theory in the twentieth century. May be taught by movements (e.g., fascism, communism, capitalistic imperialism, etc.) or by key political thinkers (e.g., Lenin, Wilson, Dewey, Trotsky, Hitler, Weizmann, Oakeshott, Mao, Nozick, Rorty, etc.). Cross-listed PHIL 4313. (spring, even).

INTERNATIONAL LAW 4513

A general survey and background history of the development of international law, its modern applications and changes. Emphasis on specific cases and issues. (TBA)

*4543 CURRENT ISSUES IN POLITICAL ECONOMY OF THE WORLD 3 HOURS

See ECON 4543. (spring)

4613 THE POLITICS OF LAW 3 HOURS

Study of the political function of civil law; the political role of attorneys; the policy function of the American Bar Association and state and local associations; the self-regulating functions of the legal profession; judicial selection methods; legal education; role of the courts in lawmaking; lawyers in legislature; policy function of authors of Uniform Codes; and determinants of judicial decisionmaking. Prerequisite: POLS 1003. (TBA)

4703 PUBLIC MANAGEMENT AND POLICY ANALYSIS 3 HOURS

An introduction to public analysis and decision making with emphasis on the examination of selected domestic policy issues. The use and ethical questions of policy research and administration are considered. Prerequisite: POLS 1003. (TBA)

AMERICA IN THE MIDDLE EAST 3 HOURS

See HIST 4713. (fall, odd)

4803 INTERGOVERNMENTAL RELATIONS

3 HOURS

This course explores the political, administrative, and fiscal relationships among federal, state, and local units of government along with the origins, development, and operational aspects of federalism in the U.S. Included is study of the effects of decentralization and reorganization on the administration of government programs, Prerequisite: POLS 1003, (TBA)

4813 ADMINISTRATIVE LAW AND POLITICS

3 HOURS

This course emphasizes the legal and political aspects of administrative rules and regulation. Students examine the origins and justification of regulation as well as the structures and processes for formulating and implementing administrative law. Current criticism of administrative law and procedures is analyzed with an eye toward new recommendations for legal reform. Prerequisite: POLS 1003. (TBA)

4863 SENIOR SEMINAR 3 HOURS

This capstone course in the major allows students to fulfill their advanced study requirement. Students engage in either a directed research project, advanced focused readings in a specific area of the discipline, or an internship under the guidance of the instructor. The class meets at least once every other week in order to share experiences and explore broad topics relating to the discipline. (Offered every spring semester contingent upon adequate demand.)

POLITICAL INTERNSHIP 1-9 HOURS 4981-9

Normally restricted to majors who have junior or senior standing and to transfer students who have completed at least one semester of class work at Oklahoma City University. (Absolute minimum of nine hours or permission of department chair.)

INDEPENDENT STUDY 1-6 HOURS

Restricted to majors with junior or senior standing except with permission of the department chair.

PSYCHOLOGY (PSYC)

INTRODUCTION TO PSYCHOLOGY 3 HOURS 1113

An introductory course examining fundamental psychological principles with special emphasis on behavioral, biological, cognitive, sociocultural, and psychodynamic viewpoints.

APPLICATIONS IN PSYCHOLOGY

Taken concurrently with PSYC 1113. Students learn about psychology through interaction with practicing professionals, conducting small research projects, and writing about the results in the style of the profession.

CAREERS IN PSYCHOLOGY 3 HOURS

Learning about the scope of careers in psychology through visits with professionals in the various fields is a feature of the course. Students also learn how to plan their academic careers, what to expect in graduate school, how to prepare a résumé and strategies for applying successfully to graduate programs. (spring)

2013 LIFESPAN DEVELOPMENT 3 HOURS

Adult development across the lifespan presents normal developmental issues in the context of changing cultural demands, technological impacts, innate psychological stages, and aging. Prerequisites: PSYC 1113 and PSYC 1141. (fall, odd)

ISSUES IN WOMEN'S STUDIES 3 HOURS See INDP 2103. (spring)

COGNITIVE PROCESSES 3 HOURS

A survey of modern theories and research about the psychological aspects of cognition: memory, thinking, reasoning, concept formation, attention, planning, and mental imagery. Prerequisites: PSYC 1113 and PSYC 1141. (spring, odd)

*2301 STATISTICS FOR THE BEHAVIORAL SCIENCES LABORATORY 1 HOUR

To accompany PSYC 2303, students learn computer-based statistical analysis. Cross-listed POLS 2301, SOC 2301.

*2303 STATISTICS FOR THE BEHAVIORAL SCIENCES 3 HOURS

Course content includes central tendency, variability, correlation, parametric and selected nonparametric inferential tests. Application of statistics in the biological, social, and educational fields is stressed. Cross-listed POLS 2303, SOC 2303.

2503 INDUSTRIAL PSYCHOLOGY 3 HOURS

The course is designed to illustrate a variety of work-related problems and to help develop human relations skills to solve them. Prerequisites: PSYC 1113 and PSYC 1141. (fall, even)

PSYCHOLOGY OF PERSONALITY

A study of the major problems and theories concerning the nature of human personality and the changing nature of man. Presentations of psychodynamic, behavioral, cognitive, and humanistic points of view are included. Prerequisites: PSYC 1113 and PSYC 1141. (spring)

2913 INTRODUCTION TO COUNSELING 3 HOURS

This introductory-level course covers the basic principles of counseling, compares the various theories of counseling, and surveys fundamental research into the effectiveness of counseling. (fall, even)

3003 MODERN DREAM INTERPRETATION 3 HOURS

The classic theories of dream interpretation are contrasted with modern research knowledge of the biological and psychological processes of dreaming. Open to nonmajors who have taken PSYC 1113. (spring, even)

3203 ABNORMAL PSYCHOLOGY 3 HOURS

This course introduces students to the study of the etiology, dynamics, diagnosis, counseling, treatment, and theories of abnormal behavior. Prerequisite: PSYC 2813 or 2013. (fall)

3403 SOCIAL PSYCHOLOGY 3 HOURS

This introduction to the scientific study of how individuals affect one another includes material on communications, attitudes and attitude change, and prejudice and discrimination. Social influence, aggression and violence, attraction and love, prosocial behavior, group structure and formation, leadership, environmental psychology, and applied social psychology. Prerequisites: PSYC 1113 and PSYC 1141. (fall, odd)

RESEARCH METHODS & ANALYSIS 4 HOURS

The design, conduct, analysis, and written reporting of research in the social sciences is learned by practicing each of these phases of research. Extensive support in learning to use the computer in the conduct and analysis of experiments is provided. Statistics is an absolute. Prerequisites: PSYC 2301/2303 and PHIL 2713. (spring)

3463 TOPICS IN PSYCHOLOGY 3 HOURS

The topics of this variable-content course focus on fundamental issues in psychology. The course is intended for students with 6 or more hours in psychology, regardless of their majors. May be repeated with a change in content. Several topics have a prerequisite; see chair or advisor. (TBA)

INTRODUCTION TO LEARNING

Modern theories and the fundamental research of Pavlovian and operant conditioning are considered. The one-hour laboratory offers opportunities to apply the principles studied. Recommended: PSYC 2301/2303, and/or 3414. Prerequisites: PSYC 2813. (spring, even)

4102 JUNIOR/SENIOR RESEARCH SEMINAR I 2 HOURS

Majors with at least 72 credits begin this two-semester capstone course in the spring of the junior year. Each student prepares a proposal and writes a sophisticated literature review or conducts an original research study suitable for presentation at a conference. Both PSYC 4102 and PSYC 4201 must be completed for graduation. Prerequisites: PSYC 2301/2303, and PSYC 3414. (spring)

4201 JUNIOR/SENIOR RESEARCH SEMINAR II 1 HOUR

Students make oral presentations and defense of their research before the psychology faculty. See PSYC 4102. Prerequisites: PSYC 4102. (fall)

SYSTEMS AND THEORIES 4213 IN PSYCHOLOGY 3 HOURS

The historical roots and development of the discipline of psychology and the processes of psychological investigation and theorymaking are the core of the course. Prerequisite: PHIL 3214 (fall 2008, spring 2009)

PSYCHOLOGICAL TESTS 4313 AND ASSESSMENT 3 HOURS

This course provides advanced students with a knowledge of the testing process, including issues of validity and reliability, and test construction. Prerequisite: 9 hours in psychology or its equivalent; PSYC 2301/2303. (fall, even)

4443 ADVANCED STATISTICAL APPLICATIONS 3 HOURS

The course focus is on the computer application of multivariate analysis of variance (MANOVA) and multivariate regression to large data sets using the SPSS statistical package. Selected techniques such as meta-analysis and factor analysis may be included depending on the students' background, and needs. Recommended: PSYC 3414. Prerequisite: PSYC 2301/2303. (spring, odd)

SEMINARS IN PSYCHOLOGY 3 HOURS 4563

Variable-content seminars about important issues in psychology. Prerequisites: PSYC 1113, 3 hours of other course work in psychology, and consent of instructor. (TBA)

RESEARCH 1-6 HOURS

Intended for advanced juniors and seniors, this course allows students to conduct research in selected topics under the guidance of a faculty member. Prerequisites: PSYC 3414, and approval of the department chair. (TBA)

PSYCHOLOGICAL INTERNSHIPS 1-9 HOURS

Students qualified for advanced study and approved by the department work in a community organization or program relevant to their course of study. This experience is initiated by the student and is both structured and evaluated by the faculty mentor. Approval of the department chair required. (TBA)

INDEPENDENT STUDY 1-6 HOURS

Opportunities for students with sufficient curiosity and demonstrated reliability to work on a selected problem with a minimum of restriction and routine. Prerequisite: student-initiated proposal that warrants the required department approval. (TBA)

RELIGION (REL)

ORIENTATION TO RELIGIOUS STUDIES

A weekly meeting with the dean for all new students in the School of Religion. Required for all new religion majors. Grading is credit/ no-credit. (fall)

INTRODUCTION TO 1003 BIBLICAL LITERATURE 3 HOURS

An introductory survey of the history, thought, and literature of ancient Israel before the time of Jesus; the life and teachings of Jesus; and the history, thought, and literature of early Christianity.

INTRODUCTION TO 2003. 2013 NEW TESTAMENT GREEK 3 HOURS

A study of the fundamentals of New Testament Greek using translation exercises that lead the student to the reading of First John by the end of the year. Credit for the first semester is given only when the second semester has been successfully completed. A student has the option of counting Greek as either part of the religion major or as a general elective outside the major. Religion majors taking Greek must receive a letter grade. On the basis of this course a student can advance to the translation of more difficult portions of the New Testament. (fall, odd; spring, even)

METHODS OF BIBLICAL ANALYSIS 3 HOURS

An exploration of methods of studying the Bible, including theory and application of the varieties of historical-critical and literary approaches. Required of all religion majors. Prerequisite: REL 1003 or equivalent. (fall)

2033 INTRODUCTION TO RELIGION 3 HOURS

An introduction to religion using a phenomenological approach. Definitions of religion and a variety of forms of religious experience, community, and expression are considered. Tools from anthropology, psychology, and sociology of religion are utilized. This course satisfies the values and culture requirement of the general education curriculum. (spring, even)

QUESTIONS OF FAITH 2043 3 HOURS

An exploration of some basic theological questions of the Christian faith. Emphasis is on examining the variety of theological expressions and approaches to the questions. This course satisfies the values and culture requirement of the general education curriculum.

2103 INTRODUCTION TO JUDAISM 3 HOURS

Major personalities, literary documents, holidays and ceremonies, sects and movements in Judaism from biblical days to the present. The growth of Judaism in the context of world history and in interaction with Christianity and Islam. Sponsored by Jewish Chautaugua Society. This course satisfies the values and culture requirement of the general education curriculum. (fall, even)

2133-BIBLICAL HEBREW 2143

3 HOURS

Introduction to grammar, syntax, and vocabulary for purposes of translation and exegetical study. Does not meet modern language requirement. Credit for the first semester is given only when the second semester has been successfully completed. A student has the option of counting Hebrew as either part of the religion major or as a general elective outside the major. Religion majors taking Hebrew must receive a letter grade. (fall, even; spring, odd)

*2163 MORAL ISSUES IN CONTEMPORARY CULTURE 3 HOURS

See PHIL 2163. This course satisfies the values and culture requirement of the general education curriculum.

2203 MODERN JEWISH THOUGHT 3 HOURS

Major nineteenth- and twentieth-century movements in Judaism. from the Hasidic to the Reconstructionist movements, are treated, with emphasis on the Reform, Conservative, and Orthodox branches of Judaism and the philosophies of representative thinkers such as Moses Mendelssohn and Mordecai Kaplan. Sponsored by Jewish Chautaugua Society. This course satisfies the values and culture requirement of the general education curriculum. (fall, odd)

MORAL & SOCIAL PHILOSOPHY 3 HOURS

See PHIL 2213. This course satisfies the values and culture requirement of the general education curriculum. (fall, even)

PHILOSOPHY OF RELIGION

2503 RELIGION IN AMERICAN HISTORY 3 HOURS

An examination of the historical development of American religious life and thought, with emphasis on the relationship of religion and culture in the American experience. This course satisfies the values and culture requirement of the general education curriculum. (spring, odd)

2513 INTRODUCTION TO WORLD RELIGIONS

3 HOURS

A phenomenologically based survey of patterns of life and thought in the world's religions, with major attention to representative indigenous religions, Hinduism, Buddhism, Chinese religions, Judaism, and Islam. This course satisfies the values and culture requirement of the general education curriculum.

RELIGION AND THE ARTS 3 HOURS

An opportunity for the student to view the major issues in religious faith as presented in the secular arts, including music, theatre, film, dance, literature, and the visual arts. This course satisfies the values and culture requirement of the general education curriculum. (spring, even)

*2703 INTRODUCTION TO CHRISTIAN ETHICS

3 HOURS

An effort to discern the character and content of moral issues, the process of moral reflection, and the ethical evaluation of moral issues from a Christian perspective. This course satisfies the values and culture requirement of the general education curriculum. Cross-listed PHIL 2703. (fall, odd)

VALUES IN CONTEMPORARY *2803 LITERATURE

3 HOURS

See ENGL 2803. This course satisfies the values and culture requirement of the general education curriculum.

2813 THE JEWISH EXPERIENCE IN AMERICA

3 HOURS

This course traces the history of the American Jewish community from colonial days until the present. Special focus is on the Jewish history of the West and Southwest and the history of the Jews of Oklahoma. Sponsored by the Jewish Chautauqua Society. This course satisfies the values and culture requirement of the general education curriculum. (spring, odd)

2823 ANTI-SEMITISM AND THE HOLOCAUST

3 HOURS

Explanation of Anti-Semitism, which reached its final point with the destruction of European Jewry. Sponsored by the Jewish Chautauqua Society. (spring, even)

LITERATURE AND THE *2903 JUDEO-CHRISTIAN TRADITION 3 HOURS

See ENGL 2903. This course satisfies the values and culture requirement of the general education curriculum.

3001 READINGS IN HEBREW

1 HOUR

A continuation of REL 2143. Offered on demand.

3013 HISTORY OF CHRISTIANITY (ANCIENT-MEDIEVAL)

3 HOURS

A study of the history of Christianity from ancient to medieval periods. Institutional, theological, and social history are examined. Prerequisite: 6 hours of religion. (fall, odd)

NOTES I

Provisions of this catalog are subject to change without notice and do not constitute an irrevocable contract between any student and the university. Oklahoma City University reserves the right to modify or change policies, courses, and program requirements described herein.

Every student is responsible for reading and understanding the academic requirements for the degree program as outlined in this catalog and as may be changed from time to time. Academic advisors are available for counseling and advising to assist students in this process; however, the final responsibility remains with the student to meet any and all academic requirements.

Oklahoma City University provides equality of opportunity in higher education for all persons, including faculty and employees, with respect to hiring, continuation, promotion, and tenure, applicants for admission, enrolled students, and graduates, without discrimination or segregation on the ground of race, color, religion, national origin, sex, age, handicap or disability, sexual orientation, or veteran status.

The assistant vice president for administrative services, whose office is located in room 105 of the Clara E. Jones Administration Building, telephone (405) 208-5857, coordinates the university's compliance with titles VI and VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, the Americans with Disabilities Act, and the Age Discrimination in Employment Act.

Oklahoma City University compiles with the Student Right to Know and Equity in Athletics Disclosure Acts. This report is compiled and made available by October 15 each year. Requests for this report can be made to the athletics director.

In accordance with requirements by The Higher Learning Commission of the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools, the university will provide information to the accrediting agency regarding written complaints from a student against any faculty, staff, or institutional process or procedure. The information will contain the date the complaint was formally submitted to a university official; the nature of the complaint (e.g. dispute about a grade, allegation of sexual harassment, etc.); steps taken to resolve the complaint; the university's final decision regarding the complaint, including referral to outside agencies; and any other external actions initiated by the student to resolve the complaint, if known to the university (e.g. lawsuit, EEOC investigation, etc.).

Any information provided to The Higher Learning Commission of the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools will be presented in such a way as to shield the identities of faculty, staff, or students involved with the complaint.

Students may contact The Higher Learning Commission of the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools by writing or phoning
